

IRELAND

Mon. Aug. 9-71.

A new wave of violence in Northern Ireland tonight - with mobs surging through the streets of Belfast and Londonderry - ~~and~~ ^{with} the country ^{said to be} on the brink of Civil War. At least five persons ~~dead~~ ^{dead} in the streets of Belfast, one a young boy ~~was~~ shot to death by an army sniper who claimed the lad was about to throw a firebomb. ^R The government of northern Ireland - trying to stop the rioting - has ordered mass arrests and internment of citizens without trial - a move some say will surely lead to civil war between the Protestants and Catholics of northern Ireland. ^R By nightfall, an estimated one hundred houses were burning in the Argoyne section of Belfast; ~~Fires~~ ^{Fires} touched off by Protestants residents who say they burned their houses rather than surrender them to the Catholics. Army bulldozers moved through the streets - knocking down barricades - built with bath tubs, kitchen tables, burned out cars, baby carriages. The northern Ireland government blames the new outbreaks on the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

INDIA

The Soviet Union and ~~the~~ India surprised the diplomatic world today by signing a treaty of friendship and cooperation which - in effect - guarantees Russian support for India in its troubles ~~with Pakistan~~ ^{— and presumably with China,} The twenty ~~year~~ year pact pledges that Moscow and New Delhi ~~would~~ ^{will} hold consultations on "appropriate and effective measures" if either is threatened or attacked. An Indian spokesman says the treaty is not aimed at any third country - although it's well known that Pakistan has accused India of aiding the rebels in East Pakistan - and, ~~that~~ Communist China has voiced sympathy for the Pakistani government in its efforts to keep East Pakistan in line.

More than a million Indians turned out for a gigantic rally in New Delhi today - in support of Prime Minister Indira' Gandhi's foreign and domestic policies. The ~~huge~~ ^{was} huge demonstration ^{was} held on the

and wide avenue
spacious green lawns of Raj Path - the wide boulevard ~~that~~ ^{ing} leads to the Presidential Palace. Tensag ~~thousands~~ thousands of men, women and children marching four ~~abreast~~ abreast along a nine mile ~~route~~ ^{route,} Mrs.
Gandhi - addressing the assembled throng from a fifteen foot high platform - urged all to support her government's policies.

TRUCKS

The Commerce Department today approved the export of more than one hundred sixty million dollars worth of foundry tools to the Soviet Union - tools the Russians will use to build the world's largest truck factory. Eventually, we^are told, this will more than double the amount of U S exports to Russia and hopefully put some life in the sluggish ~~the~~ American machine tool industry. The announcement apparently brought to ~~an~~ end a ~~long~~ debate within the Nixon administration over whether we should make it easier for the Soviets to manufacture trucks that could be used for military purposes.

CARS

Two brand new American automobiles are ^{now} ready ~~to be scrapped~~
~~for the junk pile~~ in Moscow - after being smashed up by three local citizens wielding iron ~~pit~~ pipes. ~~This~~ possibly ^{was} in retaliation for the firebombing of a Soviet car in New York last week. The owners of the two cars - or what's left of them - are David Evans, and John Thompson - both second ~~secret~~ secretaries at the U S Embassy, ~~in Moscow~~. Evans - who has an eighth floor apartment in the diplomatic compound - says he awoke early to the sound of crashing glass and crunching metal. Through his window he saw three men smashing his car ^{the} and ^{auto} Thompsons - the only American cars among eleven in the parking area.
The U S Embassy lodged a strong protest - and the two damaged cars ^{then} ~~were~~ were towed to the Embassy and left on the street outside - for everyone to see.
Some Russian journalists claim the harrassment of

Indeed in Americans in Moscow is retaliation for similar harrassments of Soviet representatives in American cities by members of ~~particularly by~~ the Jewish Defense League - has been ing ~~which demands the free immigration of~~ that Russian be allowed to go
Jews to Israel.

SUBMARINES

South Carolina Senator Strom Thurmond says there are indications that Soviet nuclear missile submarines are being deployed from ^{Cuban} bases. ~~on~~ ~~Cuba~~ This, he says, violates the Nineteen Sixty-Two agreement between Russia and the United States, ~~made~~ ^{made} ~~reaching~~ by President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev. Although ^{Sen.} Thurmond didn't disclose his information source, as a second ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee - he presumably has ^{full} access to intelligence data.

HAREM

If you've ever lost your luggage at an airport take heart - it could have been worse. Consider the plight of ~~an~~ Arabian Prince Abdul Aziz Elpheni of Saudi Arabia who today at Orly airport in Paris managed to lose six members of his travelling harem. The Prince - with a party of twenty-two aides and ^{the} harem ^{ladies} ~~ladies~~ - arrived on a plane from Geneva. A bus drove up to their plane to take them to a fleet of waiting ?Cadillacs. ^{The} ~~it was decided~~ ^{sign was} ^{for} ~~that~~ the men ^{to} ~~would~~ go first - ^(traditional in Arab) then the bus would return and pick up the harem ladies. In the meantime a second bus arrived and its driver - seeing the ladies - invited them on board. The driver spoke no Arabic and the ladies spoke no French- so he just dropped them off outside the airport building.
But when the Prince discovered his ladies missing, pandemonium broke ~~out~~ loose with the prince and his aides

1/2 ^{hither and yon at} rushing ~~back and forth~~ through the airport, ~~building~~

^{for Mama - the many Mamas -}
-- calling and searching for the ladies. One report was they were kidnapped. It all ended ^{Bill Martin,} when the ladies were found ~~standing on the pavement~~ outside at only surrounded by a crowd of curious onlookers.

GLACIER

Two ~~men~~ members of a family of four are in an Oregon hospital - ~~as a result of~~ ^{as a result of} ~~hopefully recovering from~~ injuries they received yesterday in a fall of about a ~~thick~~ thousand feet - ^{almost} straight down the side of a ^{high upon} glacier ~~on~~ Mt. Hood, Oregon's highest, ~~mountain~~ with an ~~alt~~ altitude of more than eleven thousand feet. ^R Two members of the family - Harry Carson Senior, and his twelve year old son Clint - were not so fortunate. They were killed in the fall. Mrs. Carson and another son, thirteen ~~or~~ year old Harry, Junior survived. From his hospital ~~bed~~ bed, Harry Junior told newsmen - "the four of us, ~~were~~ ^{were} roped together, ^{were} coming down after reaching the summit, - ~~when~~ my brother slipped - and we just went head over heels down the mountain."
