The vendetta between Russia and Red China - seems to be a matter of - mathematics. Moscow now claims to have the support of - fifty-two Communist parties. Fifty two out of ninety. A strong majority, until you consider that only a few weeks ago Khrushchev was ~~boasting about~~ <sup>claiming</sup> - the allegiance of seventy Red organizations around the world. By his own count - he's lost twenty or so. And the trend could throw the majority - to Mao Tse Tung.

Evidently that's why Khrushchev wants a Red summit conference - now. The Boss of the Kremlin, hoping to boot Mao - out of the Communist movement; <sup>do it</sup> ~~Before~~ Mao is strong enough - to <sup>do it to him.</sup> ~~give him the boot.~~

WOMEN

47
The dispatch from Moscow doesn't say - just how Helen and Roberta managed it. I mean, blithely driving their house on wheels across the border - from Turkey into Russia, And continuing - on to Moscow.

Helen Huffman and Roberta Bobba have been around a lot ~~almost everywhere~~ in their house on wheels, including twenty one nations - of Africa and the Middle East. Their tour of Turkey brought them - to the Soviet border. And that was when - their journey beyond the Iron Curtain began.

Helen and Roberta, jolting along through the ~~Soviet provinces~~ <sup>U.S.S.R.</sup> for ff fifteen hundred miles. Creating a sensation - at every stop. ~~Because the Russians~~ <sup>insisted</sup> on seeing the inside of their traveling home. "Over eleven thousand Russian visitors" - according to Helen Huffman. Trouble? Not a bit of it. The two <sup>gals</sup> Americans found the Russians - friendly and interested.

So - they've reached Moscow - after one of the strangest odysseys of our time. Helen and Roberta, barreling through Russia - in their house on wheels.

MOHAMMED ALI

Mohammed Ali removed his shoes -- and entered a Cairo mosque to say a prayer to Allah. That sounds like the Middle East, where untold numbers of Mohammed Alis have done the same thing -- since the days of the Prophet.

Ah, but this Mohammed Ali -- comes from Louisville, Kentucky. Well known for his habit -- of reeling off impromptu verse, in English, not in Arabic.

Cassius Clay in Cairo. Surrounded by -- enthusiastic crowds, where today he was regaling them with the story of how he became heavyweight champ, and adding that he's a faithful Moslem. He also says he'll come up with a poem about it -- as soon as he finds a word to rhyme with Egypt.

CONGO

In the Congo, the oddity of Red witch doctors -- has slipped into the background, pushed aside -- by a much more potent African influence. Namely -- the age-old tribal feuds of what used to be the dark continent. In this case -- the Nigweshe-Bashi against the Bafuleros.

For centuries, the Bafulero tribe has held the territory -- around Lake Tanganyika. The Nigweshe-Bashi to the West -- in Kivu Province. The area between them, a no-man's land -- wherethey often fought pitched battles with spears and poisoned arrows. Which seems to be about to happen again. The rebels against the Congolese government -- are Bafuleros, who have been pushing through the jungle-toward Bukavu. And now the Negweshe-Bashi -- are marching to meet them. Ordered by their queen -- to drive back their tribal enemies. Congolese Queen Astrida -- of the Nigweshe-Bashi. It's all yours, Dick!

SOUTH KOREA

The number of South Korean cities rocked by violence - has grown to eight. All of them turned ~~back~~ into chaos - by rampaging mobs. Demonstrators - rioting through the streets. Fighting pitched battles - with the ~~police~~ police and the military. Storming into - government buildings. Disrupting - communications.

The object of the demonstrators - to topple the regime of General Park Chung Hee. But the General is still in ~~control~~ control, And ~~he~~ vows to end the violence - by imposing martial law. ~~beginning with~~ He already has ~~the~~ fifty thousand soldiers ~~in~~ in Seoul.

G.O.P.

Are you playing the new numbers game? Trying to figure out -- exactly how many delegates are safely in Barry Goldwater's pocket? Also how many more -- he may be expected to collar? And how close to a first-ballot nomination he will be -- when he goes to the convention, in San Francisco?

According to the United Press, he has four hundred and forty-eight as of now. And, will have at least six hundred and nineteen -- by the time the convention opens. Though to beat -- when he needs only six hundred and fifty-five.

Which means that some Republicans have just one thing on their minds at the moment -- how to "stop Goldwater!" But no one has yet proposed a strategy -- around which the other candidates can unite. Not even Nelson Rockefeller who was the only rival to Goldwater in California where he lost to the Arizonan by that narrow margin. Rockefeller, however -- repeats that he intends to keep fighting until the convention picks its candidate.

A warning note today from Richard Nixon -- who says that a "stop Goldwater" drive could wreck the G.O.P. But he says it may not be necessary -- because Senator Goldwater actually hasn't the nomination all wrapped up -- not yet.

TYPHOID

The typhoid epidemic in Scotland could reach the proportions of - a national disaster. So says doctor Ian Macqueen - the Aberdeen Health Officer. Referring to the scourge - that is afflicting <sup>the</sup> ~~the~~ great Scottish cities:-Aberdeen, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Dundee - ~~reporting~~ more than three hundred cases ~~the~~ despite all the precautions ~~4~~ taken by the authorities, ~~Rushing~~ suspected victims - to the hospital, ~~Keeping~~ children - home from school, ~~Warning~~ the people to watch - what they eat and drink.

According to Scottish Doctor Macqueen - "this is probably Aberdeen's day ~~at~~ of destiny". Meaning, that if no new cases are ~~so~~ reported - ~~that could mean~~ ~~that~~ the Scots <sup>may</sup> have licked <sup>the</sup> ~~this~~ epidemic, ~~of typhoid~~.

ISLANDS

~~I suppose that~~ The latest agreement between France and Spain ~~is~~ <sup>seems</sup> symbolic. The agreement by which France will establish a satellite tracking station - in the Canary Islands ^ A companion to the installations that Portugal has okayed - in the Azores.

Symbolic - because the Canaries and the Azores will become part of the exploration of our time, the exploration - of space, just as they were during the exploring voyages - of the Age of Discovery <sup>When</sup> The Canaries <sup>were</sup> a jumping off point for the Portuguese - as they pushed down the coast of Africa, <sup>on the way to</sup> ~~rounded~~ the Cape of Good Hope, and <sup>on to</sup> ~~reached~~ India. The Azores were the last islands at which Columbus touched - before heading West across the Atlantic toward the New World.

Now, reaching - not toward India and America - with an assist from ^ The Canaries - and the Azores.
