PEKING

Red China's president Liu Chao-Chi-again on the hot seat today in Peking. Wall posters put up by so-called "Revolutionary Rebels"--accusing Liu of an unsuccessful plot to overthrow chairman Mao Tse-Tung. This supposedly a year ago last February--while Mao was staying at his winter home in Shanghai. Why it failed--what went wrong--they don't say.

Meanwhile, a bitter denunciation of Pope Paul todayfrom official Radio Peking. In contrast to recent Soviet publications—calling the Pope "a standard bearer of Socialism" Peking calling him simply "a hypoerite."

Further accusing the Pontiff of entering into a "counterrevolutionary Boly Alliance" --with both Russia and the United States a vain effort--to end the war in Viet Nam. said Peking.

Former vice president Richard Nixon--a man-on-the-move today; traveling from Saigon to Jakarta--on his current fact-finding tour of the Far East.

Leaving Saigon-Nixon saying he saw no chance-of a negotiated peace in Viet Nam. Hanoi's repeated rebuff clearly showing-said he-there is "no possibility of the enemy accepting any offer that has been made-or could be made."

At the same time--Nixon criticizing three Democratic

Senators--also Dr. Martin Luther King--and anti-war demonstrators back home. They are only making efforts to end the war more difficult--said the ex-vice president.

Later, on arrival in Jakarta--Nixon declaring that total victory in Viet Nam is merely a matter of time. And when that time comes--said he-- "South Viet Nam will join the other free Asia nations--in progress toward political and economic stability."

Here at home -- a break today; in that strike at the Lycoming division of Avco Aviation -- in Stratford, Connecticut. With a Federal judge ordering the strikers back to work -- for a period of at least ten days; and plans for resumption of negotiations -- immediately getting underway.

The plant is vital as sole producers of engines of T53 helicopters; used as troop transports -- in Vietnam.

From Viet Nam itself--news today of the second dramatic troop movement in less than two weeks. With hundreds of U. S. Air Cavalrymen--reassigned to the northern provinces bordering that phony demilitarized zone. The crack airborne troops joining U. S. Marines and Infantrymen--currently facing an estimated twenty-eight thousand ememy troops--acorss the d-m-z.

Earlier--a Viet Cong terror trap today in Saigon. Enemy terrorists setting mines on either side of an enlisted men's billet--then hurling grenades at G-I's attempting to leave the building.

Four Americans-seriously wounded. Worse, the wounded forced to lie unattended for twenty minutes-until the mines were safely out of the way.

America's latest Surveyor Three moon robot -- is speeding through space tonight at a speed of tetter than five thousand miles an hour. The craft on an "extremely accurate" course -- according to space scientists; with a lunar landing set for Wednesday night -- barring the unexpected.

Surveyor Three-equipped with a tiny power shovel to probe the lunar surface. Also a rotating television camera-to relay the scene back to earth. This the next big hurdle-toward placing a man on the moon.

Directive thousand wilescore a televis consider.

Speaking of space travel—a report today from the mouse Space Committee. Showing what a difficult task it is—this business of hurling a space craft to the moon and beyond—with pin-point accuracy.

of course, the principal problem in a moon shot—is that of overcoming the earth's gravitational field. Farther out—the problem becomes more complex; calling for advanced mathematics—abetted by high speed computers—to keep the space craft on target. With the slightest pressure—which seem—enough to wipe out an entire mission.

Take, for example, the pressure from solar radiation—the heat of the sun. Not much to be sure. In fact, the pressure of sunlight on a space craft—about the same, they say, as the pressure exerted on an elephant—by the breeze from a single bee's wing.

And yet a pressure so slight—can cause a miss of more than twelve thousand miles on a voyage to Mars; more than fifty-five thousand miles—on a trip to Jupiter.

Revolt in Ghana--apparently backed by exiled president

Kwame Nkrumah--ended today as quickly as it began.

Three army officers signalling start of the attempted coup-in a broadcast early today over Radio Accra.

Rebels saying Ghana's new government had been overthrown-and later trying to arrest the military leaders who ousted Nkrumah last year.

Within a matter of hours, however--another broadcast from Radio Accra, with a spokesman from the military regime--reporting the coup had been crushed.

Its three leaders--to be tried as mutineers--said he.

The Seventh Congress of the East German Communist Party-in session today in East Berlin. Deginning with a flat rejection of a West German proposal--calling for closer cooperation between the two Germanies. East German president Walter Ulbricht saying there can be no cooperation--until Bonn officially recognizes his regime.

As an alternative--Ulbricht then calling for a change in the states of West Berlin. A change that would make it politically independent -- of both Bonn and the Western Allies.

This necessary eard Whorisht because West Berlin is a constant "fire becard" in the cold war.

For the first time in the history of free elections
in Japan—an avowed leftist has just been elected governor of Tokyo. Ryokichi Minobe—running with Communist support—easily beating his Conservative opponent in weekend polling. and so winning the difficult job of running the world's largest city—over the next four years.

The governor-elect an economics professor at Tokyo

Education University until he decided to enter politics.

Winning nearly three-quarters of the vote--in this his first try at elective office. With observors much of his success--to frequent televison appearances to woo the voters--mostly women.

Minobe's victory--also a blow to Japanese Premier Sato-who campaigned for his opponent. As such--posing still another threat to U. S. and Japanese relations.

AIR FORCE ACADEMY

At the Air Force Academy in Colorado--famed General

Jimmy Doolittle was named winner today--of the Academy's

Thomas D. White National Defense Award for 1967. The award is presented annually--to an American who has made

"outstanding contributions to the national defense and security." General Jimmy--who led the fabled boolittle Raid on Tokyo in World War Two--surely another great choice.

Less than three years in office -- British Prime Minister Harold Wilson will soon be making his ninth official visit to North America. The announcement today - from London. With Wilson to visit Expo Sixty-Seven in

Montreal -- on British National Day, June One -- before heading for Washington, to confer once again -- with President Johnson, concerning efforts to spur peace talks

in Vietnam -- as well as Britain's planned military withdrawa:

"east of Suez."

World heavyweight boxing champion Mohammed Ali -sometimes known as Cassius Clay -- a victim of a T-K-O today in Washington. The U.S. Supreme Court refusing even to hear his appeal -- from a scheduled draft date
April Twenty-Eighth.

On another front -- the high court today reaffirmed a lower court order -- on school integration. Which means that six deep south states -- will be required to desegragate their public schools in all greades -- by next fall.

Senate

A final note--from Capital Hill. where Senate Minority

Leader Everett Birksen today introduced his perennial resolution--to make the Marigold the national flower.

why the marigold? Because--said Everett Dirksen-
"it is as spritely as the daffodil--as colorful as the rose-as resolute as the zinnia--as delicate as the carnation--as sporty as the chrysanthemum--as aggressive as the petunia-as unbiquitous as the violet--and as stately as the snap dragon."

bike the san says: it happens every spring.
