

L.T.-OLDS. THURSDAY, SEPT. 29, 1960

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

What a weird story came from the U.N. today! I wonder if Khrushchev's hands hurt, tonight, after all the pounding he did today at the U.N. And, maybe he's a bit hoarse.

Anyway, the boss of the Kremlin presented a spectacle - such as the U.N. has never seen before, as he pounded his desk with his fists, and shouted epithets - all during the speech by Prime Minister Macmillan. It's the first time in all of its fifteen years - that anything like this has happened at the U.N.

The first Khrushchev tantrum came - when Macmillan defended Dag Hammarskjold. The other delegates were applauding - until a terrific pounding attracted their attention to the Soviet delegation. It was Khrushchev - thumping loudly on his desk.

When Macmillan went on to explain - how Khrushchev torpedoed the Paris summit conference, the boss of the Kremlin slammed his desk, and shouted - "Don't send your spy planes to our country."

Among the delegates who looked around in astonishment- was India's Nehru.

MacMillan then took up the Congo crisis - and commended the U N action. Once more Nikita started hammering away. ^ MacMillan mentioned - disarmament. ^ This time,

Then when

Khrushchev smashed at his desk with both fists - and started

In fact - and rudely - to shout. ^ He shouted so loudly - that MacMillan paused. ^

Suavely the British Prime Minister suggested - that perhaps the head of the Soviet ~~is~~ delegation would like a translator? Khrushchev - subsided.

At the end of the speech - MacMillan received a standing ovation. This was when Khrushchev, at last - became silent. <sup>and</sup> <sup>no</sup> ~~He~~ remained seated - ~~without~~ ^ ~~^~~ pounding on his desk.

In spite of Khrushchev's antics, and MacMillan's amazement - the two world leaders are going ahead with tonight's personal meeting; ^ a meeting that nobody expects - will produce ~~very~~ much.

CUBA

Almost all American dependents are expected to be out of Cuba - by the weekend. Wives and children - returning home, at the advice of our State Department.

The reason?
~~The reason, of course is that~~ Castro is expected to step up his anti-American campaign.

He <sup>is</sup> described as <sup>angered</sup> ~~savage~~ - because of growing opposition inside Cuba. Five bombs exploded in Havana - during Castro's "welcome home" rally last night, <sup>and</sup> Today he set up a spy network - to comb Havana.

KENNEDY

The political campaign is beginning to ~~heat~~<sup>warm</sup> up - with both candidates punching harder.

Senator Kennedy, still barnstorming through New York state - is deriding Nixon's claim to experience. In Syracuse, Kennedy asked - why the crisis in Africa and Latin America erupted - after Nixon had visited both places? According to the Democratic candidate, his opponent ought to have pressed the administration - to act quickly on both continents. And in the other danger spots of the world --too.

After charging that the Republicans let American power and prestige slip - Kennedy went on to say that Nixon is trying, ~~to~~ in Kennedy's words, <sup>to</sup> "sugar coat the truth."

NIXON FOLLOW KENNEDY

Meanwhile, Vice President Nixon was throwing some haymakers of his own today ~~and~~ - in Kennedy's back yard. Nixon invaded Boston - and attacked Kennedy's <sup>performance</sup> ~~performance~~ in the Senate. Nixon calls Kennedy's party "a monumental failure" - in the post-election session of Congress, where the Democrats had a majority. As Nixon puts it - "The Democratic Congress rejected Senator Kennedy." Nixon thinks that America - ought to reject Kennedy.

Turning to his own party, the Vice President <sup>says</sup> ~~says~~ that the Eisenhower administration <sup>has</sup> lived up to its promises. Keeping America - strong. Keeping the American dollar - sound.

EISENHOWER

President Eisenhower's first major campaign speech - coincides with personal tragedy. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower flew to Chicago four hours ahead of schedule - because of his mother-in-law's death. Mrs. ~~Elivera~~ Doud <sup>who</sup> passed away at her Denver home - last night at the age of eighty-two. As Mrs. Eisenhower was flying on to Denver, Governor McNichols said today - "Colorado has lost its number one citizen."

MISSILE

The "Tita<sup>y</sup>~~A~~" missile launched at Cape Canaveral today - is called a failure. But it was a spectacular failure.

The ninety-eight foot "Tita<sup>y</sup>~~A~~", shaped like a thirty calibre bullet - blasted up from its launching pad. Arched - six hundred miles into the sky. Thundered - six thousand miles down the Atlantic range. And came down - off ~~th~~ the coast of South Africa.

Sounds like - a rather impressive performance.

But the point is - ~~that~~ it missed its target. The Air Force was ~~was~~ aiming at an area - far south of the Cape of Good Hope. Trying for a record shoot - of ten thousand miles, <sup>and</sup> falling short - by four thousand miles.

PELL

The winner of Rhode Island's Democratic primary is Claiborne Pell - who ran up a two-to-one majority over his closest opposition. The result is something of a surprise - because many old pros in the party didn't take Pell <sup>s</sup>eriously. He's a Newport socialite - who is supposed to know more about first families than about voters. During the campaign, Pell's opponents called him - a social butterfly. Said his program was - "ballrooms, balloons, and bumper stickers." But he stumped the state - and ran off with the nomination.

HOOVER

The National Football Foundation announces - the winner of this year's gold medal. It goes to - former President Herbert Hoover.

Was Mr. Hoover ever an all American? Some of us think he's the No. 1 All-American in another broader sense, but in football he didn't make the varsity - at Stanford. However he was the team manager. Around Palo Alto, they'll tell you - Herbert Hoover was the hardest working student manager the Stanford team ever had

Over the years, he has followed the pigskin parade. An enthusiastic baseball and football fan. He regards football as a great character builder. That's one reason - he's happy to see so many colleges with football teams. The other reason - he likes to see a rugged sport, which he can discuss in technical terms with any coach.

So the National Football Foundation Gold Medal - this year goes to Leland, Stanford's former football manager, the nation's former chief executive - Herbert Hoover.

Beauty - has been depressed by her marital troubles, she swallowed a bottle - of sleeping tablets, and collapsed in the garden of a house in the Riviera.

She was found by the gardener - whose description of the scene sounds like something out of a Barbet movie. Picture Brigitte Bardot in white shorts, and a white shirt - lying under a rose bush. The famous blue eyes - all closed. The famous blonde hair - disheveled. Brigitte - unconscious, but ~~apparently~~ <sup>still</sup> alive. Her suicide attempt - a failure.

Poor little Brigitte - she tried to end it all.

BRIGITTE

Tonight the French Queen of the movies - is pronounced out of danger. Brigitte Bardot, resting quietly in Nice - after her suicide attempt. The dazzling blonde beauty - ~~has been~~ depressed by her marital troubles, ~~so she~~ swallowed a bottle - of sleeping tablets, and collapsed in the garden of a ~~big~~ villa on the Riviera.

She was found by the gardener - whose description of the scene sounds like something out of a Bardot movie.

Picture Brigitte Bardot in white shorts, and a white shirt - lying under a rose bush. The famous blue eyes - ~~is~~ closed.

The famous blonde hair - disheveled. Brigitte - unconscious, but ~~very much~~ <sup>still</sup> alive. ~~Her suicide attempt - a failure.~~ <sup>A sad story, Dick.</sup>

Poor little Brigitte - she tried to end it all.

WILLIAMS

~~Up~~ In Boston, they are <sup>still talking</sup> ~~still buzzing~~ about - Ted Williams. The great slugger's retirement, - ~~was~~, that was expected, <sup>but</sup> the way he said farewell - is something ~~all~~ baseball fans will remember for a long time to come.

Ted Williams - playing his final game for the Red Sox, Taking his place in the batter's box at Fenway Park - for the last time, Smashing a home-run over the Red Sox bull pen - more than four hundred feet away. A typical Ted Williams homer, <sup>and a</sup> dramatic wind-up -- to one of the greatest careers in baseball history.

~~Home run~~ Number twenty-nine - for the season, <sup>and</sup> Number five-hundred-and-twenty-one - for his career. Ted Williams, taking into retirement - third place on the all-time list of home-run hitters. Only ~~Babe~~ Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx - knocked more than five hundred and twenty one baseballs out of the park.
