Informed sources in Leopoldville reveal that the representative
U N mmardon in the Congo - will soon leave for New York.
India's Rajeshwar Dayal to report - to Dag Hammarskjold.

Subject, so we are told - the return of certain Belgians to the Congo; Phes in defiance of a request by Hammarskjold - that Brussels stop all unilateral activity in the former Belgian colony.

At Guantanamo, our forces admit they are relieved by President Eisenhower's declaration that we will defend our Naval Base against any attack. Today, Captain C. W.

Schoenweiss, the base commander, said -- "it's good to hear it from the top." Captain Schoenweiss has been ready all along for any Castro move - but he's glad that the President isn't zext leaving the Cuban dictator under any illusions about our intentions.

We've set up clearly marked mine fields - with warning signs in English and Spanish. And our marines are deployed, ready for action - if Castro should foresen encagite attack Guantanamo.

MITROPOULOS

The death of Dmitri Mitropoulos removes a man, who since the parsing of Torcunsini hare > $\wedge$
> often called - the world's greatest conductor. Born in Greece, Mitropoulos became an American citizen - and rose to fame with the New York and Minneapolis Orchestras.

He delighted the critics - with his musical craftsmanship.

He also shocked old-time impresarios by putting his musicians into buses - and touring America with them.

He brought classical music to parts of this country - where a symphony orchestra had never been seen before. And started the trend toward - more Americans in the opera;
And on the concert stage.
Today in Milan, wee rehearsing the La Scala
Orchestra - wk in Mahler's "Third Symphony", &uddenly he put his hand to his forehead - and collapsed over his musical score. The musicians rushed to the podium -crying "Maestro, Maestro"! But they, alt do now nt for him. He died in an ambulance - on the way to the hospital. Dmitri Mitroupoulos passing at the age of

MITROPOULOS - 2

sixty four -- snapping one more link with an era of gt great conductors. The era of Toscanini, Kousevitsky, Worqointer - and Mitropoulos.

Tonight the political pundits are trying to estimate the meaning -- of what been happening in New York. They ${ }^{\text {Re }}$ trying to figure out how much of President Eisenhower's triumphal march through the city -- will be translated into votes for Vice President Nixon. Today's that crowd showed $\boldsymbol{K}$ Americans still like Ike. Republicans hope this also means -- they like Dick, as successor in the White House.

Governor Rockefeller estimates that two million

New Yorkers turned out to cheer the motorcade - of Eisenhower, Nixon and Lodge. A tumultuous mob that shouted itself hoarse - and threw tons of confetti. "The greatest reception of my campaign," said Nixon. The climax - a G OP rally in Herald Square.

President Eisenhower put all of his prestige squarely behind the Republican ticket, with the words - "I came to tell you why Nixon and Lodge are so much better for the nation, and the world, than their opponents."

EISENHOWER - 2

That was the President's theme - as he stumped through New York today. Everywhere he asked his audiences to support Nixon and Lodge on all the major issues defense, economy, civil rights, and so on. Leading up to tonight's major address - by Mr. Eisenhower.

In their own speeches, Nixon and Lodge hammered at - the issue of experience. The Vice President called Kennedy - "a pied piper who promises everything for everybody." And again asserted that Kennedy is too immature - to be in the White House at so critical a moment in our history.

How does Nixon sum up the G O P ticket - on the question of experience? Today he told New Yorkers -"Henry Cabot Lodge and I have sat across from Khrushchev, and we've never been fooled by him." Nixon urged all American voters to consider the cold war carefully -and then decide who can handle it best. The Vice President feels sure that most voters who do this - will vote the Republican ticket next Tuesday. Cabot Lodge followity the same line of argument pointed out that hed dealt with the Russians at the U N and is ready to deal with them today -- now.

TRUMAN
githigmassist
While Nixon was from President Eisenhower -- Kennedy was receiving support from former President Truman. Mr. Truman, only a few miles away at Haverstraw, New York -- derided Nixon's claim to experience. Pointing to the recent intensification of the cold war, our former Chief Executive remarked -- "apparently it didn't make any difference what Nixon said to Khrushchev."

Pointing to the rise of a Communist dominated police state in Cuba, Mr. Truman: "all this happened since Mr. Nixon talked to Castro". H.S.T in tharrey

Qu for senator Kennedy, touring through California he today $\boldsymbol{\lambda}$ sounded confident about his chances of winning the election; te still thinks - it's close; put be also thinks the max um political tide - is flowing his way. As he Nixes put it -"President Eisenhower is now leading the rescue squad." Kennedy's Announcer that rendictry it's too late to rescue the GOP, too late to swing the election. form on

Kennedy is cheered by what California's democratic leaders itadrs are telling him. California is, of course -- Xixakxikiz Nixon's home state. But Governor Brown predicts a and sweep - for Kennedy. Democrat Senator Clair Angle predicts ر^
a Kennedy majority - of half a million votes.

Today's news from Yankee Stadium may not be as spectacular - as the firing of Casey Stengel. But it could mean even more -- to the Yankees.

George Weiss has resigned - as the Club's Ceneral

Manager. Weiss - sometimes considered the real genius behind the Yankees; kept ondof the most elaborate files in basebal1. A stack of cards with vital statistics on every player 4 who might possibly be of use to the Yankees.

When Stengel needed a ball player - he'd go to the General Manager; Weiss woulu pull out his cards -and they'd go through them carefully, before making a decision. That's how some key players happened to turn up in Yankee Stadium - just when they xre were needed. Players like wm pinch-hitter Johnny Mize and Reliefpitcher Johnny Sain -- both of whom helped the Yankees win pennants in the stretch drive.

> Well, we've heard it said - the Yanks are liable jury.

> The nove1 "Lady Chatterly's 1over" by D. H.

Lawrence. He wrote it back in the twenties - and it became a court case almost immediately. The reason - the way Lady Chatterly carried on with the game-keeper at hoe country estate. And -- some of the language that Lawrence whetua used.

> "Immoral" said the British censor. "Realistic" retorted the literary critics. Today, a jury finally got a chance - to decide between them. Nine men and kne three women, rendering a verdict of -- "realistic." Deciding it's all right for Britons to read the unexpurgated version of -- "Lady Chatterly"Laded by D. H. Lawrence.

