TOKYO-COPENHAGEN

In Japan - a ban today on the "late, late show" on TV. In Britain, the government again asking: "Is this trip really necessary?" In Copenhagen - a secret meeting of Common Market Foreign Ministers. All these aimed at coping with a worldwide energy crisis - the result of the Araboil cutback.

While here at home - energy Czar John Love is suggesting that all service stations - may be ordered to close on weekends. "Of course," said he - "people can always gas up" ahead of time; "but it would still be a step toward curbing driving on weekends."

At the same time - the New York stock market aryan $\qquad$ taking another beating. The Dow Jones industrials dropping nearly eighteen points. Coupled with yesterday's plunge of nearly twenty -nine points one of the biggest two den ex day declines in market history.

CHICAGO

From the National Safety Council comes today - an extra special reason for limiting driving speeds to fifty miles "above an hour. The Council noting that vafticy fifty-one's chances of death double with each additional ten miles per hour."
"So at seventy" - we are told - "you have four times the chances of death - as you do at fifty."

President Nixon travelled today to Memphis where he briefly addressed a cheering crowd, of about four thousand. The President saying: "As a result of our policies - America is at peace throughout the world for the first time in twelve years; we have the un-lowest/久employment in peace time 4 in eighteen years.
He also noted in passing -- the existence of the energy crisis. "But the greatness about America;" said he - "is when we've got problems we just get out and solve them."

The President later meeting privately - with members of the Republican Governors association.

And then - back to Washington. telling the Governors - he was sorry if he had "added to their burdens." Also

2 saying: "If there are any more bombs - I don't know about them."

The nomination of Gerald Ford as Vice President was approved unanimously today by the Senate Rules Committee The formal draft of the committee's recommendation - to be completed over the Thanksgiving recess; which means there fl call be a floor vote in the Senate perhaps as early as maybe later. next Tuesday. In the House -

In services held in the Capitol Rotunda nearly ten years ago - it was Mike Mansfield who delivered the eulogy to the fallen JFK. It was Mansfield again who paid tribute to the late President - in a poem today entitled: "John Fitzgerald Kennedy - a Remembrance." Mansfield saying, in part:

Ten years after, it is all remembered and more:

An assertion of human decency

A trust of freedom

A confidence in reason

A love of country

A kindled hope for the nation.

This was John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

This is John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Ten years after.

From a doctor who examined twelve year old Teddy Kennedy - a report today that there is "an excellent chance" his cancer has been arrested. Dr. Philip Caper saying: "We are working on the as sumption that the cancer has not spread-and that no future treatment is indicated."

PHOENIX

The US Ambassador to the UN-a patient today at the Arizona heart institute in Phoenix. John Scali undergoing open heart surgery-for the removal of blockage in his coronaryarterial system. His surgeon later quoted as saying: "Everything looks good-he ought to do very well."

In the Middle East - an Egyptian protest today against the construction of an Israeli bridge - across the Suez Canal. Cairo calling this - a "very serious violation" - of the cease fire agreement; one that "constitutes a major change" - in the engineering and structure of the canal."

Meanwhile, the Israeli cabinet $\lambda_{1}$ meeting in emergency session in Jerusalem; faking up the "quote delicate" problem of how to dinmuede disengage

Egyptian and Israeli troops.

For those three balsa rafts floating from South America to Australia - the end of the journey today.

Australian naval vessels towing two of the rafts - into the Queensland
small fishing village of Balling. The third of the rafts also under tow - when it began to break up in heavy seas. Its four crewmen completing their $\frac{\text { trip }}{\frac{1}{1}-a b o a r d ~ a n o t h e r ~}$ Australian naval ship.

From Guayaquil, Ecuador, to Ballina, Australia - in just under six months.

rang fantastic voyage.

EARTH ORBIT

In the flight of America's Sky Lab threethe big problem today was adjusting to weightlessness. Scientist astronaut Ed Gibson saying that entering a room sideways or upside down - left him at first completely disoriented. Adding that it was "very hard" -- even "to tie your shoes."

BENTSEN

A new name was added today - to the list of Democratic Presidential hopefuls. Senator Bentsen of Texas saying he plans to test the political watersfduring the coming year; and then decide whether to run - on the basis of "whether it is a realistic thing." Bentsen observing that "the place where a man can do the most for his country - is right down at the White House."

Washington again - the nation's oldest federal law enforcement agency - has finally gone coed. The U.S.

Marshal's Service - more than a hundred and eighty years old - today accepting its first female deputies: Jacqueline Bailey, age thirty-eight, of Washington - and Joanne Neely, age twenty-four, of Oxon Hill, Maryland.

The new deputy marshals - women, yes, but lawmen, too. A spokesman saying: "They will have the same training and responsibilities as men - they will be treated exactly the same."

A study of shoplifting in the nation's nearly twelve hundred discount stores - is reported today from New York.

The annual loss from pilferage and petty thievery in these stores - set at Eight Hundred and Forty-Five Million; or more than two-and-a-half per cent - of all retail sales. This the equivalent of a "hidden tax" - costing the average

American family about a Hundred and Fifty Bucks a year.

The study also notes, however, that store owners are now showing a greater willingness to prosecute. The number of arrests last year - coming to more than a hundred and fifty thousand.

MILWAUKEE

In the State of Wisconsin - the start of another deer hunting season, as of this past Saturday; and now - a report on the "bag." Officials saying the toll thus far - has already included at least eight deer hunters. One whens accidentally shot - and seven who died of heart attacks.

A new attempt to trace the development of world wo the fudeon at Toughbapa' trade - is reported today from Vassar College, Dr. Curtis Beck using infrared spectra studies to determine the source and age of amber artifacts dating back to the second millenium B.C.; from there - attempting to determine how they were made, bought and sold; how the early trade routes were first established - between prehistoric Europe and ancient Asia.

Why amber? Because it was one of the few teems from the North - mainly around the Baltic Sea - that was widely sought by the rest of the world. King Solomon supposedly sealing his books - with a ring of amber. It was also highly prized - even in Rome. The naturalist Pliny once observing that "a very diminutive human effigy made of amber - has been known to sell at a higher price than living men."

ST. JAMES

At Saint James Palace in London - a public display of Princess Anne's wedding gifts; including furs, laces and satins - along with silver goblets, serving trays and so on.

More than a thousand gifts-infact, all but one.

The one missing item - a three-year-old chestnut Biel, how gelding. A Palace spokesman explaining -it was "not the thing for the carpets."

The wettest spot in the world - Mount Waialeale on the Island of Kauai in Hawaii; from whence comes a report today that total precipitation this year - will come to more than four hundred and fifty inches; or enough to cover a threestory building - and then come.
on the Island of Kauai
Mount Waialeale $\boldsymbol{q}^{-}$-theronstiof whecelarty where it drectit dint rains - it pours.

