

L.T.-OLDS. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1961.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

In their joint communique President Kennedy and Chancellor Adenauer expressed a common determination - to keep Berlin free; but with a willingness to negotiate with Khrushchev. If - Khrushchev is reasonable.

The West Berlin Chancellor now leaves for Europe - and conferences with MacMillan and DeGaulle; which he hopes will be as satisfactory - as his visit to Washington.

TRIAL

The two West German students on trial in Moscow - are telling similar stories. Peter Sonntag and Walter Naumann -- putting all the blame on America. They claim that American agents enticed them into espionage - by promising that nothing would happen to them if they were found out. At least - nothing worse than expulsion from the Soviet Union. Sonntag and Maumann, adding ^{that} they were afraid to say "no". Afraid - of what the American agents would do to them.

All of which is
~~The allegations~~ - denied in Washington. Our Moscow Embassy - ignoring the trial.

KING

The Monarch of sand and oil - is in Boston tonight.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia - flying in for medical treatment.

His ailment - ulcers. Saudi Arabia is still the romantic land - of camels and caravans and endless sand dunes. ~~He is~~ ~~still~~

~~even Bedouins come down with what seem like~~ illnesses

~~peculiar to life in the west.~~ ^{But} Even the King of Arabia can have a case of - ulcers. ~~which is why~~ King Saud ~~is~~ in Boston - for an operation.

SATELLITE

The satellite launched at Point Arguello, California, today - is a mystery. The Air Force, refusing to tell us - what's in the capsule, ~~what~~ the purpose of the satellite ~~is~~ - or even whether it went into orbit on schedule.

Best guess - this one is a "spy in the sky." Either a "Samos" or a "Midas". If its mission is to take photographs from outer space - it's a "Samos". If it keeps track of missiles - it's a "Midas". In any case, the contents of the capsule are - classified, top secret.

ROCKEFELLER

~~There's~~ Still no word - about Michael Rockefeller.

The son of the Governor of New York, still enveloped in the mystery that descended on him - when he set out to swim to the New Guinea ~~island~~^{coast}. His father, now on that great island off Australia - to press the search.

Meanwhile, we have some information - concerning archaeological expeditions of the kind that Michael was on. The Dutch described as - opposed to them. Reason - too many archaeologists, stirring the native tribes to open warfare. Just so they can return home - with exciting films of New Guinea headhunters and cannibals. Leaving the Dutch to restore order in the jungle - if possible.

The Rockefeller expedition? We are told that it was okayed by The Hague, - ~~after a high level request from~~ Washington.

GARNER

Another Texan chalks up - another record. John Nance Garner - ninety three today. When he was only seventy three, he said he intended to live another twenty years -- so he'd be a private citizen longer than a public servant.

~~The~~ former Vice President, ^{was} born ~~on~~ November twenty-second, Eighteen Sixty-Eight, ⁱⁿ ~~Place~~ a cabin ^{on} ~~the~~ the Red River. Garner, growing up to become a judge in Uvalde County - then a member of the Texas State Legislature. He was elected to Congress - in Nineteen Two. Tapped by F D R to be Vice President - in Nineteen Thirty Two. ~~And~~ - again in Nineteen Thirty-Six.

Five years later, ^{back} ~~he returned~~ - to private life, ^{with the} ~~offering that~~ prediction ^{that he'd live 20 yrs more - till} ~~about living to be~~ ninety-three.

~~Making it~~ Today. One of the colorful figures in the history of American politics - Cactus Jack Garner.

TORNADOES

~~You~~ ^{We} can judge the force of those Texas tornadoes - by an incident ~~that occurred in~~ ^{at} San Antonio. The twister, picking ~~it~~ up a four-by-four - driving it through the wall of a house, like an arrow.

In Nagadoches county, practically everything moveable - ~~has been~~ ^{was} moved, ~~also~~ ^{and many} things ~~that~~ ^{not} ~~were~~ supposed to be moveable. Five tornadoes, toppling oil derricks - as if they were toys. Uprooting trees; ^{and} ~~tearing the~~ ^{ripping} roofs off houses. Near Longview, Texas - ~~a~~ ~~number of~~ barns and silos, ~~were simply~~ blown away.

Tonight, Longview and Kilgore - are under two feet of water. Breckenridge - bombarded by hail as big as baseballs.

The Long Star state ~~may go~~ ^{gala} in for ~~most~~ things - in a big way; ^{including} ~~But Texans will tell you they can do without~~ big tornadoes.

SHOOTING

That gun battle in the Missouri Ozarks erupted - because of electricity. Or rather - lack of it. Bill Jenkins blaming the company - for not stringing power lines to his farm. Kidnapping the ~~man~~ manager - forcing him to cut down a big tree that was in the way. Then letting the manager go - with a warning that the electricity better be pumped in, and quickly.

When the highway patrol arrived to arrest Jenkins for kidnapping - they found his farm turned into a fortress. The berserk farmer, inside the house - firing at them from the windows. They fired back - and bullets began to whistle all over the farm.

~~The~~ The siege, lasting - all night. This morning, the patrolmen hurled tear gas into the ~~man~~ building - and advanced cautiously to the door. Meeting - no opposition. Finding - that Jenkins ~~is~~ had been killed by their fusillade. Near his body, a small arsenal, rifles, shotguns and pistols.

The berserk farmer of the Ozarks - who didn't live to get his electricity.

SKI

I have an item of special interest to all who are interested in snow.

A former ski champion, Herman Vogel predicts that the number of American skiers - will more than double this year and next. Hit a record - ten million.

His explanation - of the boom? "Ski fever is spreading like crazy," says he. Adding - "even in Texas!" In winter Texans now head for Colorado, Utah, and the mountains of New Mexico and Arizona. Sun Valley; many come to the mountains in New England - and they even fly to Europe. A ski boom; Dick, and the weather man says snow tonight!

FOOTBALL

Have you heard about that football game at South Bend on Saturday? Today experts seemed to agree that the officials made a mistake - on that controversial field goal - a play sure to go down in the history of football. Syracuse, ahead - fifteen to fourteen. Notre Dame, trying a field goal - from fifty yards out - as time ran out. Kicker Joe Perkowski - missing the uprights. The Syracuse players, jubilant. On to the Orange Bowl.

Then, the head linesman - calling a penalty against Syracuse for unnecessary roughness. Notre Dame, getting another chance - fifteen yards nearer the goal line. Perkowski, making it on his second try. Notre Dame seventeen! Syracuse fifteen.

Tonight, almost all of those who have seen the film of the game - believe that the second kick should not have been allowed. Reason - the ball was already in the air when the penalty was called. Hence - no longer in Notre Dame's possession. The game - over.

So, who did win - Notre Dame or Syracuse?

Football fans will debate that one for months. The name of the player charged with unnecessary roughness? Sweeney, a fighting Irishman of Syracuse. He started it. For Notre Dame, no Irish involved.
