L. T. SUNOCO OIL BROADCAST - 5/12/33

Good Evening, Everybody:

Good just listen to this !

The question was raised today whether any of Uncle Sam's doughboys might have to take part in a reoccupation of the the shores of the beautiful Rhine. Rhineland, A clear warning was issued to the Fatherland's Hitter Matzi Government today. In fact, it was last night that Lord Hailsham, British Secretary of War, made a speech in which he cautioned the Hitler Government that if Germany re-armed and defied the provisions of the treaty of Versailles, then the sanction of that Treaty would have to be put into effect. In this case, the word sanction is merely diplomatic language for a penalty. As Raymond Gram Swing points out in a cable to the New York Evening Post, there is only one sanction in the Versailles Treaty, and that is occupation of the Rhineland by the forces of the Allied and Associated powers.

Well, Swing adds the information that the British Cabinet met today and voted unanimously to support Lord Hailsham's warning. LEAD - 2

Now here's the question as it affects us. Uncle Sam took part in the first occupation, so it will be up to H. Preident Roosevelt to decide whether he will also share in the next.

Needless to say, the British warning to the Nazi Government met with an enthusiastic echo in Paris.

N.Y. Evening Post - Swing

TARIFF TRUCE settled -- #other thand another important international which caused a considerable flurry yesterday by delaying her agreement to President Roosevelt's proposal, joined the particle today. This, of course, is the tariff truce between all the principal nations for the duration of the world economic conference in London. Eight powers are now in accord. They we The N.B.S. learned by telephone from Washington that Dr. Schacht, head of Germany's national bank and special envoy to Washington, made this announcement today after a conference at the State Department.

all

This means that  $/\frac{\pi}{4}$  the principal nations of the world will be able to get together at London for the economic fonference with all the paths made smooth.

Incidentally, a statement was issued jointly by the President and Dr. Schacht at the White House. This statement outlined four points on which Germany and Uncle Sam are now agreed as necessary for world recovery. The first of these is military disarmament as annecessary prelude to economic disarmament. The question is settled -- # the tariff truce, is all settled. Germany which caused a considerable flurry yesterday by delaying her agreement to President Roosevelt's proposal, joined the parage today. This, of course, is the tariff truce between all the principal nations for the duration of the world economic conference in London. Eight powers are now in accord. They're signed up. The N.B.C. learned by telephone from Washington that Dr. Schacht, head of Germany's national bank and special envoy to Washington, made this announcement today after a conference at the

RETAKE

State Department.

TARIFF TRUCE

all This means that at the principal nations of the world will be able to get together at London for the economic conference with all the paths made smooth.

Incidentally, a statement was issued jointly by the President and Dr. Schacht at the White House. This statement outlined four points on which Germany and Uncle Sam are now agreed as necessary for world recovery. The first of these is military disarmament as annecessary prelude to economic disarmament. The second is the elimination at the earliest possible moment of obstacles to the free movement of international trade. Third, stabilization of money and international exchange. Fourth, the a xxxxxxxxxxxxxxx synchronized program of credit expansion in all the various nations.

TARIFF TRUCE - 2

FARM RELIEF

President Roosevelt today took a hand in the proposed farm strike by which the farmers of the Middlewest intended to tim try with the up the entire food supply of the nation. The President signed the Farm Relief bill, with the clause authorizing him to inflat the currency when, as and if he considers necessary. In signing it Mr. Roosevelt issued a strong statement to holders of mortgages. He urged them to do everything in their power to help the farmers. The President's statement in part is as follows:

"I urge upon the mortgage creditops, therefore, until further opportunity has been given to make effective the provisions of the mortgage refinancing section of the Farm Relief Act, that, they abstain from bringing foreclosure proceedings and making any effort to dispossess fairners who are in debt to them. I invite their cooperation with the officers of the land banks, the agents of the farm loan commissioner and their farmer debtors to effect the agreements which will make foreclosures unnecessary." the President added, "This" is in line both with public duty and public interest."

The bill designed for the refinancing of farm debts else extends relief not only to farm borrowers but to mortgage creditors as well. A provision of the bill enables holders of farm mortgages the privilege of exchanging them for Federal Land Bank Bonds. The interest payments are to be guaranteed by the United States Treasury.

As soon as the signing of the bill was announced, Mr. Wallace, the Secretary of Agriculture, gave out the information that George N. Peak has been appointed administrator under this bill. Mr. Peak is a middlewesterner, a manufacturer of farm equipment, living in Moline, Illinois.

NBC

SIROVICH

There's a representative in Congress, a gentleman from New York who takes a particular interest in show business. That representative, before he became a Congressman, was a doctor by profession, and he would have liked to be also a playwright by profession Dr. Sirovich has written several plays and I believe one of them was produced, pringing out a large chorus of Bronx cheers from the New York dramatic critics.

Well, it's not the theatre that distresses Dr. Sirovich today, but the movie industry. He wants it investigated by Congress. Today his resolution was taken under consideration by the House and turned down by a vote of 227 to 115.

All this looks like smooth work by our old friend Will Hays, former Post Master General, National Chairman of the G.O.P. and now ezar of the movies. But the wily Will has another stumbling block to overcome. After Dr. Sirovich's resolution was given the raspberry by the House, Representative Patman of Texas threw still more sand in the machinery. He notified the House that he is going to introduce a resolution calling upon the Attorney General of the U.S.Q. to investigate the comma + its doings. (ND.C.)

VETERAN

Here's a story that's particularly interesting in view of the new invasion of Washington, D. C. by Bonus marchers. In a Brooklyn hospital there's a veteran of the Civil War, eighty-seven years old. He was brought in as a patient suffering from hunger and malnutrition. Learner by telephone that This old gentleman has been living in a stable. The children in the neighborhood missed him for the last few days and reported to the police. A policeman found him unconscious in the the there in where his home.

When the hospital authorities asked him whether he had any money or relatives, he proudly showed his G.A.R. button. He then added the information that although he was entitled to a pension, he had never asked for it. Said he: "The country always treated me right and I'd never ask for a pension just because I'm a bit hungry." A stort old boy.

NBC

RACKETS

It looks as though the long-suffering John . Public of the U.S.A. has finally decided to quit being a worm and to turn on the racketeers. The N.B.C. made a survey today of movements all over the country directed against the hoodlums who are gnawing like rats on legitimate business.

Well, here's one item. A court in the Bronx today sentenced four racketeers in the live poultry industry to three years in jail. They were HERMER convicted of intimidation. At the same time, John H. Amen, noted criminal lawyer, informed the same time, John H. Amen, noted criminal assistant to the Attorney General to investigate New York racketeers. Mr. Amen will conduct an investigation in the fish racket, the teamster racket, food and milk rackets, and other forms of illegal business. And we'll all say a four a men to that.

In the West, Attorney General Cummings has ordered a survey of the situation. In the Senate a few days ago Senator Royal Copeland of New York introduced the resolution in the Senate, calling for a complete investigation of the racket menace. RACKETS - 2

In Chicago the N.B.C. was informed today that a drive against hoodlums and racketeers is under way. The State's Attorney, business men, and police are cooperating. — one of the worst officied industries — In fact the cleaners and dyers industry went so far as to announce that they would stand for no more racketeering, and They have in appointed Judge Francis Borelli to act as arbitrator in their racketeer proceedings.

In Los Angeles a committee of seven has been formed under the Sheriff of that County. This group will functionalong the lines of the Chicago Crime Commission, reporting on its findings to special grand juries. If this movement continues to grow it might really mean something.

My mail at present is full of requests for copies of the interesting talk on financial problems that Mr. Kenneth Hogate, head of the Wall Street Journal, gave last

One New York engineer asks a number of questions that are not easy to answer in a few moments, and then xk concludes with the remark: that "It's no comfort to me to know that we shall again be back to normal, and that I'll still lose thirty per cent of my original investment." I have just asked Mr. Hogate for his comment on that. Here is what he says:-

"If the present program works out (meaning Mr. Roosevelt's program), as Leather it is hoped that it will, it is the expectation that the dollar's value will be restored to approximately the 1925-26 level. If Mr. Miller made his investments at about this time, he will have lost nothing except the profit from a rising dollar which he had, for instance, in 1932; but this profit he did not earn and he can comfort himself that it was a passing thing. All of this is predicated upon the assumption that the program of controlled inflation will remain controlled and that the dollar's value will not be reduced beyond that point contemplated by the President."

Mr. Hogate of the Wall Street Journal adds: "There's an effective inflation in normally good times -in other words, commodity prices go up and the value of the dollar goes down. It may well be that it is only this degree of depreciation which Mr. Miller will suffer. If so, better business and higher receipts would undoubtedly compensate him for any loss on his investments."

And that, in a nutshell, seems to be what we are all hoping for, and what the President intends that we shall have.

L.T.

BLONDE

Do gentlemen really prefer blondes? Whether they do or whether they don't, it seems that movie audiences prefer brunettes. A survey of the stars at the R.K.O. studios in Hollywood brings to light the important scientific information (ahem) that brunette stars heavily outnumber their blonde rivals. Gentlemen may prefer blondes -- but the brunettes seem to get the dough.

STANFORD

Here's one from the coast that should interest the ladies. When the late Governor Leland Stanford and his wife established Stanford University, they made a rule that there never should be more than five hundred women among the undergraduates. Well, just see what hard times will do. The Board of Trustees xt had a meeting today and just threw that old rule into the discard. In future the University of Leland Stanford, Jr., at Palo Alto, will welcome the ladies up-to the number of forty-five per cent. of the total enrollment, and as the total enrollment is four thousand, that ought to produce quite a number of new coeds. To wearyoung man - go wear NBC BASEBALL

There's plenty of excitement in Cleveland today, especially among the baseball fans. To the astonishment of the sporting world the team now leading the American League is neither the champion Yankees, nor their deadly foes, the Washington Senators, nor even Connie Mack's Athletics. The Cleveland Indians are in first place, and for the first time in quite a long while.

To be sure, they're leading Babe Ruth and his team mates by only half a game, and they've played one more game than the Yanks. Nevertheless, first place is first place.

SPORTING EVENTS

An unusual sporting event takes place tomorrow. I wish I could be there, out on the Ohio River. It is called the Mid-America Crew Regatta. The main event is known as the David and Goliath race, the crew of Marietta College, a small Ohio institution, representing David, and the veteran oarsmen of Boston Tech, Goliath.

In fact there are sporting events all over the country that I wish I could attend. Every hour brings in letters and telegrams about them.

-- 00 -- -- 00 --

On Sunday the Dewey Congressional Medal of Honor men are going to pay tribute to their late Commander, Admiral Dewey, along with veterans of many wars, in a great parade, in Philadelphia.

-- 00 --

And then tomorrow at Yankee Stadium former Governor Al Smith will officially open the kids' baseball season. The game will be between teams of youngsters who belong to what is called the Yankee Sand Lot League. Boys of all races, colors and creeds. The teams have interesting names; for instance, the Lower West Side Tigers, the Holy Innocents, the Example New York City Farmers, and so on. I wonder just what is a New York City Farmer?

SPORTING EVENTS - 2

A TRACT LAND

A terrible thing happened at Madison Square Garden which did not get into the papers. It happened the last night the circus was at the Garden.

Well, whether it was the excitement of moving over to Brooklyn or what, nobody knows, but the Gnu ate his beard. There seems to be a theory that his whiskers got mixed up with his hay rations, and zip, before the attendants could say Jack Robinson, away went the best part of those magnificent lambrequins.

But there's some consolation. Dexter Fellowes claims that a beardless Gnu will be far more of a rarity than a gmm Gnu with the usual spinach on his chin. In other words, says Dexter, a beardless Gnu will be something new. (No don't blame that one on me. That's one of Dexter Fellowes' best. I've just run across an interesting item about Australia. The first European settlement on that vast island continent was about one hundred and fifty years ago. And in that short time, Australia has given us gold from her mines, to a value of almost four billion dollars. On Australia's great ranches and sheep stations today there are more than one hundred million sheep and twelve million cattle. One hundred thousand tons of butter were exported lastyear. There are vast orange groves and vineyards. They now have twenty-seven thousand miles of railroad, and the Australians say the depression is over. TALL of a Sure Cure Magic Box which he made himself. I haven't tried it out yet, but accompanying the gift was a Tall Story, which I feel deserves a prize of a copy of the Tall Story Book.

R Tall Story Club member somespondent in Cleveland just sent me a present

The story concerns a Mr. Rappaport who was celebrating the rite of naming his new son. One inetentation in the rite is that the Rabbi after blessing the baby dips a finger in a glass of wine and conveys a drop 75 the child's lips.

This particular Mr. Rappaport lives in dry territory and there was no wine available. So instead of wine he had a glass of Blue Sunoco.go. When he came to that point in the ceremony where the Rabbi had to touch the child's lips with the liquid; the child suddenly let out a yell and cried: papa, you bent fool me, that's Blue Sunoco." RUBBER BOAT

How would you like to sail across the broad Atlantic from Portugal to New York in a twenty foot rubber boat? Uh oh! Can't you just see those mountainous waves, and see that rubber boat bouncing from wave to wave? The first I had heard that a man and his wife were attempting to sail across the Atlantic in a rubber boat was through Editor Purcell of the Bermuda Royal Gazette and Colonist. The information was that Rudolph Zwerenz and his wife had left Lisbon in their rubber boat, to cross the mighty ocean and win a prize offered by the New York Yacht Club. However, the Secretary of the New York Yacht Club informs me that he knows nothing of any such prize.

As you sit around your dinner table tonight, just anid those monstainon waves borneing think of Rudolph and his wife in that rubber boat somewhere in mid-ocean. Rud now in going to bornee over the mountainous state of tennsylvania to the mountainous state of tennsylvania to make a speech and see some friends in the fair city of Williamsport _____ and solong until Monday.

L.T.