

LABOR

L.T. - Deleo. Wed. Sept. 2 - '59, an Agreement on the Labor Bill, today! The Joint committee of Senate and House - voting to accept a compromise,

1612
which leaves the legislation pretty much the same as the tough Landrum-Griffen Bill, Advocated by President Eisenhower and passed by the House. But modifying it - with some provisions more favorable to the labor unions, on such subjects - as picketing, for example.

One question - what does Senator Kennedy think of the compromise, which could, possibly - affect his presidential ambitions?

Today, the Senator from Massachusetts declared that the changes put through by the Democrats on the committee go a long way toward safeguarding what they regard as legitimate union activities. This Kennedy opinion <sup>is</sup> echoed by other Democrats.

47
Today's compromise will now go to the floor of the Senate and the House - for confirmation.

VETO

That Eisenhower veto record - still perfect. The President - never having had a veto tossed out in Congress.

Today, the House of Representatives upheld him in his disapproval of the huge Democratic spending bill for public works, coming to more than a billion, two hundred million. A narrow squeak - a one-vote margin. The Democrats - failing to get the necessary majority of two-thirds. One vote - short.

GANG

The criminal fantasy of the gangs of juvenile delinquents in New York - takes a weirder turn than ever, today. With the arrest - of Dracula and the Umbrella Man.

Two Puerto Rican teen-agers - wanted for the unprovoked murder of two boys, Robert Young and Anthony Krzeninski, ^stabbed at a West Side play ground - on Saturday night. One of those arrested!

48
Dracula's ~~main~~ <sup>a</sup>Lieutenant, ^seventeen year old named Hernandez - "The Umbrella Man". So called - because of his habit of beating victims with an umbrella.

Picked up by the police, today, Dracula admitted that he stabbed victims on Saturday night. But denied - that he killed anybody.

Then he snarled at the police: "I don't care if I burn. My mother can watch."

He's the stepson of a Pentecostal Minister; and his mother came to the police station - with a Bible for Dracula. ~~A~~ A Policeman took the <sup>Bible,</sup> ~~Bible,~~ but later brought it back, saying: "He doesn't want it."

Governor Nelson 'Rockefeller is taking measures to form a program - for a fight against juvenile delinquency. Calling meetings - with religious and civic leaders. And inviting F B I Director J. Edgar Hoover - to help in the campaign against the teen-age thugs.

Today, as it happens, the F B I released a report on crime throughout the nation, showing - that the number of juvenile delinquents arrested for serious crimes rose by more than eight percent, last year.

INDIA

The politico-military crisis in India - now settled.

49
The Army Chief of Staff - withdrawing his resignation, ~~which~~ which he had handed in <sup>asa</sup> ~~in~~ protesting ~~the~~ against the policies of Defense Minister Krishna Menon. Lieutenant General K.S.
Timayya charging - that Krishna Menon was "playing politics" with the Indian armed forces.

In the New Delhi parliament, Prime Minister Nehru, today, defended Krishna Menon. And now the word - that the Chief of Staff has withdrawn his resignation.

DALAI LAMA

The Dalai Lama arrived in New Delhi, today.

To urge Prime Minister Nehru to argue the case of taking the suppression of Tibet to the United Nations. The Living Buddha - urging Nehru to place the wrongs of Tibet before the world organization. The Dalai Lama -- greeted by huge cheering crowds when he arrived in the capital of India.

EISENHOWER PARIS

Paris, today, ~~xxx~~ gave President Eisenhower - the greatest welcome he has had during his ~~xxxx~~ present European trip. In West Germany, the cheers were like thunder. In London, the staid Britishers broke out of their usual reserve, to hail - the President of the United States in tumultuous fashion. But leave it to La Belle France - to make things dramatic and emotional, ^ With - all that Gallic elán.

A million Frenchmen, thronging the Champs D'Elysees, as President Eisenhower and President Charles DeGaulle drove in a stately progress along that avenue of triumph. The Parisians recalling - how General Ike was in Paris fifteen years ago, as the western commander<sup>of</sup> victory in World War Two.

The cheering, today, might sound a little odd - to American ears. "Vive Eek - Vive Eek!" the Parisians - having their own pronunciation of "I K E". Together with "Vive" as in Vive La France. So all Paris echoed - "Vive Eek, Vive Eek".

The climax - at the Parisian City Hall. The two Presidents, DeGaulle and Eisenhower, on a dais, addressing the crowd. DeGaulle - referring to his guest in these words: "This good, dear and loyal companion, at whose side I walked along a very hard lap on the road to victory."

"Vive DeGaulle! Vive Eek!" roared the crowd.

Then the President spoke - in obvious emotion. Saying: "When the heart is full, the tongue is very likely to stumble. Should I try to express," he went on "the true feelings, the true sentiments that now inspire me, I should be unable to speak at all."

His brief address ended - in French. "I have" he said, "one small French phrase that I think expresses my feelings. 'Je vois aime tous'. Meaning, "I love you all."

And the crowd went wild, "Vive Eek, Vive Eek!"

EISENHOWER

On his way home from Paris, President Eisenhower will make a stop in Scotland. Spending the weekend - at a Scottish castle, where he stayed for a while in Nineteen Forty Five, when he was - General Ike of World War, Two.

Culzean Castle, seat of Clan Kennedy, the head of which, today, is the most Honourable Archibald Kennedy, Seventh Marquess of Ailsa, Baron Kennedy and Earl of Cassillis. Who says - he's delighted to have Dwight Eisenhower at the castle again. This time - as President of the United States. The more so, because it's not the first time Clan Kennedy has had the honor of entertaining an American President. The previous one having been - George Washington, himself.

No, our first President was never in Scotland. The story being - a curiosity of history, As related - by the Marquess, today, Clad in kilts - with the Kennedy tartan.

Back in the days of the American Revolution, a member of the Clan was a British officer stationed at Boston - Captain Archibald Kennedy of the Royal Navy. He was thereat the time of the ~~Boxer~~ Boston Tea Party. But he sympathized with the Americans, arguing - that they were quite right. For which reason - he was kicked out of the Royal Navy - and remained in the United States.

There he acquired property - including a house in New York City. The address - Number One Broadway. Which, after a time, was taken over by the authorities - to become a temporary residence of George Washington, who lived there for a while - after becoming our first President.

"So you see", said the Marquess, ~~xxx~~ today, "the clan Kennedy has had its dealings with American Presidents before".

The first President; and <sup>Don,</sup> now the thirty-fourth President!

FOLLOW EISENHOWER PARIS

The President made his Parisian appearance - looking something like a wounded veteran. With a cut - ~~is~~ an inch and a half long, across his right cheek. So what happened?

Presidential Secretary Jim Hagerty was queried by the reporters, and answered: "Gentlemen, even the President may cut his face, while shaving."

Even as you and I. - ~~on Tom, Dick, and Harry.~~
