

Brief Memories (At Random)

- Inter-semester walk to Esopusâ€“crossing the bridge, five cents
- Frank Xavier and his story telling around the evening campfire
- Lending our beehives and then picking up apples for our winter supplies
- Station wagon to New York to sell eggs and honey and returning loaded with bananas
- Chiropractor Dr. Dorland Eimeeâ€“coming to treat our old Brothers in the infirmary
- Annual blood type for service to St. Francis when needed
- Evening walks to the cemetery for a prayerâ€“Bro. Eli Justin and Brother Bonaventure
- Canadian Brothers to take care of the singing
- Our play and music programsâ€“â€œGreat Scott, a thousand dollars the real stuff!â€
- Blasting of the shale rock by Mr. Casseta: â€œWatch out for the blastâ€
- Our summer bungalows and the summer work crews
- Mike & Gus, the life of the party and the life of the work
- My secretary John Malachy: â€œNothing has been announced by the main officeâ€
- Absent-minded Brother coming out of the toilet with seat in hand; forgetting his book
- From the womb, to the tomb!!!
- St. Joseph and the blanket, when needed
- Our Motherâ€™s Day celebrationsâ€“program for parents
- College chapel ready for Cardinal Spellman visit
- The Poughkeepsie lady who stopped me to ask:
 - "Are you not the one in charge of the Marist Brothers we see walking to town?"
 - â€œYes, I am.â€
 - â€œWell, how come they are always three by three?â€
 - â€œThat is our rule.â€
 - â€œWhy such a crazy rule? They are old enough.â€
 - â€œWe need no explanation, we just do it. But I can tell you a good reason.â€
 - â€œPlease do.â€
 - â€œWell, in case of a stroke or accident, one runs for help and the other stays with the victim.â€
 - â€œThat makes sense. Thank you.â€
