Biography of Linus Richard Daniel Foy

Richard Foy attempts to recall what he remembers of his life and career, principally as a memento to his children, but also for the information of those who might research the history of Marist College.

The work was designed in 2007, and redesigned using Dreamweaver in July 2010.

Chapters will be not be written in chronological order, but done piecemeal, using the information developed during work on the family web site called clan and my own inclinations and current related research projects.
