

Wed. Feb. 3 - '60.

At the White House news conference, today, the dominating subject was - the dispute over defense policies. With President Eisenhower making a sharp reply - to Air Force generals, who have been voicing criticism, ⁱⁿ Testifying - before a congressional committee.

47
For most of us, I suppose, the argument - can stand a bit of clarification. Reducing the whole thing - to simple terms.

It's a question of how to prevent an atomic attack. Both sides agreeing - on the main idea. Deter a possible aggressor - by threatening instant retaliation. A nuclear counter-blow - in return. American atomic power - as a deterrent.

But the contention of the ~~Air Force~~ critics is - that Soviet missile power, in a sudden stroke, might knock out our atomic bases. So that there could not be - any retaliation. Which would leave us - without any way to strike back. At the mercy of the enemy.

So our Strategic Air Command wants - an around-the-clock airborne bomber alert. Meaning, keep atomic bombers in the air at all times. Ready to strike - in retaliation. The point being - that bombers in the air could not be knocked out by a surprise missile assault.

48
That was the contention made, yesterday - by General Thomas Power, Strategic Air Commander - and General Bernard Schriever, Chief of Air Force Research. To which President Eisenhower, today, replied - that the around-the-clock alert of atomic bombers in the air ~~is~~ is not needed at present. Because Soviet missile power is not great enough - to knock out all our atomic bases in one blow. Our power of retaliation from bases - not susceptible of being destroyed in a surprise attack.

The President was tart in commenting on those Air Force chiefs - who disagree. Saying - "too many of these generals have all sorts of ideas." General Ike talking with authority - on the subject of generals.

INDIA

The picture we had last night of the voting in the Indian province of Kerala - confirmed, with emphasis, today. A landslide victory - for the anti-Communists. With the count nearly complete, the anti-Communist coalition wins eighty-three seats - in the provincial legislature. The Reds - capturing twenty-eight.

SOVIET-BRITAIN

British broadcasts beamed to Soviet Russia - no longer jammed. Moscow informing London, officially - that the practice of jamming would be stopped, immediately. Not unexpected - since the move was foreshadowed in a British-Soviet cultural agreement, concluded in London a couple of months ago.

49
So now British broadcasts will go to the Russian people - without interference. Though it remains to be seen - if this applies to the Red satellites, also.

FRANCE

The French Parliament gave DeGaulle semi-dictatorial powers, today - by an overwhelming vote. The National Assembly - four hundred and forty-one to seventy-five. The Senate - two hundred and twenty-six to thirty-nine.

DeGaulle authorized, now - to rule by decree, for a year. The better - to deal with the problem of Algeria.

ISRAEL

Last night, in Jerusalem, the Chairman of the U.N. Armistice Commission - ordered Syrian troops out of the village of Tawafik. Which is ⁱⁿ the demilitarized zone - between Israel and Syria. Tawafik - the scene of the battle between Syrians and Israelis on Sunday night.

The order doesn't seem to have had much effect. Because the coming of day - brought a new eruption of gunfire in the disputed area. Syrians - shooting at an Israeli patrol. The Israelis - responding with gunfire of their own.

The government of Israel claims - that the Syrians have been occupying the demilitarized zone, ⁵⁰ with soldiers - disguised as farmers.

CONGO

Racial discrimination - bitterly denounced in Africa.
But it's going to be practiced - in the new nation that is being set up in the Belgian Congo. ^{This} According to a decision - made in Brussels, By a committee of Belgian and Congolese officials, who have drawn up the rules - for elections in the Congo./

The racial discrimination - the other way around.
Against - the whites. The Caucasians - denied the rights of citizenship.

There are only about a hundred thousand white people in the Congo. Citizenship - reserved for the eleven million Negroes.

Well, the fact is that most of the Caucasians are employees of the Belgian government or of European business firms. Hardly - permanent residents of that immense domain in central Africa.

BILLY GRAHAM

51

Billy Graham - having an interesting time in West Africa. ~~But~~ Not altogether a triumphant success - for the Dixieland evangelist. Crowds - less than expected. Two rallies at Lagos, Nigeria - drawing a combined attendance of fifty thousand. When a minimum of seventy thousand - had been ^{anticipated} ~~expected~~. In Liberia and in Ghana, the crowds at no time - exceeded thirty thousand.

(One trouble - Billy Graham's machinegun style of preaching the Gospel. Which, in Africa - has to go through an interpreter. Always awkward, and, half the time the Africans - don't understand what is being said.

But) the principal reason is the fact - that, in those parts, the dominating religion is Islam. Veteran missionaries able to tell you that ~~these~~ ^{the} adherents of the creed of the Prophet Mohamed - well, they don't convert easily. Billy Graham - boycotted by the Moslems.

Today, in Lagos, he was challenged by a Moslem

5 1/2
evangelist. Nassem Saifi - who takes exception to a statement about the Koran. The Christian evangelist, naturally - preferring the Bible. Saying the Koran makes no mention of the future of mankind. Which Evangelist Nassem Saifi - denies.

So he wants Billy Graham to meet him - in a public debate. Which would be interesting - the Bible versus the Koran.

KENNEDY

A head-on clash - slated for West Virginia.

Kennedy versus Humphrey - in the Democratic presidential primary on May Tenth.

They are already scheduled for a primary battle in Wisconsin - and Humphrey challenged Kennedy to meet him, also, in West Virginia. Kennedy, today, announcing - that he will./

52

~~Humphrey, he'll go to Charleston - to file for the primary.~~ Yesterday, he entered the contest in Maryland - where he'll have no serious opposition. The same thing applying - to Indiana. Where the Senator from Massachusetts, it appears - will file for the primary within the next few days.

~~according to
All among the Kennedy bloc, the challenging of competitors to meet him in the primaries.~~

(Meanwhile, the Kennedy ~~people~~ people are protesting against a change made in the Wisconsin primary rules. The change made after Kennedy had entered the primary. Which, they claim - puts him at a disadvantage. Humphrey of Minnesota retorting - that the alteration is just and proper.)

CANADIAN WEATHER

In the maritime provinces of Canada - a record breaking snowstorm. At Halifax, Nova Scotia - the heaviest fall of snow that seaport has ever had. Beating a record - set in Eighteen Ninety-Four. ^{Dick-} Between midnight and two P.M. - Halifax had twenty-six inches of snow.

52 1/2

DOGS

A record-breaking dog show - in London. Seven thousand, two hundred and nine pooches - entered for a two-day event, Friday and Saturday. A larger number - than ever before put on exhibition in a single show.

Thoroughbreds - of every description. So what's the most popular breed? Officials of Cruft's Dog Show answer - the miniature poodle. With - three hundred and fourteen entries.

The miniature poodle - hardly a majestic, loud-barking sort of canine. — but the most popular,

L.T.-OLDS. WEDNESDAY, FEB. 3, 1960.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

In the maritime provinces of Canada - a record breaking snowstorm. At Halifax, Nova Scotia - the heaviest fall of snow that seaport has ever had. Beating a record - set in Eighteen Ninety-Four. Between midnight and two P.M. - Halifax had twenty-six inches of snow.

CONGO

Racial discrimination - bitterly denounced in Africa. But it's going to be practiced - in the new nation set up in the Belgian Congo. According to a decision - made in Brussels. By a committee of Belgian Congolese officials. Who have drawn up the rules - for elections in the Congo.

The racial discrimination - the other way around. Against - the whites. The Caucasians - denied the rights of citizenship.

There are only about a hundred thousand white people in the Congo. Citizenship - reserved for the eleven million Negroes.

Well, the fact is that most of the Caucasians are employees of the Belgian government or of European business firms. Hardly - permanent residents of that immense domain in central Africa.

BILLY GRAHAM

Billy Graham - having an interesting time in West Africa. Not altogether a triumphant success - for the Dixieland evangelist. Crowds - less than expected. Two rallies at Lagos, Nigeria - drawing a combined attendance of fifty thousand. When a minimum of seventy thousand - had been anticipated. In Liberia and in Ghana, the crowds at no time - exceeded thirty thousand.

One trouble - Billy Graham's machinegun style of preaching the Gospel. Which, in Africa - has to go through an interpreter. Always awkward, and, half the time the Africans - don't understand what is being said.

But the principal reason is the fact - that, in those parts, the dominating religion is Islam. Veteran missionaries able to tell you that the adherents of the creed of the Prophet Mohamed - well, they don't convert easily. Billy Graham - boycotted by the Moslems.

Today, in Lagos, he was challenged by a Moslem evangelist. Nassem Saifi - who takes exception to a statement about the Koran. The Christian evangelist, naturally - preferring the Bible. Saying the Koran makes no mention of the future of mankind. Which Evangelist Nassem Saifi - denies.

So he wants Billy Graham to meet him - in a public debate. Which would be interesting - the Bible versus the Koran.

where he'll have no serious opposition. The same thing applying - to Indiana. Where the Senator from Massachusetts, it appears - will file for the primary within the next few days.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy people are protesting against a change made in the Wisconsin primary rules. The change made after Kennedy had entered the primary. Which, they claim - puts him at a disadvantage. Humphrey is Minnesota retorting - that the alteration is just the proper.

KENNEDY

A head-on clash - slated for West Virginia.

Kennedy versus Humphrey - in the Democratic presidential primary on May Tenth.

They are already scheduled for a primary battle in Wisconsin - and Humphrey challenged Kennedy to meet him, also, in West Virginia. Kennedy, today, announcing - that he will.

Yesterday, he entered the contest in Maryland - where he'll have no serious opposition. The same thing applying - to Indiana. Where the Senator from Massachusetts, it appears - will file for the primary within the next few days.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy people are protesting against a change made in the Wisconsin primary rules. The change made after Kennedy had entered the primary. Which, they claim - puts him at a disadvantage. Humphrey in Minnesota retorting - that the alteration is just and proper.

DOGS

A record-breaking dog show - in London. Seven thousand, two hundred and nine pooches - entered for a two-day event, Friday and Saturday. A larger number - than ever before put on exhibition in a single show.

Thoroughbreds - of every description. So what's the most popular breed? Officials of Cruft's Dog Show answer - the miniature poodle. With - three hundred and fourteen entries.

The miniature poodle - hardly a majestic, loud-barking sort of canine.

FRANCE

The French Parliament gave DeGaulle semi-dictatorial powers, today - by an overwhelming vote. The National Assembly - four hundred and forty-one to seventy-five. The Senate - two hundred and twenty-six to thirty-nine. DeGaulle authorized, now - to rule by decree, for a year. The better - to deal with the problem of Algeria.

with one of the school teachers. Blaming the other - for the talk.

The senate - sending him on a murderous rampage.

SCHOOL

Today brings an explanation - of that horror in the school, at Hartford City, Indiana. When the school principal - killed two women teachers with a shotgun. Then, later - killed himself.

They say that school Principal Leonard Redden, highly respected in the community - suffered from a mental disturbance. With a delusion of persecution. Feeling - that small town gossip linked him, unjustly, with one of the school teachers. Blaming the other - for the talk.

The mania - sending him on a murderous rampage.

SOVIET-BRITAIN

British broadcasts beamed to Soviet Russia - no longer jammed. Moscow informing London, officially - that the practice of jamming would be stopped, immediately. Not unexpected - since the move was foreshadowed in a British-Soviet cultural agreement, concluded in London a couple of months ago. - capturing twenty-eight.

So now British broadcasts will go to the Russian people - without interference. Though it remains to be seen - if this applies to the Red satellites, also.

INDIA

The picture we had last night of the voting in the Indian province of Kerala - confirmed, with emphasis, today. A landslide victory - for the anti-Communists. With the count nearly complete, the anti-Communist coalition wins eighty-three seats - in the provincial legislature. The Reds - capturing twenty-eight.

The order doesn't seem to have had much effect. Because the coming of day - brought a new eruption of gunfire in the disputed area. Syrians - shooting at an Israeli patrol. The Israelis - responding with gunfire of their own.

The government of Israel claims - that the Syrians have been occupying the demilitarized zone. With soldiers - disguised as farmers.

ISRAEL

Last night, in Jerusalem, the Chairman of the U.N. Armistice Commission - ordered Syrian troops out of the village of Tawafik. Which is the demilitarized zone - between Israel and Syria. Tawafik - the scene of the battle between Syrians and Israelis on Sunday night.

The order doesn't seem to have had much effect. Because the coming of day - brought a new eruption of gunfire in the disputed area. Syrians - shooting at an Israeli patrol. The Israelis - responding with gunfire of their own.

The government of Israel claims - that the Syrians have been occupying the demilitarized zone. With soldiers - disguised as farmers.

EISENHOWER

At the White House news conference, today, the dominating subject was - the dispute over defense policies. With President Eisenhower making a sharp reply - to Air Force generals, who have been voicing criticism. Testifying - before a congressional committee.

For most of us, I suppose, the argument - can stand a bit of clarification. Reducing the whole thing - to simple terms.

It's a question of how to prevent an atomic attack. Both sides agreeing - on the main idea. Deter a possible aggressor - by threatening instant retaliation. A nuclear counter-blow - in return. American atomic power - as a deterrent.

But the contention of the Air Force critics is - that Soviet missile power, in a sudden stroke, might knock out our atomic bases. So that there could not be - any retaliation. Which would leave us - without any way to strike back. At the mercy of the enemy.

So our Strategic Air Command wants - an around-the-clock airborne bomber alert. Meaning, keep atomic bombers in the air at all times. Ready to strike - in retaliation. The point being - that bombers in the air could not be knocked out by a surprise missile assault.

That was the contention made, yesterday - by General Thomas Power, Strategic Air Commander - and General Bernard Schriever, Chief of Air Force Research. To which President Eisenhower, today, replied - that the around-the-clock alert of atomic bombers in the air is not needed at present. Because Soviet missile power is not great enough - to knock out all our atomic bases in one blow. Our power of retaliation from bases - not susceptible of being destroyed in a surprise attack.

The President was tart in commenting on those Air Force chiefs - who disagree. Saying - "too many of these generals have all sorts of ideas." General like talking with authority - on the subject of generals.