EISENHOWER LT.- Olds. Fri. Sept. 30-60.

President flew in from Chicago - to attend funeral services for his mother-in-law. Joining Mrs. Eisenhower at the house on Lafayette Street - The house of her parents, where they were married forty in five years ago. Today, a sombre, remaining for Mrs. Eisenhower; - and, for the President, who had always been fond of Mrs. Elivera Doud.

Before leaving Chicago, President Eisenhower spoke to delegates of the Polish-American congress. Subject - the captive nations of East Europe. Mr. Eisenhower told his audience that our policy remains to win free elections for all nations. He noted that the satallite peoples have not given up hope - of some day in regaining their liberty. And pointed to Vice President Nixon's friendly reception in Warsaw - as proof.

President Eisenhower's remarks were informal; and for taking up so much time. Whereupon his audience laughed and cheered.

The British Prime Minister is staying on in America over the weekend - instead of flying back to interest Harold MacMillan wants to discuss with President London. Eisenhower - yesterday's MacMillan - Khrushchev conference. The British statesman, said to be more worried - about Khrushchev's intransigence. well he might be - after the astonnding exhibition the Soviet Boss gave at the U N. Nikita, shouting and pounding his desk - while MacMillan was We hear he was speaking. Still belligerent when he met MacMillan later at the Soviet Embassy. The key issue - disarmament. That's what MacMillan and Eisenhower will take up - at the White House, on Sunday morning. Also attending the session will be Australia's Prime Minister Menzies.

Around the U N there's a lot of skepticism - with REED regard to - that letter submitted by five neutralist nations. The letter is signed by Nkrumah of Ghana, Nehru of India, Sukarno of Indonesia, Nasser of the United Arab Republic, and Tito of Jugoslavia. The letter calls on the General Assembly to request - a meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev. The neutralists insisting - that only the two world leaders can break the diplomatic impasse.

The skepticism at the U N is caused by the fact and atthit—with that it's all been said before, Many times, and there's still no hint that Khrushchev will meet Eisenhower's terms - for a face to face conference.

uncommitted nations. He played host to everyone from Nehru to Nasser - at the Soviet Embassy on Park Avenue. Serving his guests a spectacular lunch. - and a propagant spiel at the same time. Manding out shots of vodka - along with his version of world problems. In particular, the Khrushchev version of events in the Congo. One guest remarked later that Khrushchev seemed most anxious - to whip up neutralist support for Lumumba.

Incidentally, the Red Boss entertained royalty today: - Prince Sardar Mohammed Naim of Afghanistan, Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia; and Crown Prince Moulay Hassan of Morocco.

"Congo summit meeting" seems to have hit a roadblock. Mobutu's idea was to convene all the Congo leaders in the capital city
- including Lumumba and Tshombe. Today Lumumba declined to attend, asserting that he still has park parliamentary backing as Premier. Tshombe of Katanga - refuses to go to Leopoldville. Says he wants any "Congo summit meeting" held in a maxamentary neutral part of the former Belgian territory.

Meanwhile, Colonel Mobutu reveals that Red China offered Lumumba - almost three million dollars' worth of aid. The offer, signed by Chou En-lai - was discovered by Mobutu's men when they seized a brief case belonging to one of Lumumba's henchmen.

The latest developments in Laos add up to - a dif defeat for the West. Premier Souvana Phouma insists he's just being neutral invited Russia to set up an Embassy - in Laos. Pirst time the Communists will have - an Ambassador in that nation of southeast Asia.

And Souvanna Phouma is trying to negotiate a settlement with the Red guerrillas who started the Laotian civil war.

Which looks like a red-neutralist coalition - against the pro-western forces in South Laos.

The Dictator of Cuba urges Americans not so to obey - our State Department. Not to go home - because of anti-American tension in the island. Castro calls the State Department advice - a counter-revolutionary provocation by Washington.

But Castro is still making Cuba - uncomforgable for Americans. Still mouthing - anti-American propaganda. Today he described Havana as full of spies - who will be executed, if captured. Castro claims he's already holding three American spies - for trial.

The heartland of Europe is in ruins tonight.

Theoretically - that is. Nato has just closed its week-long maneuvers - with a smashing display of striking power.

The maneuvers ranged - from the Arctic to the Mediterranean. Hypothetically - British and Norwegian forces stormed ashore into Norway. Hypothetically - Nato divisions on the central front counter-attacked, after West German cities had been hit by enemy atomic bombs. Hypothetically - an American fleet destroyed enemy naval forces in the Bay of Biscay.

All theoretical. But Nato commanders, are satisfied the result, They say they that Western Europe can be held - II against a communist attack.

of Staff. General Lyman Lemnitzer took the oath, at a ceremony in Washington. He succeeds General Nathan Twining - who was on hand for the personner. As were two other former chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of staff -- General than Bradley and Admiral Arthur Radford.

General Lemnitzer immediately put himself on record - as favoring the existing system of military command. The joint chiefs may not be perfect -but, in Lemnitzer's words, "no better system has been devised by man."

Tonight two anniversaries are being celebrated in the city of Brotherly Love. Both concerned with - music.
The Philadelphia Academy of Music - is sixty-one. Eugene Ormandy is beginning his twenty-sixth year, as conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

Eugene Ormandy arrived in America from Hungary when he was twenty-two, got a job playing the fiddle - at Philadelphia's Capitol Theatre. One night the conductor became ill, the Hungarian fiddler volunteered to take his place; - and, has been conducting ever since.

Ormandy went to Minneapolis, and later came back to Philadelphia - when Leopold Stokowski stepped out. Under Ormandy's leadership the orchestra developed into - one of the world's finest. Some critics maintain that Ormandy has - the best string section and of any orchestra anywhere.

what does his orchestra do best? Debating that question - is a favorite past time in the world of music.

Some say Greig, Liszt, Takk, Tchaikovsky, Takk, May Mozail. What do Min day, Diela?

A Senior at Tampa University has set a new record

- for water-skiing. George Jackson mounted his skis at Santa Claus, Indiana - behind a boat driven by his pal, Jerry Crampe. Their route took them down Grooked Greek - to the Ohio. Down the Ohio - to the Mississippi. Down the Mississippi - to New Orleans. Then East to Tampa - by way of the coastal waterway, and the Gulf of Mexico. The roughest part of the trip - the Gulf, Then a while they thought they'd never make it. But they did.

Time - two weeks. Distance--two thousand miles.
