

L.T.-OLDS. THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1962.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

The fall of Arturo Frondizi - removes a courageous President. For three days Frondizi refused to surrender to the military.

Frondizi never looked the part that he was called on to play. A mild mannered, self effacing, professorial type; who ran a rather professorial regime. His watchword - austerity. Frondizi, in a resolute attempt - to make the books balance. Preferring a strong Peso - to a strong army. Quite a change from the flamboyant prodigality - of Peron.

Unfortunately, for him, his generals turned against him. So, there was no one to protect him - when the military police arrived at the presidential palace, the Casa Rosada, in Buenos Aires. Hustled out of the palace - and escorted to the airport, they put him aboard a plane - and flew him to an island off the coast of

LEAD

Argentina; to be held in exile. Meanwhile back in Buenos Aires another President of Argentina is getting rough treatment from the military. Legally, Frondizi's successor should be - Jose Guido, head of the Argentine Senate. And Guido was actually sworn in - by the Supreme Court.

Whereupon, the generals declared the transfer of power "unconstitutional." Their reasoning - rather unusual. They claim that no one can become President of Argentina - until Frondizi resigns. The generals, appealing to the authority of the man they've just booted out.

The question tonight, will Argentina have a civilian government? Or - a military junta?

ALGERIA

The lull in Algeria tonight - is a sinister sign. Indicating - not peace - but a change in the tactics of the OAS.

Fugitive General Salan waited to see the effect of - civilian demonstrators in the streets of the cities. The French army, opened fire on a turbulent crowd, then clamped a tight grip on the city - with patrols and armoured cars. Proving to the O A S - that it can't depend on the army.

Now Salan - has changed his tactics. Going over to - guerrilla warfare. circulating leaflets that read - "from now on we will give no quarter."

A virtual declaration of war on the French army. Salan is said to have - twelve thousand men in his underground force. Plus six thousand civilian commandos. This can be formidable since it's backed by most of the Europeans in Algeria.

KENNEDY FOLLOW WHITAKER

Turning to the major international issues - President Kennedy admitted that the nuclear test ban talks have reached an impasse. Reason - Khrushchev, refusing to accept any kind of inspection.

Berlin? President Kennedy more optimistic. Although the deadlock continues, the Russians appear concerned to prevent a way by miscalculation.

Latin America? No comment on events in Argentina. But he has much to say - about Brazil. Terming himself "extremely anxious" to welcome Brazil's President Goulart to Washington; to maintain close and cordial ties - with a key nation of the alliance for progress. Maybe The key nation - Brazil.

On the home front, President Kennedy strongly defended his tax revision program and called on Congress to pass the measure as soon as possible; because - our businessmen need more incentive, if they are to meet the competition of the European common market.

As for himself personally, the President as good as said that he will run for re-election in nineteen sixty-four and that the TV debates will be repeated.

Will we be seeing and hearing more debates - between John Kennedy and Richard Nixon.

ATOMIC

AT GENEVA, TODAY -- THE RUSSIANS MADE IT PLAIN THAT THEY ^{ARE} OPPOSED TO ANY ATOMIC TEST BAN. THEIR DELEGATES REFUSING ^{even} TO EXAMINE ^{THE} EVIDENCE THAT INSPECTION
IS NECESSARY TO PREVENT CHEATING.

AMERICAN SPOKSMAN, ARTHUR DEAN -- POINTED OUT THAT SWEDISH INSTRUMENTS DETECTED -- ONLY ONE OF OUR RECENT UNDERGROUND EXPLOSIONS WHICH DISPROVES MOSCOW'S

WITHOUT AN INSPECTION SYSTEM.

SKULL

A dispatch from London suggests a horror story: a skull unearthed in a refuse pile; skull, so badly battered, it seems like a clear case of murder. So says Scotland Yard. The owner of the skull battered to death.

But the year? Well, they are not trying to find the murderer. They know they'll never catch him. For the crime was committed - five thousand years ago. The skull belonged to a Londoner of 3000 B.C., who lived on the banks of the Thames in a stone-age village. How and why he was done-in, Scotland Yard says no clues - not surprising after five thousand years.

Now Dick!

FIRST LADY

The First Lady comes back to the USA - looking as stunning as when she left. Mrs. Kennedy, a symphony in blue and white as she boarded her plane in London. Blue suit, blue shoes, velvet collar, and white gloves. Zooming toward New York - and a cheering, applauding crowd at Idlewild Airport.

The First Lady, heading back to Washington, after her three week journey to romantic Hindustan - the Taj Mahal, the Gardens of Shalimar - and on home with a stop at Buckingham Palace. And soon lovely Jackie will be at home - in The White House.
