FOREIGN MINISTERS L.J. - Sunoco. Tuesday, april 30, 1946

In Paris Soviet Delegate Molotov has agreed to consider the American proposal for a Big Four treaty of alliance to guarantee the disarmament of Germany -a treaty to extend for wenty-five years. There is nothing definite about this, but the report is insistent that Soviet Russia is willing to discuss the Marie by American Secretary of State Byrnes. However, there's a string -- Molotov intimating that he will expect something in return. The Soviets will ask for concessions as a quid pro quo -- conditions for agreeing to go into a discussion of the American scheme.

in tenetties interiction see desided and the "light have been emparis that the Compating aring a regention of Frenchest Trains they are the subject of a full property and the propagation the property and section in actual, stand, of compare, but a compression

the line of wheney far methodist leaterstand

Wired thereast form to similard this Patrotine at

PALESTINE

For Palestine, the recent weeks have been a period of tense waiting - waiting for the report of the first British-American Committee studying the question of Jewish immigration. Now we are about to hear, the news to be disclosed tonight. The Committee is making recommendations - on the question of admitting Jewish immigrants into the Holyland. These will be of the greatest importance, bearing as they do on one of the most disputed problems in the present-day world -Palestine.

The Committee investigation was decided upon following a suggestion by President Truman that one hundred thousand Jews be admitted into Palestine at onc4 - and there have been reports that the Committee would adopt this presidential proposal. The provide the one hundred thousand, would, of course, be a compromise between the Zionist demand for unlimited immigration and the Arab refusal to agree to any Jewish immigration at all. There are other angles too in the study made by the start for discinned potabus. There today that the best of a detractivities success The brotest is agained the sense of areaty coup (endors hecebed of a sixe, is the fast that the twenty ander arrows are anish

PALESTINE - 2

held is the istuctury Fribon - dod theils where years

seo. Either erste "Nein Jampf". After abe futile Past

Contro she was to become the Fuchrer of Masi Garmany

the part in this at Londebarg - and is a prison opil them

whele the aproximg second that was to manage the Bible

Lenn had butent back in the Treation, that evil

Sout economy Jowlah .auges, sore this anthings vial in furney ... when the Garning were holding and house a lowe wort on a hanger strike, and c proved of a

the joint Committee.

RIOT

The demonstrations of Jewish protest in Germany have reached a stage of bitter acrimony and ugly epithets. The trouble is at Landsberg, where the United States Army runs a camp for displaced persons. There today, four thousand Jews went on a hunger strike, and a crowd of a thousand staged a demonstration march. The protest is against the arrest of twenty camp leaders because of a riot on Sunday - when the Germans were holding an election.

What aroused Jewish anger, more than anything else, is the fact that the twenty under arrest are being held in the Landsberg Prison. - And that's where, years ago, Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf". After the futile Mazi beer hall putsch back in the 'Twenties, that evil fanatic who was to become the Fuehrer of Mazi Germany, was put in jail at Landsberg - and in a prison cell there wrote the sprawling screed that was to become the Bible of Mazism. RIOT - 2

Such is the emotional background of what occurred today. The erect marching in the issuestantion yelled;-"American anti-Semitism is worst than German anti-Semitism. American democracy is no better than Hazian."

At the camp gate, where American soldiers were on guard, a riot was narrowly averted. In response to the shouted slogans, G.I's yelled back at the crowd. At one point, a U.S. Army truck came rolling in. Children scattered, as the motor roared. And two hundred angry Jews moved toward the truck. The solder-driver jumped to the ground, and drew his pistol. Things quieted down - and then the truck continued on its way.

ADD RIOT

An Army report on the disturbance of Sunday indicates that the outbreak was caused by a false report, an unfounded rumor stating that Germans had invaded a Jewish school, ki killed people, and kidnapped children.

selende by the loog tide apeathwart, Tra Brain, Resar

In the Fonders, room Dalies Finds Theresecurdes

the second in the second of the transition second obarive Avent Supal Las Sucains soldiars. Sin the s

Sarbains, they had a Tischlight, the bear of which they the ment of the perpet, by a cart state, a state of the her wait one o the her for all the bonn wither died to the stret Runsing sheet his

All and a state was an included of the state that the first approximent of wither a reported ments

and at 11 is to 1 - An eday' ; avon the Benejers,

HITLER

Today in Berlin, a newsman went down to a amall half-burned out room in the basement of the ruined Chancellery building. The place that was Hitler's head@u@rters as the capital of Nazi Germany was falling in flame and fury, the little room where Hitler is said to have taken his life, joined in suicide by his long time sweetheart, Eva Braun. Today was the first anniversary of that reputed event:

In the basement room United Press Correspondent Charles Arnot found two Russian soldiers. In the darkness, they had a flashlight, the beam of which they focused on the carpet, on a dark stain, a stain of blood "That," said one of the Red Army soldiers, "is where Hitler died." The other Russian shock his head and replied: "No - not Hitler. Hitler ran away." All of which was evidence of the fact that, on the first anniversary of Hitler's reported death There still is doubt - especially among the Russians.

HITLER - 2

There still are suppositions that the suicide of the Nami Fuehrer was a fake, and that Hitler got away and is in hiding somewhere.

in his south that if we think as Conserlated the bas

idead that there are no consisting between the class

lateness Reds - cltbough the stiever on Macherhortz life even to have been made at the time of the Har Day

the forther wind May Day, a alabration appaad red by dor is the ringlador a former Labik on suithe pilot. It had been providualy reported that he

Takaying by asso, is a former member of the Jepanere

the outgoined constries. So is now being oberht inte mabuit all over Jopan. together with foor or five

this tail bundlessenader as he proceeded from his home

Pyarseas Falles force -- military police that served in

The plot was to will Machathes with platel and, but this is now lepisd. This rightender.

MACARTHUR

The latest from Tokyo gives no indication of what kind of political slant may have been behind the plot to kill General MacArthur. A spokesman at American Headquarters at Tokyo states that the conspirators are, in his words, "not identified as Communists." And he added that there was no connection between the plot and the forthcoming May Day, celebration sponsored by Japanese Reds -- although the attempt on MacArthur's life was to have been made at the time of the May Day demonstration.

Nor is the ringleader a former Kamikaze suicide pilot. It had been previously reported that he was, but this is now denied. This ringleader, Takayama by name, is a former member of the Japanese Overseas Police force -- military police that served in the conquered countries. He is now being sought in a manhunt all over Japan, together with four or five others in the conspiracy.

The plot was to kill MacArthur with pistol shots and hand-grenades as he proceeded from his home to

MACARTHUR - 2

Headquarters -- his habit being to go without guards, disdaining protection. The conspirators planned to get away by disappearing in the May Day crowds. The scheme to murder the Supreme Commander was disclosed by an informer who said that PlotLeader Takayama tried to poison him -- Which alla another to poison him -- Which alla another to poison him -- Kalla another to use of melodrama to the plot against MacArthur.

and a factor the algorithms of the T & b

the start have a branchamping pretted at touthed by the only way that our should errive at the

A Received Reports . Civin through the oir, the back yours there has been up the then

and Company Ingramity, Frend Manan and Parnard

the site President Roome, Smither a chate of service problems in shirt lands. "

and a lande Carment

HOOVER - BAGHDAD

Here's an unusual story -- about a former President of the United States, and an adventure he had in Baghdad, the city of the Arabian Nights. The story of how President Hoover, up to his ankles in water, was invited to become a trustee of a new American College in Baghdad. An invitation that he accepted.

Word of this has just come back to us from Frank Mason, a former Vice President of the N B C, and a famous journalist. Frank Mason and former Ambassador Hugh Gibson, have been flying around the world with President Hoover, making a study of starvation problems in many lands.

President Hoover, by the way arrived at Baghdad in the only way that one should arrive at the city of Haronn al Raschid - flying through the air, on a modern Magic Carpet.

For many years there has been an American

REY

HOOVER - BAGHDED - 2

School in Baghdad, presided over by two great people, Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Staudt -- Pennsylvanians. Now their school is to blossom forth as one of our American Near East-Middle East college group, along with Beirut, Istanbul and Athens. The plan is to train the young men of Iraq in agriculture and engineering, in the hope that they some day will transform their country back into the Garden of Eden, that the Bible tells us it was in the days of Adam and Eve. Supto P4

A young American educator, Dr. Ralph LaShaum, flew from Cairo to Baghdad with President Hoover's party. He is there to understudy and relieve Dr. Staudt and help build his new college -- which, by the way should not be confused with the famous Jesuit College in Baghdad.

Hugh Gibson and Frank Mason are members of the Board of Trustees of our new American college in the city of the Caliphs. President Hoover went with them to school, to call on the Staudts.

HOOVER - BAGHDAD - 3

Here is the way Frank Mason describes what happened;-

"Mrs. Staudt, a dear little American Lady, greeted us and showed us around with the greatest pride -- told us how important it is to get the boys young enough to mold their characters." The Staudts: have been doing this for thousands of boys of the Middle East, for a quarter of a century.

As she was showing us her parlor", continued Frank Mason, "a few feet below the surface of the patio, built low to be cool in summer, in came the Chief," meaning President Hoover. "The Tigres River is unusually high now. Its waters had come as far as the school, flooding all the ground floor."

There stood the former President of the United States in a Baghdad parlor, with the waters of the Tigres half way up to his knees. Mrs. Staudt picked that moment to mention to Mr. Hoover that he too, was one of their Trustees. "The Chief" in that rather shy

HOOVER - BAGHDAD - 4

terpetrat for as this way of his mumbled something about never contradicting a lady. "And so between Mrs. Staudt, the subterranean parlor, and his interest in trying to solve the Palestine problem through improving the agriculture in Iraq and Krabia," continues Frank Mason, "former President Hoover became the newest trustee of this new American college that is to be built in Baghdad."

Gh yes, Mr. Hoover generously said he was going to give Five Thousand Dollars to the School which is now in the midst of a campaign for funds.

The former President of the United States flew up and down the Tigres and Euphrates studying it from the air with a view to the possibility of building great dams that may at a not too far distant date transform Iraq into the rich granary that it once was. The new American college to be built out there will play a big role in this. And as the Near and Middle East are now regarded as the world's most dangerous spots, politically, what could be more important for us than to do everything possible for the people of those lands, and to win their friendship.

HOOVER - BACHDAD - 5

accounts birds at the American Susaes of Waburyl Simisr

winged speakeres that fly ever great spaces of the app

the way they follow standblys, the way thoy, seem on particularly, is a group of Archie terms pror th he a

Worth File to the South Fole, stopping in between at Those everytable birds that are wald to algrate from the Situat roofs and rocks. The group of Arctic terms is shows on one of the Pacific islands, where they Fundte telendy of the Acean. Bast outches uplays

They are to obers is flight and on the propad.

Og all sides are sivid and graphic exhibits of the lad by bards. Fernythe hid mangregate in vast sumbars.

The orbibit gives as sort of fellow foeling, remining me of a dag last your when i found agaelf NUSEUM

Well, I'm surrounded by birds. Tonight I am broadcasting before a gathering in the Whitney Hall of oceanic birds at the American Museum of Matural History. On all sides are vivid, and graphic exhibits of the winged creatures that fly over great spaces of the sea.

They are k shown in flight and on the ground, the way they follow steamships, the way they want on remote islands of the ocean. What catches my eye particularly is a group of Arctic terms over there those remarkable birds that are said to migrate from the Worth Pole to the South Pole, stopping in between on distant reefs and rocks. The group of Arctic terms is shown on one of the Pacific islands, where they congregate in wast numbers.

The exhibit gives me a sort of fellow feeling, reminding me of a day last year when I found myself amid swarms of the Arctic tern. On a trip Frade to MUSEUN + 2 the war fronts in the Far Pacific, I returned by way of Johnson Island - a tiny bit of land, a mere speck on the vast expanse of the Pacific. There was hardly enought room for the amm airstrip, and there was distinctly not enough room for both the planes and the birds. The island had been a base for the Arctic tern long ages before an airbase was dreamed of. And the birds had flocked in as usual - for their customary stop on the long flight from hat Pole to Pole. And they now found that their island had been preempted by those other and much bigger birds that roared for landings and take-offs.

The swarms of Arctic terms did not like it at all. They flocked in beside the runway4 - and on the runways. When a plane came roaring, they blackened the air as they rose, and deafened one's ears with the sound of their shrill and angry cries. They were Exceedingly indigmant; they and wanted everybody to know it. epparently. That was on Johnson Island, thousands of miles away, and here, NUSEUM - 3 in the middle of New York, what do I see again - but a typical group of Arctic terns. That's one of the

Loral Conselligues

many with of magic at the American Museum of Matural

this . To dit 't working wast shat dis leaned him, has well and an average drapping after doing loader

Sens the thesis and conserves were defined by by oreasenting stather signate. Lette turned does a far, loy offer puter party in the set of the sector and the set of the set of the

The present well at it and of suff out ait for the solorestas vessions for the single an an offer shink

interest in and the strike the strikes with a strike and an aradike comes section with toppe is from the tration that the in bridges a mine of an in the strate of the

in the terres the compassion and the History.

COAL

In the coal strike the Federal conciliator today walked out. Paul 🗮 Fuller resigned, saying he did not approve of the way the Government was handling in the negotiations between the companies and the things f Union. He didn't explain just what displeased him, but his walkout occurred shortly after Union leader John L. Lewis had caused new difficulty by presenting another ultimatum. Lewis turned down a company offer concerning vacation pay for the miners -- an offer which previously appeared to be acceptable to the Union. threatened to And still later -- Lewis threatenating extend the strike. The present walkout is one of soft coal miners -and anthracite comes next -- with John L. Lewis stating that the anthracite miners will join the strike on May Thirty-first, unless their demands are met.

RECE INITERS

EXPLOSION

Today's explosion at Leonardo, New Jersey, produced one of the weirdest of miracles. Ammunition was being unloaded from the U.S.S. SOLAR, a destroyer escort. The sailors were carrying shells. One of these, while being passed along, exploded. The miracle, utter and immunition incomprehensible, is that the sailer, who was passing the shell along, was not injured. Praise the Lord - and pass the ammunition. But others were injured, and some were killed, in what then happened.

The blast of the shell was followed by a tremendous detonation. The explosion of the shell The powder exploding. And touched off the parties magazine of the destroyer eccent. The ship blew up and sank. Seven sailors are missing, believed to have perished - and scores were injured. Here a disaster so violent that it was felt twenty-two miles away. But the sailor in whose hands the shell exploded, saved by a minarle. In baseball the pitching seems to be mighty good this first post-war season of the national game. Bob Feller pitched a no-hitter today. This was the second of the young season, a hurler of the Brooklyn Dodgers having previously accomplished the feat. Bob Feller today, with his blinding speed, pitched a game of no hits and no runs -- and struck out eleven. And a nothing-to-nothing tie until the ninth inning, when a Cleve-Indian hit a homer.

And now, Hugh -- nothing less than a home run from you.