L. T. SUNOCO OIL BROADCAST - 4/28/33

Good Evening, Everybody:

Warfare of a new kind is afoot today and right on the soil of the U. S. A. The Governor of Iowa has declared martial law in Plymouth County, and sent two hundred national guardsmen to keep order in that troubled region. This follows as a result of the outrage committed by some hundred, meh, supposed to be farmers, on a Judge of the Plymouth County District Court. The affair has caused no end of a sensation all over the country. Even people most sympathetic with the farmers, and indeed the farmers themselves, seem to be shocked by the conduct of this gang who almost lynched the Judge, whom they tore the his bunch in the

This crime was committed because many farm mortgages had been foreclosed in the court of this judges the Judge Bradley. The turbulent crowd tried to compel him to take an oath to sign LEAD - 2 no more foreclosures. This he refused to do, whereupon they seized him , and dragged him out, taking him past the sheriff's office a the sheriff did not Five of the men were masked. They subjected him to all sorts of abuse and indignities, fastening a rope around his neck, and dangling him for several minutes from the ground, plastering with are grease + tearing of his clother. The Governor of Iowa saya: "I want it expressly understood inxthixxxxxxx that this gang thich outraged Judge Bradley is not a representative group of Iowa farmers, but is Nevertheles a composed entirely of hoodlums." tag e maria, Dowa, this den TP The Governor also severely criticized the Sheriff of the county where this occurred, calling him a weak sister who han't nerve enough to uphold the law. Judge Bradley, though sixty years old, refused flatly to comply with any of the demands of the would-be lynchers. They by the roadside left him chafed and bleeding, with part of his clothes torn off. Today he declined to insist on the prosecution at the roadside. of the mob.

Twining back to world affairs HERRIOT The conversations between the President of the United States and Former Premier Herriot of France are all over, and M. Herriot is on his way back to LaBelle France flowery compliments the U. S. A. in general, over President Rooseveht, Secretary of State Hull, Under-Secretary Phillips, and Assistant Secretary Raymond Moley in particular. The Frime Minister is at the present moment in New York. Tonight he'll be the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Waldorf Astoria by the French Chamber of Commerce and other organizations. You'll be after to hear his speech which he will deliver at ten o'clock and which will be broadcast over this network. That is. you can hear it if you understand French. But in case you don't, ... the analysis of what he set will be delivered by a member of the staff of the New York Sun.

Before M. Herriot left Washington, a joint statement by him and President Roosevelt, in fact, two joint statements were made public. For the most part, they are packed with careful generalities. The gist of them both is that the United States and France are in complete harmony about the problems for economic recovery which confront the entire world.

PARIS

A curious piece of information comes from Paris today. France is about to make a big touch on John Bull. Great Britain has agreed to lend her neighbor a huge sum of money in order to bolster up the French franc.

The two countries have arrived at a new financial agreement. French bonds have shown signs of skidding and LaBelle France seems to be in a serious financial plight. So the Butteley going to lend the money to help her out and make it unnecessary for France to abandon the gold standard.

A semi-official statement was issued last night to the effect that the French Treasury was due to make this loan, a short term loan in London, to the extent of some thirty million pounds sterling. But it will not be lent by the British Treasury. It will be borrowed from British banks.

The French Minister of Finance is expected to issue a more complete and official statement later.

In connection with this a dispatch from Washington reports that the French delegation has assured the State Department that John Bull and France have not entered into any financial alliance against Uncle Sam. BONUS

The latest attempt in Congress to put over the cash bonus for veterans once more was definitely squelched today. This was the amendment offered by the Republican Senator Robinson of Indiana to the Administration's Inflation Measure.

point of an accordingate and the bails

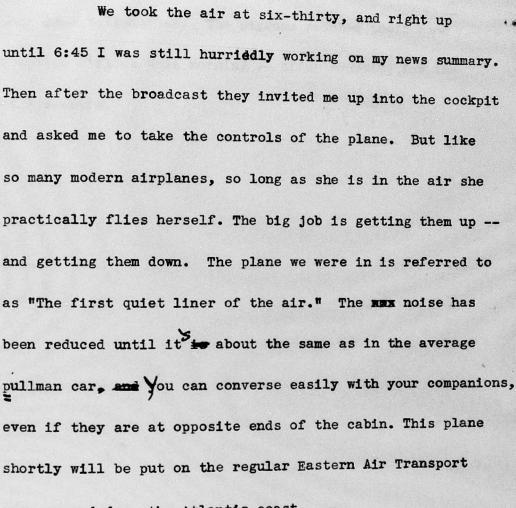

As was indicated yesterday observers in Washington expected this bonus rider to be defeated, but not so EXERNAL However However However H sixty to twenty-eight.

THAT AIRPLANE BROADCAST

And now about that broadcast Fgave from the air last night. The National, Broadcasting Company informs me that it was the first summary of the day's news ever sent out from an airplane. And, like all pioneer undertakings, it was something of an experiment, and we didn't know just what was going to happen. The plane was a big Curtiss-Wright Condor, that would normally accommodate some twenty passengers. But for last night's broadcast we had to take along a lot of special short-wave sending apparatus and three NBC radio engineers. Before I dashed out to the Newark airport and jumped into the plane at six-thirty, these engineers and Chief Pilot Parker of Eastern Air Transport had been spending the afternoon flying over New York, trying things out. It was not until almost six o'clock that they finally had the right kind of antenna and were getting clear signals through to the NBC short-wave receiving station on top of the Empire State building.

AIRPLANE - 2

run, up and down the Atlantic coast.

As to the two pigeons we had with us that had been sent over from the vicinity of Wilkes-Barre, before we turned them text we renamed them. The black one we called Anthracite, and the blue one we called Blue Sunoco. To the leg of one I attached the message wishing prosperity to all the anthracite people. To the leg of the other I sent a message to the folks in the hills of Pennsylvania to send us some good tallstories. The pigeons reached their home loft at ten o'clock this morning -- after roosting for the night somewhere. AVIATION

AIRPLANE - 3

Here's an unusual aviation item. Remember in 1931 when Clyde Pangborn piloted the first nonstop plane across the Pacific Ocean? To lighten her, he kicked off his wheels near the coast of Japan. Almost two years ago.

Well, at luncheon today of the Circus, Saints and Sinners, under a tent at Gimbels, I sat next to Clyde Pangborn and Captain Bob Bartlett, and Clyde told us he had just heard from Seattle that one of his wheels had just been picked up on this side of the ocean. It had drifted forty-four hundred miles across the Pacific. It's been so long since we heard anything about gold hoarders that many people have been taking it for granted that most of the gold had been returned into Uncle Sam's hands. It seems this is not the case. There's still more than five hundred million dollars, one-half a billion, in gold coin and gold certificates in the hands of individual hoarders.

GOLD

What makes it interesting is that they have only three days to return it to Uncle Sam. Next Monday is the deadline. Anybody holding more than a hundred dollars in gold coin or gold certificates after Monday will be prosecuted by the U. S. Treasury. Incidentally, Senator Borah of Idaho made a vehement statement on the floor of the Senate this afternoon on this subject. The Idaho Senator said if he had so much as five thousand dollars, either in Gold or Gold Certificates, he would defy the Government to come and get it. MXXXBBREN

RAILWAYS

The heads of the railroad labor unions got together today to discuss what they would do about the idea of the President's dea for putting the country's transportation into the hands of a Co-ordinator. Federal Courts. Many details about the the were published in this morning's papers, and it is believed that Mr. Roosevelt will send the measure to Congress either tomorrow or Monday.

The bill would put powers hitherto unheard of in this republic into the hands of this new Federal organ. Another thing it would do would be to abolish the hitherto hampering restrictions of the anti trust laws. One of the important reforms it would achieve would be to do away with duplication of service.

Those of the President's advisors who have drawn up the bill have been exceedingly careful of the rights of labor. The set would in no way amend or modify the existing railroad Labor Act, and Collective Bargaining by the Unions would still be permitted. ROOSEVELT

One of the minor embarrassments that confront President and Mrs. Roosevelt, is the prodigious number of relatives they have all of the same name. A story current in Washington has it that the family connections of the Roosevelt's are so extensive and so complicated that even the President and the First Lady cannot always explain them. It seems that someone is always asking: "But what relation is So and So Roosevelt?" And then again: "Is Mrs. Such + Such Somebody or Other, Roosevelt a third cousin or a fifth cousin, or just a cousin by marriage?"

Well, as I said, many of these questions are beyond the family knowledge of the Roosevelts themselves. But a recent issue of Fortune magazine went to the trouble of setting down the entire Roosevelt family tree with all the kin, the connections, ramifications, etc. Mrs. Roosevelt has ordered that a copy of this magazine be kept in the office of Ike Hoover, the Major-domo of the White House as an essential work of reference.

GENEVA

A dramatic turn was given to the Disarmament Conference at Geneva today, and the principal actor was Uncle Sam. Norman H. Davis, American representative & Geneva, announced that Uncle Sam stands shoulder to shoulder with John Bull on the disarmament question. Mr. Davis told the other delegates that the United States government considers the British proposal for arms reduction an invaluable contribution to the Disarmament cause. And he said further that the American delegation will oppose to the utmost any attempt to weaken the British scheme.

Another sensation in today's meeting of the Disarmament Conference was the peremptory demand, made by the German Government. Germany informed the Conference that she wants and maps expects to have complete equality in every form of Arms by 1938.

This caused a serious flutter among the delegates. It is known that France will never consent to any such nullification of the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. Another battle described as a terrific offensive is going on in China. The Japanese have started a fierce drive to sweep away the Chinese text troops who are intrenched north of Peiping. And the threats have been issued that if a counter attack is launched the Mikado's troops will advance as far as the Chinese capital.

This does not mean that the withdrawal of Japanese troops from another part of China is being discontinued. The movements of soldiers from the region east of Peiping towards the Russian frontier is still going on.

ante a la participa de China gat a fine et a partice de la

the standard of the integral basis with the second standard the second standard the second standard the second and the second second

.....

and an appet during

BASEBALL

As everybody expected, there was tremendous excitement over the ball game at the Yankee Stadium in New York today between Babe Ruth and his fellow Yankees, and the Washington Senators. It's the first game since that famous fracas in Washington. What made it still more exciting was that the President of the American League took this opportunity to announce his decision in the case of the three ball players, one Yank and two Senators, who were suspended as a result of that jolly old fight.

The President of the League and the heads of the Clubs have held a session earlier in the day at the Hotel New Yorker, after which they went out to the Stadium. The sentence is that each of the players, Ben Chapman of the Yankees, Buddle Meyer and Earl Whitehill of the Washington Club, get a fine of a hundred dollars and are suspended until Sunday.

The President of the League decided that each of the players was equally to blame. However, he said, from the testimony of the umpires at that Washington game, Ben Chapman had not deliberately tried to spike second baseman Buddie Meyer xwx of the Senators when he slid into second. Then the President of the League went on to say: "Meyer should have kept his head and not kicked Chapman while he was on the ground, although it is true Chapman slid into second harder than he should have."

BASEBALL - 2

The President of the American League went on to say that the principal mistake was made at the Senator's dug-out on that famous day. Pitcher Whitehill, American as he was proceeding to the showers offensive remarks to Ben Chapman as he was proceeding to the showers on the umpire's orders. But when Whitehill made these offensive remarks Chapman should not have slugged him. In conclusion, he declared: "The American League is in favor of aggressive baseball, but it cannot permit rowdyism."

Well, that seems to be that. But it was evident that the fight did not lower the gate receipts at the Yankee Stadium today, and the score was 4 to 3 in favor Washing ton in spite of the far that Babe Ruth belled out Non.

Earthquake shocks are still going on up in Alaska. In reparte fact, those of today were even more frequent and more violent than those which shook the Alaskan coast yesterday. In feet Reports from the town of Anchorage bring the information that there have been more than a hundred shakings of the earth in that vicinity since Wednesday afternoon. A still more serious rumok is that Augustine Island which used to lie off the tip of the Kenai Peninsula, has vanished utterly into the sea. There were no casualties, because this island was uninhabited. Reveral curious incidents are reported. Dairymen declared that their cattle were made seasick. Freight cars on the railroad were uncoupled and sent rolling down the tracks. Some of the shocks occurred during school hours, and the terrified children stampeded from the buildings which threatened to collapse over their heads.

ALASKA

inxbutchessxcountyx

ByxgollyyxIxhopextherexhaventtxbeen/anyxearthquekes/up

I hope there haven't been any carthquakes in the neighborhood of Pittsburgh. I have to go there to speak tomorrow, which reminds me that it is almost time to catch the train, so-SO LONG UNTIL MONDAX.

BROUN

Well, well, here's a bit of political news. Our colleague, the genial toastmaster, the ardest poles player Heywood Broun, the brilliant columnist has left the Socialist party. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that Comrade Broun has fired the Socialist party.

In addition to writing wine daily column. It Seems to Me"which appears in newspapers all over the country, and in addition to frequent broadcastings, Heywood had been an active member and has really worked at folities, of the party, In fact, he has xxx been a candidate for the New York Board of Aldermen on the Socialist ticket, also for Congressman from one of the New York City districts.

In kicking the Socialist party out of Broun declares he finds it too timid. He also has come to the conclusion that being a regular Socialist hampers a man's freedom of expression. In explaining his action he declares that if a Socialist writer writes anything of which the party does not approve, he is disciplined.

So now Heywood is thinking of starting a party of his own. He does not say what he is going to call it. But, whatevery et a name - The Brown Shirts. With the password its name, it will be an interesting I should vay solong - or tonight Solong until tomorrow monday