Good Evening Everybody:

DARFINAL FOLLOW CASTRO

How would this be for a spectacle? Castro' boxing Khrushchev's ears. It would have happened - if the boss of the Kremlin had visited Havana during the missile crisis. So the bearded dictator told a French newsman in an interview published in Paris - today.

the effect of the death of Cardinel Artessa. (The

We knew then that Castro was furious - because no one consulted him about the pull-back of the Soviet missiles. How furious? Now - we know. Castro says:- If Khrushchev himself had come, I would have boxed his ears". I wonder! If he had I'll bet Khrushchev would have bopped him over the head with that shoe!

CARDINAL FOLLOW CASTRO.

Latin America is watching Cuba tonight - to see the effect of the death of Cardinal Arteaga. The Primate of the Cuban Church - received some rough handling from Castro. He had to ask for asylum in the Argentine Embassy - at the time of the Bay of Pigs invasion. Later, entering the hospital - where he died yesterday at the age of eighty-three.

The question - will the Cuban people remember and as a nesult their Cardinal as a martyr? Will they become more restricted under Castro's heavy hand?

One point worth noting at President Kennedy's news conference - his reference to Berlin. President saying - that he hopes to visit Berlin during his forthcoming trip to West Germany, a visit - far beyond the Iron Curtain.

The rest of the news conference today - much as expected. Especially the report on - the Costa Rica conference. The declaration of Central America - about which the Prezident is most kopeful.

Here's a wrap-up of two stories we've had - in the last two broadcasts.

In Saigon, the worst fire that the South

Viet Nam city has ever had - is finally out. The toll four thousand bamboo buildings destroyed. Many dead many injured. Forty thousand - homeless. Most poignant of all - hundreds of children missing. Their parents were at work - when the inferno blazed up.

From the glamorous island of Bali - some unromantic figures on that volcano eruption. Around two hundred killed. More than one thousand injured. Thousands of homes, and thousands of acres of rice - destroyed. The lovely belles of Bali - not swaying to the music of the temple bells, tonight. They are up to their ornamented ankles - in mud mixed with volcanic ash.

The rocketeers of Cape Canaveral are jubilant tonight - because of the way their Titan-Two performed.

Titan-Two, scheduled to become - the workhors of our space program. Tapped for duty next year - with our Gemini astronauts. Two men at a time, riding space capsules - into orbit.

With that much at stake - every test of TitanTwo generates excitement at the Cape. Today, no exception - as the giant missile rose from its launching pad, thundering down "Missile Alley" - between Africa and South America. Hitting its target seven thousand miles away.

I wonder if it feels like the first day of Spring - in your part of the country? Not if you live along our northern tier of states where it's frigid all the way from New England - to the Rockies. Five inches of snow - in Rhode Island. Six inches - in Ohio.

Nine inches - in upstate New York and Vermont. Those are - typical readings.

Even in Dixie - Spring is a reluctant visitor.

The Congress of the United States is being asked to confer - American citizenship on one particular man. No - this isn't about honorary citizenship for Sir Winston Churchill. It's about ordinary citizenship - for Robert E. Lee.

You probably don't know - unless you live below the Mason-Dixon Line - that Mobert E. Lee was not a full citizen of the United States when he died. As an end guote officer who had "engaged in insurrection and rebellion" - the hero of the Confederacy could not hold a job in the service of his cauntry. So - he did not possess full citizenship.

More than a century later, Congressman James Quillen proposes - a vote on Capitol Hill. The Tennessee Republican, saying - "It is anomalous for one of our finest citizens to be deprived of citizenship"

When her Britannic Majesty the Queen arrived in Broome, a city in North Australia - the whole town turned out to welcome her. Now, a news report like this makes you think of - royal governor, mayor, councillors, Colonels, maybe a knight or two. All the trappings in honor of Elizabeth the Second.

Ah, but Down Under - things don't always turn The thirty indies a wiver and elnerwist of s out that way. Many pearl fishermen were there, for the King of Soud! Archia. Maybe not the most dramatic meeting - of all time. Still, I wonder what they said to one another?

What did her Majesty say to "Whirra Jack"?

The following from Nice, France - is like a contourier's dream. Imagine thirty lovely ladies - each armed with a checkbook and each needing - a completely new wardrobe. And each backed by a bank account - running into the hundres of millions of dollars!

The thirty ladies - wives and otherwise of the King of Saudi Arabia. They lost everything in the crash of the King's private plane - in the Alps.

Everything except the clothing and jewelry - they were wearing. Hence their raid - on the fashion shops of Nice. The lord of sand and oil, telling his favorites to buy whatever they need - or want. The merchants of Nive, richar by - a few zillion francs, Dick. Wow!

If you've been wondering what's the easiest way to become famous - consider Frank Weatherman of Anchorage, Alaska. Frank - a gun smuggler, tossed into the Anchorage jail - then shipped down to Alcatraz for attempting to escape.
