

L.T.-OLDS, FISHER. WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1964

(San Francisco)

in San Francisco.

Looking back on last night's nomination, it's incredible to think of the events that led up to it.
Beginning with the assassination of President Kennedy and the prediction - many said it - that the ascent of Lyndon Johnson killed the chances of the Arizona Conservative.

So what happened to change the picture? The Democrats are pointing to three things in Goldwater's favor -

First, he's always been a warm hearted member of the party. Always ready to help with the schools - on Capitol Hill. Or campaign for Republicans against Democrats. In the course of which he made friends with the pros of the GOP.
