

OIL

L.T. - Delco. Fri, Nov, 30 - '56.

President Eisenhower moves to see that western Europe gets the oil it needs, ~~and quickly.~~ ~~Mr. Eisenhower~~ Authorizing the Department of Interior to let fifteen oil companies combine their efforts to meet Europe's needs. This means ~~that~~ European governments are now assured on the most critical problem facing them at home - what to do about fuel for the winter months.

President Eisenhower made his decision after consultations ~~with~~ Secretary of State Dulles and Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr. the White House has not said so - but in Washington the belief is that the President has ~~at~~ received private assurances from both the British and the French - that they will evacuate ~~an~~ Egypt - in compliance with the United Nations resolution.

oil - for - Europe

Here's how the plan is expected to work! - The fifteen

American oil companies <sup>to supply the oil, and</sup> ~~will produce as much as they can to~~ ~~meet Europe's needs.~~ Our government will undoubtedly loan money to nations that need it - to pay for the oil. This could mount as high as six hundred million dollars. And, our government will also bring out oil tankers from its "moth ball fleet" - to help meet the transportati problem.

The Presidential announcemnt is having an effect here as well as abroad. Europe to get eighty percent of its normal supply. On the New York Stock Exchange - oil stocks went up today.

FOLLOW OIL

Word from London that Britain has started withdrawing Naval forces from Near Eastern waters. The Admiralty calling it - "redisposition". Warships - moved elsewhere. The first of the Naval units from Suez to arrive at home ports in Britain, on Monday.

All of which coincides with British reports - that Anglo-French land forces will be out of Egypt, possibly by Christmas.

I have a letter from South America that echoes that magical old word, "El Dorado". From Charles Perry Weimer, who has devoted years - to picture-making in the Andes and the jungles of the Amazon. So now he writes, telling of a strange discovery. With undertones of Inca gold and El Dorado.

In the region of ~~am~~ the headwaters of the Amazon, he heard from local indians - about some ~~strange~~ strange ruins. So he made an arduous journey through the jungle, and here is what he came upon.

"There was a dark mass about two hundred feet ahead of us," he writes. "The central stone structure was about twenty feet high, forty feet long, and fifteen feet wide. Was it a fort, a tomb, a temple? The stones, he goes on "were fitted carefully all around and built up in the shape of a mound, ~~strengthened~~ But, in the center, with the top open to the sky - was a huge, circular well."

Perry Weimer says - the well was thirty to forty feet deep. At the bottom - a great stone slab. Which they tapped, and it sounded - as hollow as a drum.

"What was below?" He continues. "A chamber of some sort - which may have been used for storing the gold of the Inca empire?"

All kinds of ideas popped into my ~~am~~ head. Could this be the far famed El Dorado?"

He says he was not able to investigate further - having no means of excavation. But Perry Weiner is sure - that he found a structure built by the Incas of old. Of remarkable archaeological interest, at least. And maybe - El Dorado.

In Cuba, opposition to President Batista exploded into violence today - when armed bands raided government installations in three cities - including Santiago.

The rebels are members of an underground movement against Batista. They say that they are determined to be, in their words, "either heroes or martyrs" - in the struggle to throw off a regime that they regard as tyrannical.

The police were caught completely by surprise - when the rebels attacked police headquarters and the customs building in Santiago. The buildings were set afire during a brief gun battle - and the police headquar<sup>r</sup>ers burned to the ground.

In another place, the rebels attacked an army arsenal - and escaped with a lot of guns and ammunition. <sup>They</sup> ~~and~~ they broke into a jail - setting free more than two hundred prisoners. Some of the prisoners accepted arms - and joined the rebels.-

~~but others acted more as you'd expect convicts to act - they~~ ~~simply fled into the hills.~~
They said, thanks much, gracias, and fled to!

DILLON

There is as much anti-American feeling in France as in Britain. So says our Ambassador, Douglas Dillon, arriving home for consultations with President Eisenhower. He says, the French people, usually friendly to the United States - are now alarmed by the oil shortage caused by the Suez crisis. Then he adds: - "they don't have any oil - and they don't understand why we just can't turn on a tap."

Altho' some American and Venezuelan oil is going to France its' not nearly enough. As a result Soviet oil may be accepted during the winter. Creating a favorable economic situation for the French Reds.

SUEZ

For the first time in history - an international army has been thrust between two belligerents. Today United Nations troops moved into the no man's land between the Anglo-French and Egyptian forces - to keep them from any more fighting. General Burns, with one-hundred-and-twenty six Danish infantrymen - who are there to keep the peace. The Danes entering no man's land in full battle gear, - wearing the blue helmets of the U.N. British troops pulling back to make way for them.

So the U N has achieved its first step in the Suez crisis - to separate the two forces, and put the Canal under international control.

U N

Here's the latest from the U N. Syria charges that the ~~half division of~~ French troops and British <sup>now</sup> are in Israel-- an alleged Israeli, French, British build-up against Syria.

PRISONERS

Prisoners-of-War, will be flown from Israel to Egypt on Sunday - aboard Italian planes. Twenty-seven of Nasser's men captured in the Sinai fighting - to be taken by air directly from Tel Aviv to Cairo. This, the first flight between the two nations since the end of the Palestine War - except for, those made by representatives of the United Nations.

At the same time, Israel announces that she may release five thousand other Egyptian prisoners within the next few days. Leaving about a ~~That will leave only one~~ thousand still in Israeli hands. ~~They're~~ to be exchanged later for Israeli troops captured by the Egyptians.

BUDAPEST

A dispatch from Budapest tells of Hungarian labor leaders demanding freedom of the press. The dispatch comes from United Press correspondent - Russell Jones - the only American newsmen still in the battered Hungarian capital.

The Jones dispatch describes the labor leaders as demanding permission to publish their own newspaper - to make public their demands. At the same time, they are asking the nation not to buy papers printed by the Communist controlled press. This boycott to last until the puppet Kadar regime lifts its iron censorship.

At the same time, The Workers Council has dropped its demand for a conference with former Premier Nagy. Kadar flatly refused to agree to that - and eventually the workers gave way. But they are still insisting that all Russians must go. Threatening to plunge Hungary into anarchy, if they continue to be ruled by Soviet bayonets.

As for the Kadar regime - it continues to insist that all who participated in the rebellion be punished. The question is how will Kadar carry out that threat?

representatives of more than a dozen other nations - on the contents of a new UN resolution. Meanwhile U.S.

We noted in view of Soviet stalling on the issue - in which they are backed by their puppet, Premier Kadar.

Secretary General Hammarskjöld still has no answer to his request that U N observers be allowed into Hungary. Nearly four weeks have gone by since the U N instructed him to make the request - yet today he said he had no information about whether Hungary intends to agree to his request or not. The dispute says that the Secretary General obviously is losing patience - and may make a scathing report, perhaps naming and others -

That's why we are preparing a new resolution.

Observers at the U N believe it will ask the Secretary

General to send U N observers into countries near Hungary -

UNITED NATIONS

In the United Nations, our delegation is leading another move for the condemnation of Soviet brutality in Hungary. Henry Cabot Lodge, holding conferences with representatives of more than a dozen other nations - on the contents of a new ~~xxx~~ resolution. Meanwhile U.N.

~~We acted in view of Soviet stalling on the issue. -~~
~~in which they are backed by their puppet, Premier Kadar.~~

Secretary General Hammarskjold still has no ~~xxxx~~ answer to his request that U N observers be allowed into Hungary. Nearly four weeks have gone by since the U N instructed him to make the request - yet today he said he had no information about whether Hungary intends to agree to his request or not. The ~~xxxx~~ dispatch says that the Secretary General obviously is losing patience - and <sup>soon</sup> may make a scathing report, ~~pretty soon~~ and others -
That's why <sup>we</sup> are preparing a new resolution.

Observers at the U N believe it will ask the Secretary General to send U N observers into countries near Hungary - to gather eyewitness reports about what is happening inside the stricken nation. The reports, to be used for a full scale ~~any~~ analysis of ~~just~~ what the Russians <sup>have been up to,</sup> ~~are doing~~

RELIEF

So far Americans have spent ten million dollars on relief for Hungarian refugees. And the sum may go as high as thirty million. The money contributed by our government, the Red Cross, religious organizations, and private groups. All now to continue their work under the leadership of Tracy Voorhees, selected by President Eisenhower to coordinate the drive.

The organizations connected with Hungarian relief say they are grateful for the response. The word is - don't stop giving! More money will be needed to take care of refugees during the winter.

RUSSIA

The cold war is on again. Today top Russians, diplomats, press, and radio moscow, were denouncing the West and its allies - for acts in different parts of the world, from Austria to Syria.

Obviously, word on this has gone out from the Kremlin. The Russian people told they face a conspiracy of agressors.

For example, the Moscow press is insisting that American aid for Hungarian refugees has only on object - American air bases inside Austria. That we are flying planes into Austria - not to bring supplies to suffering people, but to build up air fields near the Iron Curtain.

Turkey is under fire - because her Foreign Minister is in London for talks about the Syrian crisis. The Russians, saying that Turkey has joined a conspiracy with Iraq and the western imperialists - to invade Syria - the nation of the Middle East that we hear has been getting Soviet arms.

~~according to Western intelligence.~~

There is one change in emphasis in this Soviet propaganda. The Russians, making a big play for Greece - with offers of support for the Greek ~~an~~ claim to Cyprus. The Kremlin, waging a propaganda war at every point where it thinks it can gain <sup>any</sup> ~~some~~ advantage.

~~What does this return to the cold war mean? Well,~~
~~in~~ London ~~they~~ interpret <sup>this</sup> ~~it~~ as a sign that Khrushchev is getting nervous - ~~an~~ over world-wide condemnation of Russian brutality in Hungary - and the loss of a possible foothold in Egypt.

STRIKE

A Federal Judge approves a government request to extend the Taft-Hartley injunction. Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan saying he'll sign a new court order by next Tuesday - when the injunction expires. The court order, to extend for seventy days the period during which the strike must be called off.

Judge Bryan says that any organized slow-down on the piers - will be interpreted as violating the restraining order now in effect. This warning, a reaction to charges that dock workers have been holding up ship schedules - due to resentment over the injunction.

FIGHT

There's one unusual angle to tonight's big fight in Chicago. Whoever wins will set a record for age. The new heavyweight champion either the oldest, or the youngest man ever to hold the title. Will it be old Archie Moore who says he's only thirty nine? Or will it be young Floyd Patterson, just twenty one? <sup>11</sup> This afternoon his wife gave birth to a baby girl.

PLANE

One of our planes hit a mountain peak in Germany today. A flying box car, en route from its base in England, to an airfield in Germany. It hit the treetops on a Mountain some twenty-six hundred feet high. A branch of one tree punctured the cockpit, and showered the pilot, Lieutenant Hames Jarret of Memphis, Tennessee, with glass.

In spite of that he managed to pull up the nose of the plane. At the same time he ordered the nine men aboard to jump. By the time the plane got to four thousand feet, they had all cleared out - all except the pilot. Lieutenant Jarrett stayed at the controls, and finally brought the plane down at an airfield, under its own power. The other nine, picked up by military police after landing in a forest. Some cuts and bruises - but no serious injuries.
