

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

Democratic Chairman John Bailey, today called in reporters to say that - "The Republicans will pay dearly at the polls in November for their part in killing the Medicare bill."

House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts, echoed this. Said he:- "Senators who voted against it have made it a real, living, dynamic issue."

To which, Republican National Chairman Miller replies that Mr. Kennedy and Democratic leaders should take a closer look at their own party's vote, before lambasting the GOP. "I am amused and shocked," said Miller. "Is the President planning a purge of his own party? And will he also take the stump against the scores of democrats in the House, who helped defeat his Hanford steam project yesterday?"

No answer ~~XX~~ yet from the White House.

DOCTORS

The Doctors' strike in Canada may soon be over.

A spokesman for striking medical men in Saskatoon says they are prepared to return to work under conditions outlined by the government.

Their announcement followed word that Premier Lloyd has agreed to call a special session of the Legislature, to change the medical program to something closer to what the Doctors want.

They set no date for going back to work. That apparently depends on how soon Premier Lloyd calls back the Legislature. The walkout began seventeen days ago.

PERU

Venezuela proposes an immediate meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers, to consider some action by the organization of American states, regarding Peru. To this the U.S. hasn't said yes or no.

But the United States is much concerned over the situation in Peru.

A few hours after Peruvian troops seized President Manuel Prado, in what was described as a bloodless coup - the United States suspended diplomatic relations with Lima.

And the State Department is saying - "We must deplore this military coup d'etat, which has overthrown the constitutional government," of Peru.

At Lima - the new military junta was sworn in at noon, with the national radio saying: - "The country is peaceful." But American newsmen on the street reported demonstrators outside the Palace with loud shouts of: -

"We want our civil rights!" said another government
Police sprayed the crowd with colored water - so, that they could be caught and identified. But, no shooting, so far.

and consider us their most staunch ally should completely forget our urgent needs."

LAOS

One bit of progress at Geneva. The fourteen nation conference on Laos formerly adopted declaration of neutrality for that nation, and set next Monday as the date for signing the agreement.

He had his plan to gain formal admission to that country. That he was taken off that plane bound for the United States - solely to save his life.

Sobles still has a right of appeal - which his attorneys say he'll do tomorrow. His request for political asylum has been filed with the London Home Office - a request that they take another month and a half to be heard.

SOBLEN

The fugitive spy - Dr. Robert Soblen has lost his bid of freedom in Britain - but he still may be living there for another six weeks.

Britain's highest Court rejected his plea to gain formal admission to that country. That he was taken off that plane bound for the United States - solely to save his life.

IKE

It's off to Europe for General Ike, and Mamie Eisenhower. Today they left aboard the Queen Elizabeth. The Ex-President is scheduled for a major speech in Stockholm, where he plans to say that America will be "conciliatory, but will not be pushed in around" in seeking peace.

Other stops on the Eisenhower itinerary - Paris, Copenhagen, Bonn, Dublin, London - and that apartment given by the British to the World War II Commander-in-Chief for as long as he lives - in a Castle near Ayr, Scotland.

A moment of humor at the shipboard news conference - Ike kept pronouncing the name of the Soviet Premier - "Crook-Shov."

Reporters finally asked: Is there some particular significance in the way you are pronouncing Khrushchev's name?

A roar of laughter from Eisenhower and a homage wave of his hand.

AVIATION

The nations highest aviation award - the Collier trophy - goes to four test pilots of the Rocket plane X-fifteen - President Kennedy giving the citation to Major Robert White, Commander Forrest Peterson, and civilians Scott Crossfield and Joe Walker.

The President saying "They're the kind of Americans we most appreciate and want the country to be identified with."

Jackie Cochran - Mrs. Floyd Collins - our only gal for (miss) thinks certain matters that have to do with sex - babies and/and might be a problem.

SPACE

America's first man in orbit - John Glenn - has done a little broken field running on the subject of putting women in space.

Glenn - obviously a space-man diplomat - didn't say yes or not to that question of women joining men in space voyages. "I'm not anti-any particular group" said Colonel Glenn. "I'm just pro-space."

But - in a hint that women might find the program too rugged, Glenn added: "An astronaut is part of the system itself. He's not just a biological specimen going along for the ride." Then - to confirm the point, he said: - "My mother could probably pass the physical given for the Washington Redskins, but I doubt if she could play many games."

Jackie Cochran - Mrs. Floyd Odlum - our only gal jet flier, thinks certain matters that have to do with sex - babies and <sup>so on,</sup> ~~sex~~ might be a problem.

EXPLORER

What's below those clouds that perpetually hide the surface of the planet Venus. What would an electronic eye "see" if it penetrated to the edge of earth's closest planetary neighbor.

An attempt to probe that mystery will be made at Cape Canaveral on Saturday when the Mariner-One Explorer rocket sets out on a one hundred and forty day trip through space to Venus. The Mariner-One has an electronic eye with which to peer through the clouds of Venus and find out what's there.

An identical rocket - Mariner-Two is standing by for a similar trip next month. If both shots reach the target area - the United States will have the first real intimate look at Venus, when she's actually at a distance from us of twenty-six million miles.

Will Venus be looking back at us?

Who knows what beings if any are on Venus.

CHURCHILL

A toast today - from Winston Churchill to Winston Churchill.

Sir Winston saluting himself with a glass of champagne - in recognition of his ability to walk again.
The first few steps yesterday - a few more today.

Doctors say the left thigh bone injury is coming along fine, and the former Prime Minister is confident he will leave the hospital soon - on his own two feet.
