

RECORD

MARIST COLLEGE

Vol. III, No. 8

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

March 12, 1963

Mass Offered in Slavo-Byzantine Rite in Chapel

The Holy Mass in the Slavo-Byzantine Rite, according to the Russian usage was offered this past Sunday in Our Lade of Wisdom Chapel. The celebrant of the Mass was Father George Maloney, S. J., who teaches in the Institute for Eastern Studies at Fordham.

Father Maloney was ordained at Rome in the Eastern Rite. He has received his Doctorate from the Pontifical Oriental Institute and is the master of several languages among which are Greek and Russian.

The form used for the Mass was the Divine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom. The entire Mass was greatly different from the Mass as celebrated in the Latin Church. It afforded the resident students an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with some of the liturgical differences of the Eastern Church.

In the Eastern Rite not only is the Host received under both Species but the method of receiving Communion is different. Holy Communion is received standing. The priest comes and stands at the Communion step, between the gates of the railing. The communicants come up to the priest in single file. The chalice held by the priest contains both Species. A small cube-like Host, saturated with the Precious Blood, is dropped into the mouth from a spoon held by the priest. The communicant folds his hands across his breast, and comes up as close as possible to the chalice, tilts his head well back (keeping the eyes open) and opens his mouth wide, leaving the tongue relaxed inside the mouth. The Host may be broken with the teeth. The formula used by the priest in the distribution of Holy Communion is, "The servant of God receives the Precious Body and Blood of Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

A Communion Breakfast followed the Mass. The visiting celebrant gave a short talk concerning the Eastern Rite.

Member of Marist Advisory Board Receives Important Appointment

It has been announced that Richard Small a member of the Advisory Board at Marist has been appointed as Director-General of all the companies of Organizacion Editorial Novaro of Mexico, the largest publisher and printer in Latin America. Novaro publishes in Spanish for distribution in Latin America and Spain many of the books and magazines published in English by Western Printing.

Mr. Small had served as Vice President, Director and Eastern Division Manager of Western Printing and Lithographing Company in Poughkeepsie. He was also a Director of Artists and Writers Press, Inc., and a Vice President and Director of K. K. Publications, Inc., both of which are subsidiaries of Western Publishing Co.

Mr. Small and his family have been living in Millbrook, New York but he and Mrs. Small are moving to Mexico City.

Spring Weekend Plans Set

Spring Weekend Committee announced this week that this year's weekend plans have been finalized. Highlight of this year's events will be a folk music concert by Pete Seeger on Sunday, April 28th. Committees have been set up and are in full operation. Heading the decoration committees are Bob Kaufman (indoor) and Joe Sendra (outdoor); executive committeemen Phil Bruno and Walt Bunten inform us that while many volunteers have come forward, many more will be needed to fully carry out Weekend '63'. They have stated that a full campus effort is the major innovation. The job cannot be done unless all students participate in one way or another. A call for volunteers will go out this week.

Tickets are on sale every day from 12:15 to 1:15 in Donnelly Cafeteria. Part payments will be accepted up until April 23rd when tickets go off sale and all accounts will be closed.

More Evening Courses Available in Summer and Fall of 1963

Dr. John Schroeder, Dean of the Evening Division has made known that more courses will be available every evening during the Summer and Fall of 1963.

During the summer session which begins July 1 and ends August 9, students may take a variety of 2 and 3-credit courses; two on any given evening. Two-point courses will meet on Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday schedule, while 3-point courses will meet Monday-Wednesday-Friday. Thus a combination of two 2-point courses or two 3-point courses, or a 2 and a 3-point course may be taken, coming in two or three evenings a week.

The summer schedule provides an opportunity to take freshman and sophomore courses which may have been overlooked in your schedule. Advisors in the fall will insist that aside from major courses being taken in sequence, all unfinished freshman and sophomore courses be taken before advance work begins.

The fall schedule suggested by the Student Council provides for a wide variety of 2-credit courses on Monday-Wednesday. On Tuesday-Thursday it will be possible to take three 3-point courses on each evening beginning at 6:15 and ending at 10:05. Friday and Saturday courses are restricted to laboratory work.

In addition, in the fall there is a three-hour course on each night devoted to four required courses for certification for teaching in New York State.

The schedule of evening classes for the summer and fall of 1963 are posted on the evening division bulletin board.

WEEKEND AGENDA

- Fri. Apr. 26 - Informal - 9-1 - at 4th Dimension
- Sat. Apr. 27 - Crew Meet - afternoon - at River
- Sat. Apr. 27 - Post Regatta Social - on the Green
- Sat. Apr. 27 - Semi-Formal - 9-1 - at 4th Dimension
- Sun. Apr. 28 - Sailing Meet - at River
- Sun. Apr. 28 - Pete Seeger - on the Green
- Sun. Apr. 28 - Post Concert Social - on the Green

The RECORD

Editor: James Moloney
 Co-Editor: Gary Smith
 Asst. Editor: George Hallam
 Advisor: Br. Cornelius Russell

What Is Wrong?

The Student Council members are overburdened with committee work, the Literary Quarterly is suffering from a lack of student support, the newspaper has been in need of help for months, and the meager response to Crew has been a shock to all concerned.

The Yearbook Staff has made one appeal after another for support and administrators as well as students have shown a lack of cooperation. The Theatre Guild, in the past a well established club, has been plagued by a lack of support on the part of upper-classmen.

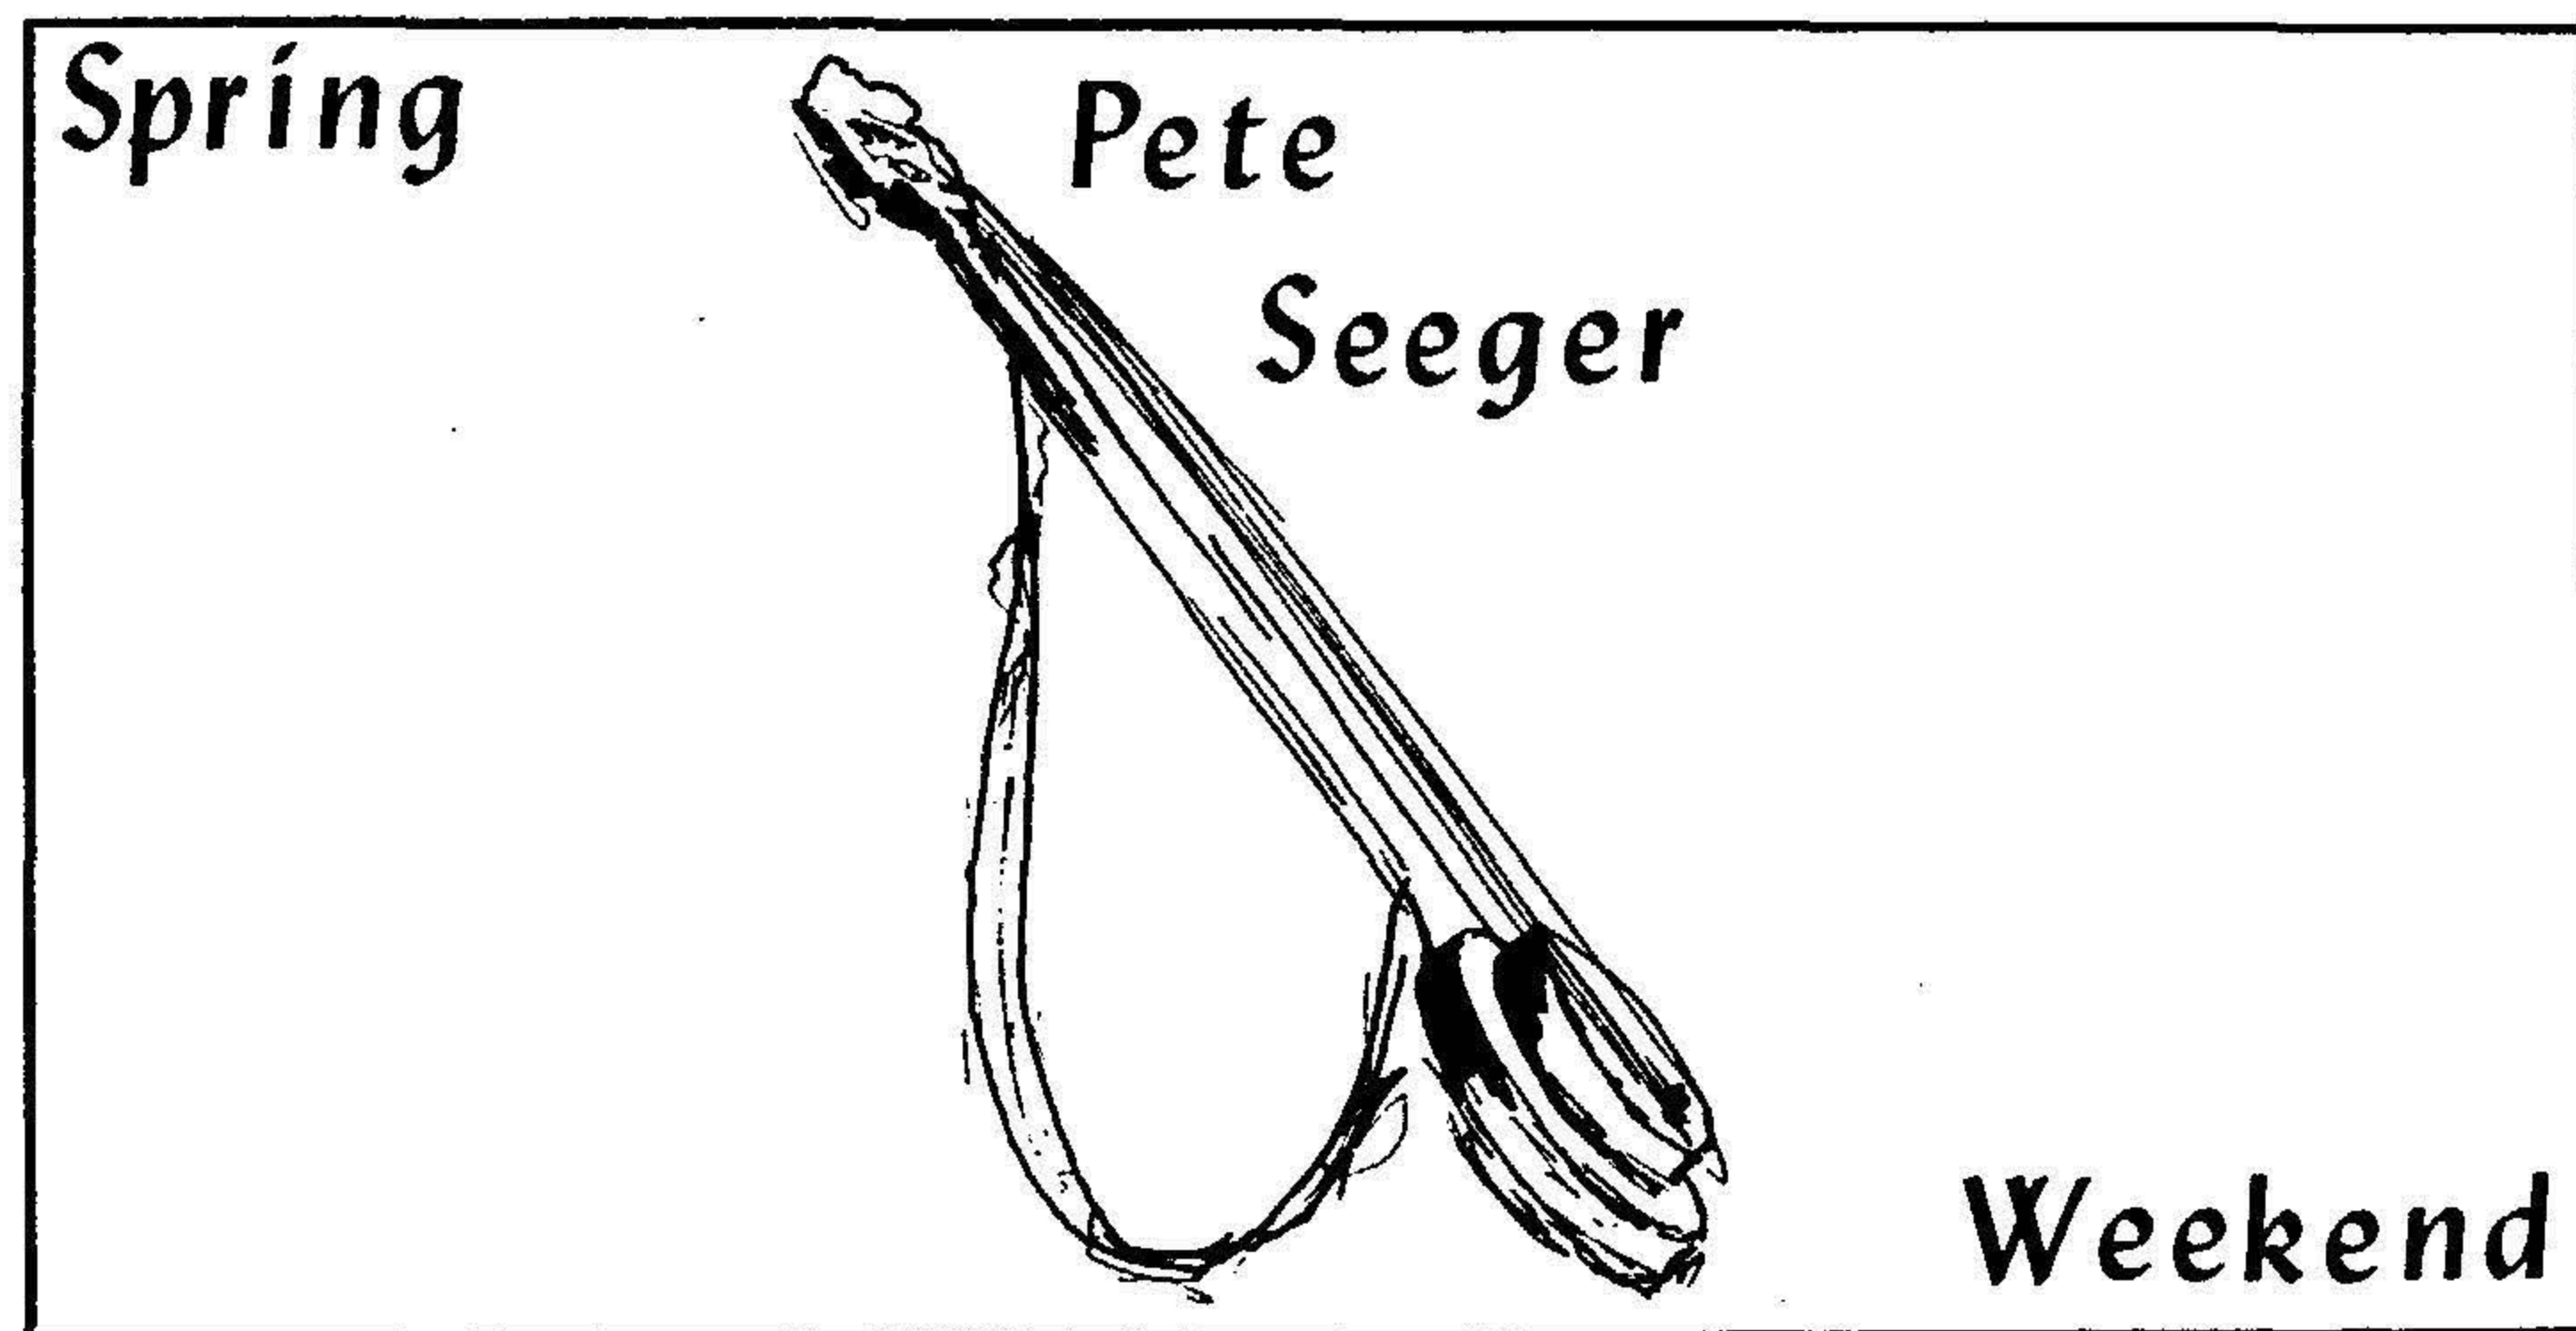

Whatever happened to the political clubs that were established on campus last year? The Marist Club Glee Club has been in dire straits for three years, even with a genuine effort on the part of its small membership. We have yet to see a science journal which was promised by the DaVinci society.

Spring Weekend plans are finally getting off the ground after months of petty argument and immaturity. However, April 26th is a long way off. Anything can happen --- and will unless more students show an active interest.

It seems every day more organizations and clubs are initiated on campus, yet we can't do justice to the present groups.

Has the Senior Class failed as an example of a proud and diligent unit that underclassmen can look up to? Or are underclassmen more interested in the "good times" reaped from the labors of a handful of workers.

What IS wrong?

Features: G. Hallam, Ed., P. Kearney, A. Brown, W. Moran, A. Sapp, T. Troland, J. Greco, T. Flanagan. Sport: T. Macken, Ed., J. Dworak, F. Nemitz, P. Maher, J. Barry. Make-up: E. Heller, Ed., D. Donoghue, R. Morin, G. Johannsen, J. Benjamin. Circulation: D. Roller, Mgr., J. Guiliano, Photography: M. Seddon.

TOPICS

by Bill Treenor

When one visits our nation's capital one of the definite stops is across the calm Potomac in the Virginia countryside. The town of Arlington is known to us as the home of our Unknown Soldiers. These three men and those that they represent need no praise that we could offer and in fact we would be totally incapable of tending any tribute that has not already been rendered.

What is of similar importance is the Navy-Marine Memorial that is also located here. This memorial commemorates the formal raising of our flag over the island of Iwo Jima during the Second World War. What many people do not know is that at the base of this monument is engraved the words of Admiral Nimetz, "Uncommon Valor Was A Common Virtue."

These may seem to us as very "nice" words but yet do we really realize their meaning? Have we so soon forgotten the many who were ready and willing to lay down their lives, if the need arose, so that we might live in freedom today? Have we forgotten that today there are many serving in the various areas of the world so that we and our children might live in a free society?

These are difficult questions to answer, but the actions of some of our political leaders over the last few years is cause for some concern. Under President Eisenhower there was the problem of our RB - 47 that was shot down by the Russians. Were there any tributes to these men for the sacrifices they were making so that we might have needed information? Did our political leaders in the opposition praise the wives and families of these men and other men in similar employment for their unselfishness? No, the only words that were heard were why did the administration commit the blunder?

Again, we find ourselves faced with a similar case, but this time the men were volunteers who flew with the Bay of Pigs invasion force so that some people might live in freedom. Do we hear praise for their unselfish sacrifice, or do we hear questions as to why the administration let these men die? True, we all regret the loss of those families involved, but is it possible that this is being used for mere political propaganda? Has partisan politics gone beyond these bounds? Such as the case. If we ever get back to the realization that there are some who act for certain principles we might find ourselves again.

Truly I feel we can say that these men "... shall not have died in vain..."

Navy Air Programs Explained

Three programs are offered to college men. "NAVCAD" (Naval Aviation Cadet) is designed for men who have completed at least two years of college. "AOC" (Air Officer Candidate) and "NAO" (Naval Aviation Observer) programs are open to college graduates. Successful NAVCAD's and AOC's are commissioned in the grade of Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve and designated as pilots; NAO's, also commissioned Ensigns, are designated as navigators.

Flight Training is the same for the NAVCAD and AOC programs; Pre-flight, Basic Flight, Advanced Flight, totaling eighteen months. The Aviation Candidate receives his commission after completing the first four months, the Naval Aviation Cadet when he has qualified in the final phase of his training. The Naval Aviation Observer's course lasts five to nine months, depending on the special areas of studies he undertakes.

Instruction during the Pre-Flight covers flight theory, navigation, aerology, aviation communications, as well as basic military subjects and athletics. The eight months spent in Basic Flight provide 200 hours of flying in formation cross country, and on instruments, and landings on aircraft carriers. During the six months of Advanced Flight instruction the student specializes in either jets, single-engine, or multi-engine aircraft; the choice is usually up to the pilot.

The Naval Air Reserve has other opportunities for college graduates that are qualified in special fields such as air intelligence, electronic countermeasures, and aircraft maintenance. Information on all programs is obtainable by writing to: Officer Procurement, I & R Division, U. S. Naval Air Station New York, Brooklyn 34, New York.

Young Republicans to Show Film March 14

"Where Were You", a film put out by the Ford Motor Company will be shown this Thursday, March 14th in Room 201 at 4:30 by the Young Republicans Club.

The film goes through the American political system. It shows how a candidate goes through the different procedures to reach office from declaring himself on through the primary and conventions up to nomination and election.

The purpose of the film is to instill in the mind of the individual how important his help is to the candidate running for office.

and that among them and their brothers in arms, Uncommon Valor is still A Common Virtue.

NOCTURNE

Recently, three sub-committees of the Student Council met in special session to deliver findings on their respective assignments. I had the fortune, or misfortune, according to your view, of being present. The temporary chairman opened the discussion. "I know," he said, "that this is an academicians point of view. But I've had it in the back of my craw for a long time. When an unmovable force meets an irreducible minimum the only answer is fault finding by an objective panel such as this."

Everybody immediately picked up his ears.

There was some agreement. "A very infirmative idea," said one member. And another: "You hit the nose right on the head."

But the general reaction was strongly negative: "What are you trying to do, make us all sacrificial goats? I am unutterly opposed to it."

"You're talking thru the skin of your teeth. Why, that kind of an idea would percolate like wildfire."

"You sure laid a lemon that time."

The chairman tried to calm things down. "Wait a minute. There's no reason for getting into a high state of dungeon. There's a lot of semitics mixed up in this. Let's wipe the coast clear and start again. This thing has got to stand on its own bottom."

"Oh no!" someone else insisted. "None of this balking and filling. Lets put our shoulders to the bit. We've got to get our teeth into the heart of this."

Finally the original proponent got another turn. "All right. All right." he said, "you've really put me through the griddle. But don't you realize that a lot of water has gone over the bridge? This problem has a lot of faucets to it."

After another long go-around, the meeting finally broke up. There was one charitable word for the disconsolate heretic as he left the room. "You're all right, fellow. Keep a stiff upper chin."

And one note of sympathetic counsel: "you've got to stop being so forthrighteous about this. You're getting yourself right across a box."

But the ultimate comment was in a whispered conversation off in a corner of the room. "That fellow," one of the committee members said to another, "is way out on the end of a limbo."

Not being very quick at these things myself, I still haven't decided what they were talking about, but not wanting to appear out of things I certainly didn't want to inquire of the participants. So, whatever it was that they were talking about, be assured that your Student Council is in there, fighting for your interests all the way.

New Marine Graduate Study Policy Introduced

The U. S. Marine Corps has recently announced a new policy with regards to consideration of requests from members of its platoon leaders class to delay their assignments to active duty for the purpose of pursuing graduate studies leading to a Masters degree.

A PLC member, if granted permission by the commandant of the Marine Corps to pursue graduate work, will be commissioned as soon as he is qualified, then authorized a delay in reporting for active duty in order to undertake his graduate program. Delays will normally be authorized only for a period of one year from the date of receipt of an undergraduate degree.

While engaged in graduate work, the officer will not ordinarily be ordered to active duty until completion of requirements for a Masters degree unless he fails to make satisfactory progress towards that degree.

The platoon leaders class program is offered by the Marine Corps to college undergraduates who are desirous of obtaining commissions in the corps and thereby fulfilling their military obligation in a manner which will be most beneficial to themselves and the nation. It is characterized by two six-week summer training sessions as an undergraduate, and involves no drills or classes during the academic year. The PLC is commissioned as a second lieutenant upon receipt of his baccalaureate degree.

More detailed information relative to the platoon leaders class and the new policy regarding graduate study may be obtained through the U. S. Marine Corps Officer Selection Office, 207 West 24th Street at 7th Avenue, New York 11, N. Y.

Consideration of a request for a delay in reporting to active duty will normally be given only for graduate work in the following named fields or some sub-division thereof:

- Astronomy
- Business Organization
- Chemistry
- Economics
- English
- Engineering
- Foreign Languages (Modern)
- Geography
- History
- Industrial Management
- International Relations
- Mathematics
- Meteorology
- Physics
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Sociology

Frosh Make It Two Over Scholastics

Sunday, February 17th saw the rise of a new dynasty in the resident student-Scholastic rivalry as the freshmen stunned the Brothers by a 94-60 score. This is only the second time that a resident student team has beaten the Brothers and both defeats have come from the hands of this year's frosh.

The first half saw the frosh holding a slim one point edge at its close as the Brothers applied a zone defense that could not be cracked.

However, the second half met with a different story. Guided by the "Caliph's" coaching tactics and the powerful left-handed hook shot of John Ouellet, the frosh could not be stopped as they built up a 67-48 advantage early in the second half and kept right on going.

The team is looking forward to their next encounter with the Scholastics on March 10th, but with a watchful eye. John Ouellet led the winners with 35 points, and Brother Francis O'Rourke the losers, with 15 points.

CREW SCHEDULE

Saturday, April 6 at Marist
American International
St. John's
Marist

Saturday, April 13 at Marist
Amherst
Marist

Tuesday, April 16 at Marist
Fordham
Marist

Saturday, April 20 at Marist
Trinity St. Peter's
Iona C. W. Post
Marist

Saturday, April 27 at Marist
State University (L. I.)
Marist

Saturday, May 4, Rusty Callow Regatta
Amherst Trinity
Marist Clark
American International

Friday, Saturday, May 10, 11 at Philadelphia, Dad Vail Regatta
Purdue Rollins
Wayne State Marietta
LaSalle Marist
St. Joseph Drexel
Howard Georgetown
Fordham Amer. Inter.
Iona Clark
Trinity Oyster Bay
Amherst St. John's
George Washington

FROSH (94)

| | FG | FT | P | T |
|-----------|----|----|---|----|
| Clancy | 6 | 4 | 0 | 16 |
| Dooley | 6 | 1 | 1 | 13 |
| Lane | 2 | 0 | 0 | 4 |
| Nesteroke | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| O'Brien | 8 | 1 | 2 | 17 |
| Ouellet | 17 | 1 | 1 | 35 |
| Wright | 3 | 0 | 1 | 6 |
| Zabicki | 1 | 1 | 1 | 3 |
| | 43 | 8 | 6 | 94 |

BROTHERS (60)

| | FG | FT | P | T |
|--------------|----|----|---|----|
| Br. Byrnes | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Br. Carroll | 5 | 0 | 0 | 10 |
| Br. Kelly | 5 | 0 | 3 | 10 |
| Br. Meehan | 7 | 0 | 0 | 14 |
| Br. O'Neill | 4 | 1 | 1 | 9 |
| Br. O'Rourke | 7 | 1 | 2 | 15 |
| Br. Reithman | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Br. Towsley | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| | 29 | 2 | 7 | 60 |

SAILING SCHEDULE

Sunday, April 7 at Kings Point
MAISA Octagonal

Fordham NYSMC
Kings Point Queens
Manhattanville Stevens Inst.
Marist Iona

Saturday, April 13 at Webb Institute
MAISA Hexagonal

Cooper Union Webb Inst.
Rutgers Queens
Stevens Inst. Marist

Saturday, April 27 at Rochester
MAISA Asso. Member Champ. Elim.

Hobart Rochester
Marist St. Lawrence
(2nd section at Philadelphia)

Sunday, April 28 at Marist
Marist Spring Regatta

Villanova
Manhattanville
Marist (teams B & C)

Sunday, May 5 at Marist
Triangular

Iona
Marist
Queens

Saturday, May 11 at Philadelphia
MAISA Asso. Member Champ.

Qualifiers from April 27.

T. Macken (M) J. Pizzani.

The basketball team ended its campaign in fine form with a 71-41 victory over Seton Hall of Patterson. The club finished the season with a respectable overall record of 14 wins and 9 losses. As a reward for their efforts the Athletic Department has arranged for the team to be able to see the semi-final game at the NIT. In regard to next season Coach Tom Wade is not speculating at the present time.

We hope to put three boats on the Hudson this spring. At this writing approximately four more men are needed to fill a third boat. It seems to us this is an opportune time for anyone especially freshmen who think they might be interested in participating in intercollegiate athletics. The college will have three new shells, let's see them filled.

Last week's intramural loop saw two bit upsets. The "Shanties" were knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten as the "Weapons" led by Ron Franks squeaked out a victory. A revitalized St. Mary's team led by Larry Lane and Bill Battista pulled a surprise by knocking off the Flyers. The loss placed the "Shanties" in a two way tie for first place with St. Denis team both sporting 5 and 1 records. The "Abolitionists" and "Flyers" are tied for second place with a record of 5 and 2.

Random Thoughts... It was nice to see NIT bound Fordham upset the NCAA bound Violets last Saturday... All are anxiously awaiting for the N.Y. Mets exhibition games and wondering if they will be able to equal last year's feat... Wichita looks the strongest in the NIT but Vinnie Ernst and Co. from Providence play inspired ball at the Garden. The midget half likes Clay all the way but the taller half would like to see Doug Jones permanently button Cassius' lip.

| | FG | FT | Pts | Aver. |
|-------------|-----|-----|------|-------|
| Ackert | 5 | 3 | 13 | 2.6 |
| Barisonok | 25 | 18 | 68 | 4.0 |
| Clancy | 65 | 40 | 170 | 11.3 |
| Daly | 15 | 3 | 33 | 2.4 |
| Dooley | 42 | 27 | 111 | 7.4 |
| Finucane | 43 | 14 | 100 | 6.7 |
| Flynn | 47 | 41 | 135 | 6.4 |
| Laforge | 41 | 16 | 98 | 6.6 |
| O'Brien | 103 | 42 | 248 | 11.8 |
| Ouellet | 29 | 13 | 71 | 6.5 |
| Trojanowski | 62 | 19 | 143 | 11.9 |
| Viola | 0 | 1 | 1 | 0.3 |
| Weiss | 161 | 81 | 403 | 17.5 |
| Wright | 17 | 0 | 34 | 3.1 |
| Totals | 650 | 328 | 1638 | 71.2 |