L.T. -OLDS. WEDNESDAY. AUGUST 9. 1961.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

Have you been following - the latest hi-jacking of another American airliner? This time a Pan-American jet - worth six million dollars. It was enroute from Mexico City to Guatemala - with seventy two passengers aboard. And - a crew of nine.

A gunman, entered the cockpit - threatened pilot
Carl Ballard of Huntsville, Texas. Forcing him to fly
- to Havana. Which Captain Ballard had to do - to protect his passengers. Landing his plane on the jet runway - at the Cuban capital. Passengers and crew all safe.

President Kennedy promptly forwarded a note to Castro - by way of the Swiss Embassy in Havana. Demanding immediate release - of the plane, and those on board.

Apart from that - the President had nothing to say.

Castro's reply "the pilot allowed to take off with everybody on board except the hi-jacker.

Meanwhile Capitol Hill has been ringing with exasperated oratory. Suggestions on how to handle hijackers. Many members of Congress, calling for a blockade of Cuba - if any more American planes are taken over by Castro's gunmen. And the members of Congress are unanimous - that a strong bill must be written, setting a penalty of life imprisonment - possibly death for hi-jacking.

w w that he may have closed every excape hatch

Rerais an interesting point - succepting the Yunks analysis to When President Kennedy first ands it plate that the west would not surpender - Expushater auddenty vegen to happened in between? The guess is that threatener uninemia realized - he's gone too far to have back. He has to along secretary of State Rusk is not taking Khrushchev fave you heard at his word. I guess you all know what the Soviet boss said at the Kremlin reception for Cosmonaut Titov! - Khrushchev, repeating once more - that he definitely will sign that separate treaty with is his East German puppets. Adding that he doesn't believe it will lead to war.

Secretary Rusk has many reasons for feeling - that Khrushchev isn't as confident as he sounds. One reason the Soviet Dictator apparently has used up all his room for diplomatic am maneuvering. He's talked so long and so loudly about the treaty - that he may have closed every escape hatch

once open to him.

Here's an interesting point - supporting the Rusk analysis: - When President Kennedy first made it plain that the West would not surrender - Khrushchev suddenly began to talk softly. But now - he's as belligerent as ever. What happened in between? The guess is that Khrushchev suddenly realized - he's gone too far to turn back. He has to sign the treaty now - whether he likes it or not. So he might as well insist - that he likes it.

At any rate, Dean Rusk is warning the West to get ready for a showdown on Berlin - this fall.

EAST GERMANY FOLLOW RUSK

patrols.

Today an East German refugee arriving in West Berlin remarked :- "the Communists are as bad as the Nazis." This, a reference to - the anti-refugee measures taken by East Germany. Remember how Nazi Germany harrassed those who wanted to get out? WEIL Khrushchev's East German puppets are using - the same technique. Armed patrols, moving constantly along the routes - to West Berlin. Spies. reporting to the police on - East Germans preparing for a race to freedom. Many who manage to reach the border are being told harshly - to go home. Home - to East Germany. Home Leaving their money and other valuables - with the border

Nevertheless, an incredible number of refugees continue to get through. Another am record, set today - one thousand nine hundred and twenty six. Within twenty four hours, that many people in Communist East Germany - "voted for freedom with their feet."

The Defense Appropriation Bill okayed by a joint

Senate-House conference today - produced only one disputed point. The question of - civil faxes defense. President

Kennedy is asking for over two hundred million - to build shelters and improve our warning system. The samps conferees, unable to agree on this - sending it back for further study.

The rest of the bill - was quickly approved.

Earmarking forty six billion - for everything from rockets to helicopters.

MANEUVERS

Ont A massive battle is swaying across the back woods of Carolina - tonight. A simulated battle - that is.

"Exercise swift strike" - moving ahead according to plan.

They seized key points on the ground - and today were being supplied by planes arriving at the rate of one a minute.

The Generals involved in "exercise swift strike" maintain - this is one of the most successful war games they've ever seen. The U S Army, limbering up - getting ready for the real thing.

The Secretary of Agriculture pegs the price support for wheat - at two dollars a bushel. Orville Freeman, moving the government subsidy up from seventy-five percent of parity - to eighty-four percent. At the same time, cutting wheat acreage - below the present minimum of fifty-five million acres. These terms, to go into effect - if our farmers decide to accept them at the forthcoming referendum.

Meanwhile, there's an item on wheat - from our neighbors to the North. The Canadians have been selling their grain - behind the Iron Curtain and one shipment get caught in - the rivalry between Russia and Red China.

Mao Tse Tung, buying two million bushels of Canadian wheat. Ordering delivery to - Albania. The Dictator of Red China, protecting his European satellite - from an economic blockade by the Soviet Union. Another indication of how badly split - the Communist empire is.

As expected, President Kennedy has moved into the wage dispute between- the Met and its orchestra. The President, directing Secretary of Labor Goldberg - to mediate if he can. Whereupon, Secretary Goldberg phoned the head of the Union - and General Manager Rudolf Bing. Specific suggestions - by Washington? No word on this - yet. Merely an emphatic assertion - that President Kennedy wants the Met to open its doors this season. As do - opera fans, and over the country.

The weather story from Iowa can be judged - from this: Stratton Creek to usually narrow enough - to jump across, fonight a raging torrent - a thousand feet wide.

Reason - a flash flood caused by eleven inches of rain. Rivers and streams, rising high minum above flood crest - sending a deluge over the surrounding countryside.

The force of the rampaging water, so great - it swept cars off highway Thirty One near Washta, Iowa. The highway itself is under two feet of water.

FILIBUSTER

Texas Oilman Lawrence O'Connor - must feel rather relieved tonight. After all, its quite an experience - when you be the object of a filibuster on Capitol Hill.

O'Connor, appointed to the federal power commission

- by President Kennedy. But Senator William Proxmire decided to interrupt Senate confirmation - by means of a filibuster.

The Wisconsin Democrat, holding the floor - for twenty-six hours. Contending until he was harman hourse, that the appointment would be - a victory for the gas and oil interests

The Proxmire talkathon, magnificent - but in vain. The

not for underplay

Senate, confirming O'Connor - who is given to see the end of the filibuster against him.

In Madison, Wisconsin, the law finally caught up with - "Little Red Robbing Hood". The young lady who made a practice of wearing - a red hood, that showed nothing but her eyes. Reason - no, not fashion. It was robbery. The masked lady - holding up taxicabs. Giving the drivers a look at - nothing but her red mask. And her pistol. The scheme, working until one brinky cabby refused to put his hands up. Instead, he jerked the gun away from his mysterious passenger - and collared her until the police arrived.

Today a Madison Judge sentenced Sandra Wick - to So, off she goes to Joul two years. But the clink and not her grandmothers house 4 for Madison's Little Red Riding Hood - I mean "Little Red Robbing Hood."
