He took up the issue of surpluses - saying that they were built up by the Democratic policy of high rigid price supports. Repeating, that under his program of flexible supports - farm prices will get back to a fair level - without building up any more surpluses. The President, insisting that the outlook for agriculture gets better all the time. - summing up with the words, "we are over the hump."

Kefauver calls the men around President Eisenhower a "Cadillac cabinet," and says they have behaved like business men - with wholesale corruption. The Democratic Vice Presidential nominee charges that the worst example of all - was the Dixon Yates contract - which he says Presidential assistant Sherman Adams "tried to hush up."

The Senator from Tennessee believes that the Eisenhower crusade of Nineteen Fifty Two has not cleaned up the mess in Washington.

~~There's one black spot in the report. Needless to~~
^{altho'} say ~~that it's~~ farm income, ~~which~~ continued to drop; - nine hundred million below the same quarter last year. The administration hopes to see an upswing for the rest of ^e ~~this~~ year. - ~~or else income ^{is} will hit a new low for the ^{post} ~~present war~~~~

DULLES

Secretary of State Dulles at a lively press conference today, was bombarded by questions involving everything from tension in the Middle East to U.N. membership for Japan.

For one thing he said he was concerned about the latest violence along the Israel-Jordan border. Fearful of what may result from the reprisal raids by the Israeli army, he pointed out that Israel and the Arab States have both repeatedly assured the United Nations - that they would do everything possible to stop all that.

Reporters wanted to know - what we intend to do, if Iraq sends troops into Jordan? Also, what if Syria delivers arms to Jordan?

He replied that we will oppose any aggression in the area; either a Jordanian attack on Israel - or an Israeli attack on Jordan. He thinks the Suez problem less grave than the present

~~the~~ threat of war in the Middle East. ^{Although} ~~Dulles repeated that~~ finding a solution to the Canal problem [^] will not be easy, ~~but~~ he's ~~still~~ optimistic ^{and} ~~he still~~ believes ~~that~~ a settlement will be reached, [^] on the basis of the ~~six~~ six points accepted by the Security Council last week.

Coming near ~~home~~ home he was asked about Adlai ~~Stevenson's~~ Stevenson's statement - that we should take steps to end the H bomb tests. ^{To this} Secretary Dulles replied ^d ~~to this~~, that the Eisenhower administration has been searching for a way to end the tests - for more than three years. The trouble, ^{said the Sec. of State} ~~according to~~ ~~Dulles~~, is that the Russians have persistently refused to allow any inspection of their own nuclear developments. And we can't endanger our own security - by stopping atomic research - when we don't know what the Soviets are doing.

About the ² ~~the~~ question of Japan ^{he told the} ~~our Secretary of~~ ~~State told his audience that~~ ^{press} we will continue to do everything we can - to get the Japanese into the United Nations. Again, it's the Soviets who provide the obstacle; - that familiar veto.

This Jordanian head of the Arab Legion also says that an agreement ^{concerning} was reached with Iraq yesterday ^{on} the use of Iraqi troops. In case of an attack, all Jordan has to do is say she needs the troops, and ^{Bagdad} ~~Iraq~~ will send them.

MAO TSE TUNG

BANK

A story about a half million dollar shortage that caused a Texas bank to close. How come no one knew about it? The River Oaks State Bank had to shut its doors - following the discovery of what is called "a kited check paper empire". Meaning, someone built up an account by depositing worthless checks drawn on other banks. Bank examiners, who made the discovery - say the shortage may be seven hundred thousand.

Tonight, examiners are trying to find out why two young attorneys from Fort Worth were allowed to borrow large sums ■■ from the bank - one of whom was killed in a plane crash last August. In ■■ his pockets police found a roll of one hundred dollar bills - all counterfeits.

A famous soprano and her husband - are being sued for six hundred thousand dollars. Maria Callas, named by Richard Bagorozy - ^{who} ~~he~~ claims that she owes him three hundred thousand dollars - ten percent of her earnings since Nineteen Forty-Seven. He maintains that she signed a contract - to pay him the ten percent - and failed to live up to it.

What is her husband accused of? Well, the suit says he was guilty of "malicious interference" - because he allegedly advised his wife not to carry out the contract.

~~With~~ Maria Callas ^{has been} ~~is often~~ called the greatest singer of this generation. Her name has been up in lights at opera houses all over the world. PLANE

Tonight, Pan American Airways is saluting one of its pilots, Captain Richard Ogg of Saratoga, California - who set his four engined plane down in the Pacific - and ~~it~~ did it so skillfully, that all thirty one aboard survived.

The plane enroute from Honolulu to San Francisco, during the night developed engine trouble. When the skipper, Dick Ogg knew he couldn't make it to the California coast he turned toward a weather ship, and prayed that he would be able to hold out until dawn. Dumping his fuel he warned the Coast Guard Weather ship "Ponchartrain" that he expected to drop into the sea right nearby. Fortunately, the waves were running at only about three to four feet. Not at all bad for an emergency landing. The big oceanic airliner broke in two as it hit. Quickly the crew launched rubber life rafts and got their twenty four passengers into them. Then within twenty minutes they were all on the weather ship, the Ponchartrain heading for San Francisco.

FOLLOW PLANE

Meanwhile the Air Force has about given up hope for the fifty nine servicemen aboard the military air transport that disappeared last Wednesday, on the flight from England to the Azores.

RAPIDS

(~~On previous broadcasts, I've mentioned a sport growing in popularity in this country~~) river running - shooting the rapids! All over America where ~~the~~ rivers are big enough - and there is white water, you'll find new fans for this sport - in rubber boats, kayaks, fold boats, specially designed row boats, and so on. Today, one of them set a record - by running a rough, wild stretch of the St. Lawrence. Dr. Homer Dodge, a seventy year old retired Professor from Northfield, Vermont - running the St. Lawrence through the Long Sault Rapids, ⁱⁿ a canoe.

Dr. Dodge ~~is~~ an old hand at ^{this} ~~the business~~, had previously run some eight hundred miles of ~~rapids~~ of the Colorado River, and he wanted to conquer the Long Sault Rapids of the St. Lawrence - which so far as we know had never been run. And soon, it won't be there. The Long Sault Rapids to disappear as a part of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

So at three score and ten Dr. Dodge is the first to run the Long Sault Rapids of the St. Lawrence, and maybe the last.

KALAMAZOO

I wonder if this will be sad news for candidates who campaign in Kalamazoo? The Kalamazoo school board has decided - that the Kalamazoo high school band will not be allowed to play for them. That applies to Adlai Stevenson, who will be in Kalamazoo tomorrow. It also applies to Nixon - who will pass through Kalamazoo next Tuesday.

The reason, the school board wants to keep education out of politics. And so Henry, at political rallies no high school band! And that's what's new in Kalamazoo!
