

WASHINGTON

Good Evening! Vowing to use whatever force necessary the Justice Department said today it would stop the November Fifteenth Moratorium Day Mass-March scheduled to go down Pennsylvania Avenue past the White House. A mass rally at the Washington Monument and smaller marches will be allowed. But a Deputy Attorney General said "under no circumstances will we allow huge throngs on Pennsylvania Avenue." He said it would be dangerous because of the threat of violence, and that the Justice Department will use "the minimum force necessary" to prevent it. Tonight, mobilization committee members are meeting to select another site for the mass march that will not involve Pennsylvania Avenue.

Support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy - continued to build today; especially in the House of Representatives where the Administration won a key vote - actually getting more than it asked for.

This came in the form of a resolution - approved nearly three-to-one by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. A resolution fully supporting the President - in his "efforts to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam." In effect, it was Capitol Hill's first formal support of U.S. policy in Vietnam - since the Gulf of Tonkin resolution back in Nineteen-Sixty-Four.

we will keep on fighting until complete victory.

PARIS FOLLOW HOUSE

Meantime, at Paris - Henry Cabot Lodge was also trying to drive home the President's message. He told the Communist side that it must decide - whether to settle the war at the conference table; or whether to settle it by means of - quote - "the President's other plan;" namely - "Vietnamization" of the war. Lodge added: "You must not rely on our making concession after concession - until you get everything you want." But, both before and after Lodge's remarks the enemy rejected the President's speech. The Viet Cong's Madame Binh, asserted: "If the United States persists in prolonging the war - or in Vietnamizing the war - we will keep on fighting until complete victory."

Thirty-Three Mississippi school districts ordered last month to desegregate immediately by the U. S. Supreme Court were given a slight reprieve today. The Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans gave the Districts until December Thirty-First, to implement effective desegregation plans.

Good Evening Everybody:

You have all heard of the Cargo Cult that originated among primitive tribesmen along the New Guinea coast and some of the other islands. That was during World War II when they saw our people bringing in automobiles, bulldozers, everything under the sun. Dropping it out of the sky and in great ships. It was all so incredible that the tribesmen thought surely it was done by magic.

You may recall how not so long ago in our area -- the island of New Hanover - the natives even put up four hundred dollars and gave it to a cult leader who said that with the four hundred he could get L B J to fly out and become their chief.

The Cult still persists - mainly along the coast but not among the Stone Age people deep in the interior. And since they never see the things made that the European has, such as automobiles, pianos, refrigerators, radios - well surely they must be made by magic. So they believe.

And so the Cargo Cult leaders convince their people that they too will soon have all these things. Get them by magic. Dropped from the sky. You can imagine what problems this creates for those who think that Man right now can be brought directly from the Stone Age into our present era. And doing it by getting him to give up the ways of his ancestors who were living here for thousands of years, even before Columbus discovered America.

When you are out here ~~among~~ among them, it all makes you wonder, wonder if these people are ready to enter our era.

CAIRO

In the Middle East - Cairo - a familiar voice was raised today - in a familiar mixture of pride and passion. Egypt's President Nasser addressed his Parliament - in the wake of two Arab commando raids into the occupied Sinai. Nasser declared: "There is no longer a way out of our present situation - except by violence and force." And he added that Arab troops will turn the Middle East - into "a sea of blood, under a horizon blazing with fire" - if that's what it takes to liberate Palestine.

Israeli reaction to all this was - another series of reprisal air raids. Israeli jets blasted Egyptian targets on the West Bank of the Suez Canal - whence the commandoes supposedly launched their attack.

WHITE HOUSE

LITTLE ROCK

*From the White House - an announcement today that the President will travel to Cape Kennedy next week;
there to observe the launch of America's Apollo-Twelve moon-shot - a week from tomorrow. The President's decision - they say - at the urging of America's Apollo-Eleven astronauts; who were guests at the White House last night - after completing an exhaust^{ing} round-the-world tour.*

LITTLE ROCK

It used to be - that a slip of the lip could sink a ship. Nowadays - it can also be a Federal case.

Take, for example the case of Damon Jeffrey - a young Marine a' la Raffaele Minichiello. Getting ready to board an airliner today at Little Rock, Arkansas - he jokingly told a ticket agent: "I'm going to hijack this plane to Siberia."

Nobody laughed. Not the ticket agent - not the supervisor - not even the FBI agents who hauled him off to jail.

This is Mike Wallace for Lowell Thomas.
