Disarmament. The Secretary noting - that Soviet Russia has indicated a will to consider disarmament.

"Let us hope," said he " that these indications can be translated into concrete action. Making possible - limitations of armaments, which are dependable, and not a fraud. "

But there was praise for the new attitude Soviet Russia is taking. Secretary Dulles noted that Moscow now seeks diplomatic and economic relations with West Germany. And gives - encouraging signs of making a peace treaty with Japan. He spoke of - improved relations between East and West. Which, he thought, might be - "the beginning of an era." President Eisenhower immediately instructed Secretary of State Dulles to take the matter up with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at San Francisco. Dulles did, and Molotov replied - he was unaware of the incident. But would communicate with Moscow, and give a prompt reply.

More than a century ago, France - conquered Algeria. With a series of arduous campaigns. Large scale military expeditions - bringing the Algerian tribes under control.

The chief of which is - Algeria. Legally - a part of

Former Premier Mendes-France tried to get Frenchmen

- soda pop.

FRANCE-ALCOHOL

The government at Paris, today, urged Frenchmen to drink - soda pop. A campaign launched by Prime Minister Edgar Faure. Soft drinks - to be put up in bottles decorated with the French National colors. Red, White and Blue - same as ours. The patriotic note.

So the Foreign Secretary missed the greeting at the dock. All he can do is - attend a banquet of State - for Queen Elizabeth, tonight.

QUEEN

British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan intended to participate in the welcome for Queen Elizabeth - at Oslo today. He was in San Francisco, at the United Nations party - a long way to Norway.

So he flew a quarter of the way around the world, taking a Scandinavian Air line across the North Polar region. Quite a sky voyage - to attend the reception of the Queen. So did he make it ? Was he there on time ?

The North Pole airliner arrived at Copenhagen , Denmark- right on schedule. Then MacMillan was to take a connecting plane - to fly across to Oslo, ~~that's~~ a mere few miles, ~~but~~ the connecting plane was an hour late.

So the Foreign Secretary missed the greeting at the dock. All he can do is - attend a banquet of State - for Queen Elizabeth, tonight. →

King Haakon was there at the dock - tall and erect in spite of his eighty-three years. Welcoming the Queen at the "pier of honor".

Only one thing went wrong - a touch of comic relief. A Norwegian sailor fell off the "pier of honor". Landing in the water - with a splash. Then - fished out by the "honor guard".

DEBT

The Ways and Means Committee of the House, today, voted unanimously - to extend the two-hundred-and-eighty - one billion dollar limit of the Public debt. The permanent level is two-hundred-and-seventy-five billions. But, last year, that was lifted - temporarily. With the provision - that, after a year, the limit would go back to the original figure. The administration wants the temporary hike to be continued for another year, and the Committee says - okay.

The decision was made following testimony by Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, who said - it will be a tight squeeze, this year, to keep the debt from rising above even the temporary limit.

So the Korean Don ---o--- has to be set free - to go philandering again. My father, who is a member of the House, said

KOREA -DON JUAN

In Seoul, there's a Korean - Don Juan. The number of wronged ladies - eighty. Which would not have been bad for the original Don Juan of Spain.

He impersonated an officer of the Korean Marines, and went around among the Korean beauties, spreading - promises of marriage. Eighty sorrowful maidens - deluded.

The police are perplexed - about making a case against him. Not that this Korean heartbreaker denies the charge. He not only confesses - he brags about it. Telling - how he done 'em wrong.

The trouble is - the mournful damsels refuse to testify against him. Too embarrassed. A number of them are daughters of prominent Korean families. So the Korean Don Juan may ~~have to~~ be set free - to go philandering again.

BOY

On Salisbury Plain, in England, today - they found three - year - old Johnny Johnson. Missing - for sixty-four hours. The son - of a British army corporal, stationed at a camp on Salisbury Plain. The boy - having strayed away from a family group.

The search, for two days and a half, was dramatized by the character of Salisbury Plain.

Historic site - once a campaign ground for the Roman Legions. When Britain was - a Roman colony. On Salisbury Plain, you still find - the trenches and earthworks, constructed in the days of the Caesars.

~~much~~ much later - a maneuver area for American troops, in World War Two. Slit trenches and foxholes - every where. All complicating the hunt for the missing three-year-old.

— after 64 hrs —
They found little Johnny, today in a patch of buttercups. In the company - of two horses and a dog. →

When his mother asked him where he had been ,
he replied: " I saw a bow-wow and a horsey."

It would seem that Johnny had strayed away with the dog and the two horses - which, apparently, had stayed with him all the time he was lost.

EISENHOWER-NEWH-AMPSHIRE

President Eisenhower was at Franconia, New Hampshire, today, helping ~~us~~ celebrate - the one-hundred-and-fiftieth birthday of the "Great Stone Face." It's been that long since New England settlers first noted - the mountain, shaped like the face of an old man .

~~According to geologists, they might better be celebrating - the two hundred millionth anniversary of that "Old Man of the Mountain." The artist who carved the face - nature.~~

~~The vast work of sculpture - accomplished back in geological time. When the granite, which makes up so much of New England - was crystallizing with huge cracks and fissures - that formed the basic pattern.~~

NAVY

"The tongue", says Dr. MacCormac, "should be checked out, and studied with a magnifying glass," which you often give the plus - when the patient is in a maximum run-down condition.

Sometimes better than X-ray or laboratory tests - says the doctor from Scotland.

DOCTOR

Here's a thing typical of the past - which you hardly ever see any more. The doctor saying to the patient: "Put out your tongue!" The patient sticks out his tongue as far as he can, and the doctor takes a good look.

Old, obsolete medical practice. But, it should be restored - says Doctor Alistair MacCrone of Glasgow. The eminent Scottish physician is in Toronto, where today, he said - that the old-fashioned way is useful, and helpful.

"The tongue", says Dr. MacCrone, "should be stuck out, and studied with a magnifying glass." Which can often give the clue - when the patient is in a ~~KURDKNER~~ run-down condition.

Sometimes better than X-ray or laboratory tests - says the doctor from Scotland.

BARK

The barking champion - is not a dog. In Washington, Miss Sally Herman defeated five dogs - at their own game. She barked better - and got the job.

On Saturday, the National Symphony Orchestra is giving a premiere performance of the "Hudson River Suite" by Ferdie ~~Grofe~~ (pronounced Growfey). One part of the music - describing Rip Van Winkle's adventure, ~~and~~ calling - for the bark of Rip Van Winkle's dog. In the try-out, Sally gave with a bow-wow bark, so perfect - she was immediately engaged for the part.

Hugh, Today, she said : " I bark mostly for my own amusement - and, occasionally, at parties, I bark for my friends." ~~Would you call that - putting on the dog?~~

~~Anyway, the symphonic music will include the barking of Rip Van Winkle's dog. Although, you'll have to imagine the wagging of the tail. Which rather suggests the bark-rollo from the "Tales of Hoffman."~~
