

ROCKEFELLER L.T. - (Olds) Tule. Nov. 21 - '61.

During the pre-dawn darkness this morning - a tired anxious American landed at Wake Island. He stayed - forty five minutes. Then, ~~he was~~ off for - the island of Biak, just off the coast of ~~the~~ next stop New Guinea.

Nelson Rockefeller, hurrying toward the spot - where his son was last seen. Latest reports put Michael Rockefeller only a mile from shore - not fifteen. Still, New Guinea waters are pulled by a tidal current - seven knots strong. The Arafura Sea ~~Moreover, the water is~~ infested with sharks. The shoreline - with crocodiles.

The chances that Michael is alive? All we can do ~~appear slim~~ is hope.

~~But~~ ^ Like any father, the Governor of New York is clinging to ^ - however faint - the hope ^ of finding his son.

ADENAUER

The Chancellor of West Germany spent most of today at the White House. Chancellor Adenauer, in a series of conferences - with President Kennedy. Both statesmen, feeling that this is their big chance - to reach a real agreement on how to approach Moscow. Both determined to make the most of it, ~~of that chance~~.

The talks, considered - highly successful. Adenauer, convinced that Kennedy is not going to compromise - on basic western rights in Berlin. Kennedy, convinced that Adenauer will not try to prevent - reasonable concessions on Berlin.

KRISHNA MENON

The meeting between President Kennedy and India's Ambassador to the U N - did not produce unanimity on world problems. No one thought - it would. It did, however, decrease the tension surrounding Krishna Menon - who has so often been called anti-American. We have no details on what the President and the Ambassador - said to one another. But on emerging from ~~the~~ the White House, Krishna Menon made one point clear - he does indeed hold ~~the~~ Khrushchev responsible for violating the test moratorium. In his words, referring to the Russians - "they began it, they broke it."

ATOMIC

As for Khrushchev's willingness to negotiate about a ban on nuclear testing. Why shouldn't the boss of the Kremlin negotiate - now that he has completed his series of nuclear explosions?

Our position - is, that we - Washington - is willing to talk to the Russians - in the hope of getting an agreement; one this time with a foolproof inspection system. But President Kennedy refuses to have anything to do with - another voluntary moratorium. Not after the way Khrushchev - violated the first one.

INDIA

The Indian parliament in New Delhi was thrown into a turmoil - again today - and no wonder. Subject of debate - violations of the Indian frontier by Red China. Mao Tse-Tung's men - crossing the border again - and again. In fact, eleven times - according to the latest count. Six in Ladakh, Little Tibet - beyond Kashmir, two on the northeast frontier - near Bhutan and Assam - and three in Nehru's home province of Uttar Pradesh.

Today's uproar in New Delhi is caused by the fact - that Peking agreed to stop the aggression. Chou En-Lai and Krishna Menon, signing a declaration - by which the Communist forces would not move any further into India. Now the Reds have violated that declaration; - eleven times says Nehru.

STALIN

The destalinization of Prague - is one of the grossest absurdities yet. Until today, the Czech capital boasted - the largest statue of Stalin in the world. A colossal figure - ninety feet high. Weighing - eight hundred ^{and} sixty tons. The Dictator, portrayed - in a Napoleonic stance, with his hand inside his coat. Near him, a table^u - representing the Czech people. On the base, the inscription "to the liberator of Czechoslovakia."

The Czech Reds used to perform their pious devotions - before this image of their idol. Tonight ^{the colossal} ~~that~~ statue of Stalin - lies in ruins. The order - get rid of it as quickly as possible. Stalin kaput. Raus mit im - to mix Russian and German.

WEATHER

There's an ironic twist - in the weather story from the West Coast. Southern California, deluged by floods - the area already devastated by fire. Sounds contradictory - but the meaning is plain enough. That inferno earlier this month - stripped the hills of brush and timber. Now, nothing to hold back flash flood waters; from heavy rain. Streams, rising over their banks - cascading down the slopes.

Some homes that survived the forest fire - now threatened by landslides. A turn of irony - in California.

MATHEMATICS

In Chicago, mathematics teacher Samuel Broyde insists - he's not ~~an~~ that much of a perfectionist. But he's! he expects his high school pupils - to score a hundred percent in their exams. ~~But~~ he's not a perfectionist, ~~and~~ says - his pupils ~~because~~ he allows ~~them~~ ¹ to take the same exam four times each semester.

The Broyde system - goes like this: - Pupils who get a hundred percent the first time - are graded "superior". If they have all the answers right the second time "excellent". The third time - "good". The fourth time - "fair."

Ah, but what happens to those - who can't seem to get a hundred percent, even the fourth time? They flunk the course - and have to go to summer school.

But, the Broyde system is too perfectionist - for the school board. The math teacher - fired, ~~but~~ today ~~he~~ demanded a trial - which he's ^{sure} ~~confident~~ ¹ he'll win. In the words of the ~~per~~ perfectionist math teacher - "I've been turning out the best mathematicians in the school's history." The trouble, according to the school board - is that he's been flunking a record number, too.

PIRATES

Out in Indonesia; they've hoisted - the Jolly Roger.

Pirates - operating in the waters of those sprawling islands.

More pirates now - than at any time since the Eighteenth Century. There always have been pirates there. And now it's a sort of

~~The~~ Spanish Main of Nineteen Sixty One - the Celebes

Sea. Reason - the people of the Island of Celebes control most of the inter-island trade. So their cargo ships are real prize ships - for the men of the cutlass and windjammer. I mean - the men of the machine gun and motorized launch.

The Indonesian pirates, racing out from shore - to intercept passing freighters. Shooting their way aboard - confiscating cargoes. Then disappearing among the thousands of inlets - along the ragged coast of Celebes.

Piracy in the Orient, increasing rather than diminishing - in the Twentieth Century.

HUNTERS

Don Albaugh, in Pennsylvania, was out for a turkey. Suddenly - in the woods - hearing the call of the gobbler - loud and clear; Don, the himrod, headed in the direction of the sound; stalking his prey - shotgun at the ready.

There in the underbrush; no doubt about it - turkey call coming from there. Don could see the bushes quiver. So he raised his trusty shotgun and fired.

Result - a shout from the underbrush. The voice of another hunter. Chet Alexandrowitz - Chet, an ex-disc jockey - the turkey. Explanation - simple. Chet out for turkey; was playing a recording of a gobbler's call - and waiting for one. Dick - instead, along came another hunter - who peppered him with buckshot.
