

L.T.-OLDS. WED. NOV. 11th. 1959.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

The latest word on President Eisenhower's forthcoming trip aboard - shows that our relations with Spain are better than ever. Far better than during World War Two - when Spain was accused of favoring the axis.

Old animosities seem forgotten - with today's announcements in Washington and Madrid. President Eisenhower, to be the first American President - to visit the Spanish capital. Mr. Eisenhower, accepting an invitation from Generalissimo Franco. The President, while in Madrid the two to hold confidential talks. All this to emphasize Spain's role in the Western Alliance. Spain - not a member of Nato. But - we have key bases on Spanish soil.

Tonight, Spain is buzzing - with the news. A spokesman for the Madrid Foreign Office saying - "

"President Eisenhower's decision to visit Spain - is deeply appreciated."

Today's Washington announcement also mentions - Tunisia. The President to hold a shipboard conference with - Tunisia's President Bourguiba. This, a return visit for the one Bourguiba paid us - three years ago.
The meeting, to take place in the Mediterranean - aboard
the U.S. Cruiser "DesMoines."

STEEL

President Eisenhower ^{has asked} ~~reconvenes~~ his fact-finding board. ~~Ordering the Board,~~ to keep an eye on ^{the} union-management negotiations in the steel strike. ^{Do this} Under the ~~xxx~~ provisions of - the Taft-Hartley Law.

The Board, to participate in the strike talks - for sixty days; ~~Then~~ turn in a report - to the President; ~~Who~~ says he wants every effort made - to prevent any resumption ~~in~~ of the steel walkout.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell - eats his own words.

This is his hat; - that is a hat made of cake.

The Secretary said in April - that unemployment would be below three million - in October of this year. He said he was so sure of it that - he'd eat his hat if he turned out to be wrong. Figures for October show - three million, two hundred thousand looking for jobs. So today the Secretary of Labor - made good his promise. Eating a cake - shaped like a fedora. Doing it on television - in front of the Labor Department building in Washington.

What went wrong - with his prediction? Secretary Mitchell blames the rise in unemployment - on the steel strike. He didn't think it would last this long.

LYNCHING

A U.S. District Judge will empanel a Federal Grand Jury - ~~at~~ in Biloxi, Mississippi, on January Fourth, ~~Purpose~~ - to reopen the investigation of the lynching of Mack Parker at Poplarville, last April.

A County Grand Jury - refused to indict anyone. So the Justice Department - reentered the case. Now, the final step. Judge Sidney Mize, summoning - a federal Grand Jury, ~~which~~ which will be asked to hand down indictments - in the Parker murder.

VETERANS

For Veteran's Day today the high point was when - General Lemnitzer, representing President Eisenhower visited Arlington, and placed a wreath on - the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Around the world, there were similar ceremonies. At Omaha Beach, for example; on the coast of France, where General Eisenhower's men stormed ashore on D-Day. There, French villagers today recalled the ten thousand Allied men who were killed on Omaha Beach - in the fight against Hitler.

CRANBERRIES

Secretary of Agriculture Benson to have - cranberries, with his Thanksgiving Dinner. Ordinarily - that wouldn't be news. But we've all heard about the controversy - the cranberry stew. Now Secretary Benson says he's not worried about the cranberries at his house; and he wants to give the industry a boost - especially with Thanksgiving so near.

But the Armed Forces aren't going along with him - at least all the way. Cranberries from Washington and Oregon - taken off the menu, on the ground that they might be contaminated.

ROCKEFELLER

The Governor of New York, Nelson Rockefeller, off tonight - for Nixon's home state. Off for a four-day swing - through California, and nearby states. A heavy schedule of speeches, interviews, news conferences, receptions - and talks with G O P leaders.

Nelson Rockefeller, to check on his chances for - that Republican nomination in Nineteen Sixty; which he hasn't said he wants. This tour should help him make up his mind.

Will he meet Nixon - in California? No. The Vice President is in Wisconsin - drumming up support there.

MENON

In New Delhi - a demonstration against the Defense Minister. Students, marching around the House of V. K. Krishna Menon, ~~The crowd~~, carrying anti-Menon banners. Chanting - "Menon is pro-Chinese! Menon, resign!"

The demonstration - a reaction to what the New Delhi students call - "the creeping aggression of Red China". They charge that Krishna Menon is endangering the safety of India - by being too soft with Mao Tse Tung.

ALGERIA

Today's demonstration in Algiers - broke out during ceremonies commemorating the 1918 Armistice. French extremists were marching through Algiers, today demanding - union with France. Also shouting - "DeGaulle to the gallows!" A reference to President DeGaulle's plan - to let the people of Algeria decide their own status. Moslems and French alike - to vote on that. The French of course vastly outnumbered.

AFRICA

Here's a follow up to a story we had - the other night.

Rmmember - the Watutsi tribesmen of Africa - and their battle against the Bahutu Tribe? The Watutsi - who ^{live in} ~~formerly ruled~~ Ruanda, the eastern Congo, ~~their part of Belgian Ruanda?~~ The Bahutus - once their serfs? The two tribes ~~are~~ now struggling for domination in the dense Equatorial forest.

Tonight we are told - the Watutsi-Bahutu battle is raging - more fiercely than ever. ^{and that} ~~The reason~~ - Ruanda pygmies ^{have} ~~joined~~ ^{ed} the Watutsis. ~~And~~ ^{and} that's a switch. The smallest people in the world - fighting side by side with the tallest. The four foot pygmies, and the seven foot Watutsis - attacking the Bahutus, who are just an ordinary six feet or so. ~~Must~~ ~~be - quite a sight.~~

~~But it's no stage play. Nothing like the tribal dancing, of the Watutsis. This -~~ ^a bloody conflict. ^{with} ~~Because~~ the Pygmies ~~are~~ using bows and arrows - and blow guns, with poison darts. The Watutsis, hurling spears - and swinging clubs.

The Bahutus, fighting back - with their own primitive weapons. The battle - surging back and forth through the jungle.

Belgian authorities say - they've found two hundred dead Bahutus already. And ^{fear} ~~are afraid that~~ the figure will go over a thousand - before they can restore order. ^{TP} The bizarre story of an alliance - between the giants and the pygmies, in African Ruanda. — the Belgian Congo, Dick!

PACIFISTS

If you want to know how to behave, in case of an atomic attack - ~~well, here's one example. Provided by the~~
have a suggestion, Hutterites of Montana, The Hutterites, a Pacifist sect - going back to the Sixteenth Century. Still ~~ix~~ living - according to the old tradition - of reformation piety.

Three jet planes crashed during the night - near one Hutterite village. The Hutterites, at first supposed the ~~thinking the~~ explosion was - an atomic bomb. They were ready. Leader Joseph Stahl - sending his group into action, according to plan.
And

The women - blew out the lamps and took the children down into the cellars of the houses. The Hutterite men - plunged out into a blizzard. Each taking - his assigned position. One, racing into the barn - dousing the lights. Another, taking care of - the chicken coop. A third, racing into - the pig sty, and so on.

The Hutterite colony, completely blacked out - in a matter of seconds. One of the most orderly civil defense operations - on record.

Finally, realizing it was a plane crash, not an atomic explosion - they ^{set} ~~grabbed their lanterns, and set~~ out to look for survivors in the snow. Rescuing Captain John Budner of Bluefield, West Virginia - and Lieutenant James Johnson, of Groesbeck, Texas. Modern jet pilots, saved by an old Pacifist sect - the Hutterites.
