Literary Club Conducts Forum

The Literary Club of Marist College sponsored a forum on the nature of a liberal education. About one hundred students met in the gymnasium to listen to a discussion of the topic.

Five students attending Marist College presented their own views on the

Theft at Marist

Yesterday, March 13, the Marist campus was victimized by a thief. An unidentified man made off with $35 in change from Dick Cromwell's Myerom Vending Co. truck, and five wrist watches, valued at about $30 each, and a clarinet, valued at $50, from the dormitory of the student brothers.

Detective David Cundy, of the Town of Poughkeepsie Police is presently investigating.

Dorm loan approved

The House and Home Finance Agency granted a loan of $565,000 last week, to Marist College for the building of a new dormitory. The loan, which was applied for in July 1960, has an interest rate of 3%, payable within the next forty years.

The original application asked for a loan of $1,000,000 for the construction of two dormitories, but it was refused and later, it was agreed that the two buildings be built at separate intervals; one for the fall of 1962, and the other for the fall of 1964, at which time a new loan application will be filed. The loan is to be used exclusively for the housing of students, and may not be used to finance the construction of educational facilities. The furnish-nature of a liberal education. Each talk was prepared independently with the result that although there was agreement in certain areas, a variety of opinions were presented. Brother John Wilcox acted as moderator.

The members of the panel were John Buscemi, a biology major; Brother Antony Pasquariello and James Callahan, math majors; and William Moran and Brother Timothy Lafferty, English majors.

Mr. Buscemi said that education prepares man for a place in society. He went on to say that a liberal education can accomplish this whereas a scientific one cannot.

"The college student," according to Brother Antony, "is an opportunist." He clarified this statement by explaining that a student is an opportunist because he recognizes the value of a college education and is taking advantage of the opportunity to acquire an education of this type.

The necessity for individual effort was stressed by Mr. Moran. He said that class lectures give only the most "basic and rudimentary knowledge", and that a student must expand and increase his knowledge in each field if he is to acquire a true liberal education.

On Campus....

by SHAMUS McBIRD & PATRICK O'SLOE

Vicariously, the genre of the nuances seem quite nebulous...ad nauseam.

Donald "Gratz" Murphy has been requested to sit in front of the room by a certain well known individual.

Attention, Joe Hattley! Is that a stomach or an abyss?

Are Jimmy Callahan and Jimmy (The Eye) Pizzani really international political figures?

Gary Smith, berets went out with Maurice Chevalier.

Pete Bruno is charging outrageous prices at the Bookstore.

Emil Oesterling, these reporters sincerely hope that The Pelican doesn't lay an egg.

What does Pete Hanley do as he reads his books?

Mister Buscemi has been waking up to the tune of "Pillow Talk".

Martin Faherty has finally washed his car.

Joe Greco has been dubbed by his roommates "The Human Alarm Clock".

Gene Spada has just completed a novel entitled "The Pinochle Expert".

Hugh Reynolds has been voted the best basketball player of the year by his teammates.

Bill Moran, why are you singing "I Left My Heart in Ossining"?

Ed DiSanto, why are you interested in Roses?

Jim Coombs has been elected "Mister Chug-a-lug" of Marist College.

In closing, we would like to compliment (something we seldom do) the fine school spirit displayed by our avid cheerleaders at the Bard game last Friday night.

P.S. For those of you who have not felt our wrath, there is only one way out—GRAFT!

Dance A Success

The Freshman dance, which was held on March 11th, turned out to be a complete success. The fifty-three couples who attended were entertained by the music of Harold Hart and the "Naturals!" Some of the highlights of the evening were John Markett's singing and Mr. Sommer's piano playing. It was unanimously agreed that a good time was had by all.

Brother Timothy discussed the question of why a student goes to college. He stated that the student should realize that "the function of the arts is not to be utilitarian; rather, their purpose is to make men." The student must unify the knowledge which he assimilates and formulate his own philosophy of life. Brother believes that the arts should lead the student to God.

Mr. Callahan described what he considers to be the ideal liberal arts curriculum. He advocated that all "Introductory to--" courses be abolished and be replaced by what are now called "major courses". He believes that a college offering such courses would give a true liberal education; but he further stated that he did not think that the average student would be capable of, or interested in, handling such intensified study.

This forum is the first of two on the topic of liberal education. Students from neighboring and New York City colleges will be invited to speak at the second one, tentatively planned for the early part of May.

Da Vinci Society Forms

A new club has been added to the growing list of campus organizations. The Leonardo Da Vinci Science Club of Marist College has been organized to promote a keener interest throughout the student body towards the scientific aspects of everyday life. To accomplish this end, full participation of all science majors on campus is needed. Through the presentation of various lectures, it is hoped that the club will be able to show incoming Freshmen the advantages of a career in the field of Science.

In addition, the club will attempt to answer many of the perplexing problems of which the non-science major has little knowledge. Such a program will benefit not only the science major, but also those students who have more than a cursory interest in the sciences.

Officers for the new club are: Bernie Lopez, President; Frank Swetz, Secretary; and Phil Gattine, Treasure.

ings for this four-story structure will cost $40,000 and will be paid for by the college.

The building, designed to accommodate 120 students, will be located at the south side of the campus overlooking the river. It will house forty students on each floor, with the ground floor being reserved for recreational purposes.

MID-TERMS MAR. 22-29

Intramurals

With two-thirds of the season already finished, the basketball intramural program shows a tie for first place between the Freshman Boarders and the Frosh Day Hop I teams, each sporting a four win-one loss record. Last week saw a tight battle waged between the two Day Hop teams with the "1" team beating their opponents 48 - 43. Joe Spada's two timely baskets insured the winners of their victory. Joe also led the scorers, with 25 points. Joe Sendra and Vin Montafia both hit for 15 to pace the losers.

Other action last week saw the Freshman Boarders blast the Day Hop II team by a score of 88-65. The Boarder victory was sparked by the fine playmaking of John "Fah" Buschemi and Bob Van Aernem. John de la Rosa paced the victors with 20 points. Joe Sendra and Don Murphy led the losers with 22 and 21 points respectively.

Today, the Upperclassmen take on the Day Hop I team and Wednesday the Boarders meet the same Day Hop team to battle it out for undisputed possession of first place.

Marist Shaves Bard 84-78

Marist College finished its first basketball season with an 84-78 win over Bard College and ended the season with a record of four wins and five losses. Although the team's record was not the best, it was certainly an impressive showing since it was our first year in intercollegiate basketball competition. The team was composed of five sophomores, three freshmen, and one senior. Plans are being made for next year, and to date, a schedule of twelve games has been drawn up. The team coach is Gary Mendez, former Poughkeepsie High School, and Hobart star. Members of the team are:

Captain Jack Callahan, Poughkeepsie; John de la Rosa, Dumont, New Jersey; Bob Van Aernem, Hudson Falls; Denny Tierney, Bronx; Tom Erts, Hyde Park; Dave Flynn, Beacon; John Romeo, Port Jervis; Jimmy Pizzani, Bronx; and Walt Herbst, Albany. Moderator of the team is Brother Gerard M. Weiss, FMS.
