HAWAII

Against a background of driving rain--the start of historic talks today high above Pearl Harbor.

President Johnson and the U. ... High Command--conferring with top officials of South Viet Nam. In the bomb-proof, super-secret Command Center--of America's far-flung Pacific forces.

The talks beginning at precisely ten-thirty-five-Hawaii-time, Continuing off and on through the day-and, it's expected, far into the night; In the search for a means of halting Communist aggression--and building a better life for the people of South Viet Nam.

THE THE ###F WATH-MANYSCON SELS SUGSY LECTIONARY

Far across the Pacific--American troops today snapped shut the biggest trap--they'd ever set in Viet Nam. Some twenty thousand U.S. Air Cavalrymen and Marines joining forces at An Lao Valley--a Communist stronghold for twenty years, Only to find that entrenched enemy forces--had long since fled to nearby rugged mountains.

Just one Viet Cong reported killed--as U.S. troops swept virtually unopposed through the valley.

The only American casualties--those suffered by men who stepped on hidden bamboo stakes. This the same valley where Communists handed the government a crushing defeat-two years ago.

In the air war--American jets today launched their heaviest barrage against North Viet Nam--since the end of that thirty-seven-day bombing lull. The combined strike marking the first anniversary--of almost daily bombing of the Communist North.

Back in Washington--the House today rammed through a new GI Bill of Rights, Providing a wide range of benefits--for veterans of Viet Nam. Also for all others who have served in the cold war-over the past decade, as for the served will do so in the future.

Schooling benefits of the bill--ranging to a high of fifty-four hundred dollars for qualified exservicemen. Additional benefits including home loan guarantees employment counseling--federal job preference--and certain medical and hospital rights.

Speedy approval predicted in the Senate-which passed a similar version of the same bill last year.
The measure thus apparently destinued to be the first major legislation--of the new session of Congress.

INTEREST FOLLOW RIGHTS

today that will raise the cost of housebuying--all across the nation. The new Department of Housing and Urban Development--approving an increase in the FHA interest rate--from five-and-a-quarter to five-and-a-half per cent. The rate boost said to be necessary--"to assure a flow of funds" from private lenders.

Expected cost to the individual homebuyer:

About a thousand dollars on a twenty-Thousand-dollar house-over the life of a twenty year loan.

Here there At Cape Kennedy--a leak in a fuel line today halted a key dress rehearsal--for the launch of America's first Apollo moonship. The Apollo countdown three hours and twenty minutes from mock blast-off--when the drill was "scrubbed."

WEATHER

The weather picture tonight across the nation -- more like a kaleidoscope of clashing elements.

Heavy snows in the Northern and Central Rockies -- spilling over into the Great Plains. Dense fog in Iowa and Illinois -- closing airports and causing scores of traffic accidents.

Bitter cold in Upstate New York; thirty-two below at Wanakena -- a record twenty below at Syracuse.

A remote and mountainous region of West

Pakistan--was hit today by a severe earthquake. The epicenter near the Iranian border--registering six-pointone on the Richter scale. First reports reaching Karachi indicating at least five dead. All of them women--buried in a landslide to the by the quake.

mysterious disappearance of D.N. Aidit. Indonesia's leading Communist--the man who led that attempted coup last October against President Sukarno.

A Tokyo newspaper reporting that Aidit was captured by the Indonesian Army--on November Twenty-second.

Later confessed his part in the coup--and was then summarily executed. The story documented by photos taken of Aidit--while he was apparently under are Army guard.

In his alleged confession--Aidit is said to have admitted that he intended to seize power in Indonesia in nineteen-seventy. But was forced to act sooner-when the Army decided to seize all Communist arms.

A political newcomer by the name of Jose Joaquin Trejos Fernandez--has apparently been elected the new president of Costa Rica. First returns from San Jose-today giving Trejos a lead of some five thousand votes.
With about two-thirds of the total transfer.

machine--engineered by three ex-presidents of the tiny

Central American republic. Trejos himself a former student at the University of Chicago--who later became dean of economics at the University of Costa Rica.

This next--a story of international romance from Moscow. Where a British zoologist and his Russian counterpart today arranged a match--between the only two giant pandas outside Communist China.

Lady Panda Chi-Chi of the London Zoo--to become the bride of Comrade An-An of the Moscow Zoo.

As soon as a suitable time and place--can be arranged.

The match hopefully sulminating--in the first baby panda every born in captivity in the West.

This actually the second effort--at mating the two pandas. The first in nineteen-sixty-four having ended in failure. When Comrade An-An--simply said, "Wh-uh."

Since then, however, he's been fed a steady boiled diet--of_eggs and birch twigs. Zoologists today reporting

An-An--in "perfect condition." Adding: "From now on-we must rely on instinct."

MOON

A second set of pictures from the moon-shown to the Russian people today by Moscow television. Including a full three-hundred-and-six/degree sweep of the lunar landscape--taken by wide-angle camera aboard the Luna-Nine.

At one point--the camera picking up a chunk of the spacecraft --that apparently broke off at impact.

Meanwhile, the London Evening Standard today defended the earlier British pirating--of first photos from the moon. Asserting that Russia's refusal to sign international copyright agreements--made the pictures fair game.
