

L.T. - DELCO. WEDNESDAY, AUG. 12, 1959.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

The Senate today upheld the President's veto - of the housing bill, the measure to put up one billion three-hundred-and-seventy-five million dollars - the bill backed by the Democrats. The President - thinking it excessive.

The Democratic leadership deciding - they'd overturn the veto, if they could.

The result - a defeat for them today. The vote - a majority of ninety-five to forty, but - nine votes short of the necessary two-thirds. The Republicans backed by Southern Democrats - gave the President the victory. Preserving his record of never having had a veto tossed out in his nearly seven years in office.

SUB LABOR

The battle of the labor bill <sup>is</sup> now raging in the House of Representatives. The first major vote -- taken this afternoon. The legislators rejecting the mild bill endorsed by the A F L - C I O. This - the weakest of three measures. The defeat overwhelming, ~~two-hundred-and~~ ~~forty-five~~ to ~~one-hundred-and-thirty-two~~.

Which clears the way for the real show down -- between the tough bill for labor reform supported by President Eisenhower, ~~And~~ the middle of the road measure - backed by the Democrats. The decision to come -- tomorrow or Friday. ~~Amid~~ storms of oratory.

EISENHOWER STRIKE

President Eisenhower will not intervene in the steel strike ** in advance of the arrival of Khrushchev. ~~Trying~~ to end the labor trouble ** before the arrival of the Soviet Premier.

The suggestion was made by the Magazine Iron Age, organ of the The Iron Age editor ~~which~~ argued - that it might be embarrassing to have Khrushchev here in the middle of the huge strike.

But at his Gettysburg news conference, today, the President called the contention -- "a shallow kind of thinking".

Said he: "Don't we want Mr. Khrushchev to see this country as a freedom-loving place? Why should we worry too much about the fact that people can strike -- in this country?"

EISENHOWER KHRUSHCHEV

President Eisenhower has given instructions - that Khrushchev be invited to visit some of our centers of national defense. Take a look - at American military might. Adding - that it's up to the Soviet Premier - <sup>take a look.</sup> To say - if he wants to,

This transpired at the Presidential news <sup>conference</sup> ~~CONFERENCE~~ today, which was held at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The President <sup>now</sup> in residence at his Gettysburg farm.

He told the news reporters that, most of all, he wants Khrushchev to see our peace-time accomplishments.

Housing developments, for example. To show the man from Moscow - that ordinary Americans have homes as good as the one ~~that~~ that was shown at the American exhibition over there, which ~~is~~ Soviet propaganda derided ~~as~~ as being much too good for the common people over here.

"I want him to see a happy people," said the President. "I want him to see a free people, doing exactly as they choose - within the limits that they must not transgress the rights of others."

CUBA

In Cuba, today the Castro government suspended all telephone communication -- between Havana and the province of Las Villas, in the middle of the island. With reports going around - that a battle is on between Castro's soldiers and forces of rebels. No official confirmation of this -- but it could explain why the telephone was cut off.

Arrests in Havana - continuing ~~ing~~ As many as three thousand persons taken into custody ~~in~~ in connection with the vast conspiracy we heard about last night.

All of which is accompanied by curious information ~~in~~ concerning the secret meeting of anti-Castro leaders in Havana, who are now said to have been -- only figure heads and financial backers of the plot. Slated - for high political office, if Castro was overthrown. But - unable to give details about the revolutionary scheme. ~~Not in fact~~ Apparently they were not informed ~~of~~ of the plans made by the real leaders, ~~who~~ who - escaped arrest.

The big speech that Castro was to have made last night on radio-TV -- cancelled at the last moment. The reason - not given in today's Havana dispatch.

As a result of all this, tension in the Cuban capital -- is higher than ever. With signs - that the revolutionary conspiracy has not been completely smashed.

LITTLE ROCK

School integration in Little Rock, today - peaceful at first. Three negro girls - going to class at Hall High School, without any trouble. But then disturbances erupted - at Central High.

Events began with a crowd of segregationists - gathered at the State Capitol. Calling - for Governor Faubus, Chief opponent of school integration. Faubus came out - and advised against violence. Telling the crowd: "I see no use of you, today - to be beaten over the head and jailed."

Nevertheless, the mob went marching to Central High, where ~~mixt~~ police lines - kept them a block away from the building. The school board - having decided that integrated classes would be held. The ~~ix~~ police - ready to enforce the decision.

The mob - tried to break through. Beaten back - by swinging clubs of ~~ix~~ policemen. Several men - severely clubbed. This followed - by screaming badlam. The police chief - giving the order:- "Turn fire hoses - on the crowd!" The crowd dispersed - by streams of water.

A score of rioters were arrested - including half a dozen women and girls.

Little Rock high schools - opening three weeks ahead of the usual time, so the pupils can make up the time lost last year, when classes were closed - under anti-integration laws.

But that's not the cause of the trouble. The teachers announcing - they've closed Venice as well because they want to move into a new. That's the reason for Los Angeles - a shabby sort of town. According to the 6/1/57 beatniks which drive a road from Los Angeles. Some head of the Venice Civic Union: "We're not a slow area" says he. "We're a hard working responsible people". The best generation - having another six meeting. Don - sounds like you're in a traffic jam.

BEAT NICKS

Here's a news dispatch that may help <sup>the question</sup> ~~to~~ answer ~~-~~

why is the beat generation beat? Those writers and artists who feel - crushed and trampled on.

In Venice, California - an uproar because the beat-nicks are moving in - to set up an aesthetic center, where they'll read their poetry and display their works of art. This haunt of the Nine Muses - called "The Gas House".
Which might sound a little incongruous to some of the more delicate ears at Venice, California.

But that's not the cause of the trouble. The beat-nicks announcing - they've chosen Venice as their habitat, because they want to move into a slum. That beach resort for Los Angeles - a shabby sort of slum, according ~~it~~ to the <sup>all of</sup> beatnicks, which draws a roar from Alfred Roberts, ~~head~~ head of the Venice Civic Union. "We are not a slum area" says he.
"We're a hard working respectable people".

The beat generation - taking another ~~hit~~ beating.

Don - sounds like you're in a traffic jam.

EGYPT

At the Museum in Cairo, a Russian archaeologist, professor Petrovsky - was looking over the fabulous treasures of Tutankhamen. The exhibit - of priceless dazzling golden things taken from the tomb of that Pharaoh. Something caught the Russian Professor's eye - a discrepancy.

In one case, gold plated canes - which Tutankhamen had carried; when he was Lord of the land of the Nile, more than three thousand years ago. A card on the case stating - that there were eleven canes in the collection. The professor counting - and there were only ten.

Which disclosed - a sensational theft. Somebody - stealing one of the golden canes from the tomb of Tutankhamen.
