

L.T. DeLoe. Thurs. Aug 13-59

Today's Eisenhower victory in Congress ~~was~~ was larger - than could have been anticipated. A much closer vote <sup>was</sup> expected - in the battle of the labor bill. Two-hundred-and-twenty-nine to two-hundred-and-one, In favor of the tough measure backed by the President.

The milder legislation sponsored by the Democrats --never coming up for a vote. The Landrum-Griffin Bill ~~was~~ considered first. Its victory - settling the question.

In favor - one-hundred-and-thirty-four Republicans and ninety-five Democrats. The latter - conservative southern Democrats mostly. Opposing the measure advocated by the President, one-hundred-and-eighty-four Democrats and seventeen Republicans. The latter - from industrial areas, ~~where~~ where union influence is greatest.

This legislation imposes curbs on the union - intended to cast out racketeers. With special provisions against secondary boycotts and what is called - "blackmail picketing".

However, the congressional conflict is not over yet.

→ Because the Senate has already passed a bill for labor reform, <sup>a bill</sup> Much milder - than the one voted in the House today. So a joint committee will take up the ~~task~~ task of harmonizing the two, which are so different - that harmony may be a puzzler.

DEMOCRATS

The ~~S~~ Democrats are having an uproar - concerning their national convention, ~~To~~ be held - in Los Angeles. National Chairman Paul Butler - heading for Southern California to settle a noisy argument concerning - the distribution of convention seats.

In Los Angeles the host committee is headed by Edwin Pauley, ~~the~~ wealthy oil man, who demanded - five thousand tickets in the sports arena. Where -- the Presidential extravaganza will be staged.

To which Butler <sup>replied that</sup> ~~said~~ the host committee could have fifteen hundred tickets. But, Pauley ~~will~~ still wants ~~the~~ five thousand.

Chairman Butler, leaving for the coast, gives warning that - unless the hassle is all settled by Monday, the site of the Democratic national convention will be changed. ~~Will~~ be taken - away from Los Angeles.

SATELLITE

Today, a satellite experiment. The first one - as a direct step toward placing a human being in orbit around this planet. The launching of a man-made moon, with a capsule of the type in which an astronaut would ride. Equipped with gadgets - a space voyager would use.

At Vandenberg Air Force Base, California, a towering rocket streaked into the sky. Carrying - Discoverer number five. A ~~xx~~ seventeen hundred pound satellite -- containing a capsule weighing three hundred pounds. Like a cabin - that might carry a human occupant.

The purpose - to bring the capsule safely back to earth. As if it were - a human passenger, coming back. The plan being for Discoverer Number Five to go whirling around our globe - ~~xx~~ until tomorrow afternoon. Then ~~re~~jecting the capsule - above Hawaii. Where all plans have been made - to recover it, when it comes down on the ocean.

ADD SATELLITE

Here's later news. Discoverer Number Five is in orbit. The satellite -- hurled successfully into a path whirling around this planet.

CONFERENCE

At the inter-American conference, held in Santiago, Chile - a U S program for easing tensions in the Caribbean area. The assembled foreign ministers of the western hemisphere -- hearing from our Secretary of State, Christian Herter. Who, in an address - called for the establishment of a special Caribbean committee; Ready to respond - whenever there is a complaint that one country is intervening in the affairs of another. Which would have immediate reference - to the trouble between Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

Secretary Herter warning - that the present situation in the Caribbean offers the Communists the kind of opportunity they're always looking for. Trying to exploit - any kind of trouble in the western hemisphere.

CUBA

The new rebellion in Cuba - is definitely centered in the mountains of the province of La Villas, in the middle - of the island. But reports from Havana are that the anti-Castro insurgents are not numerous, and are loosely organized, composed - of former followers of Batista, who took to the hills - to escape the Castro firing squads. These plus a group from the Dominican Republic.

The situation in the mountains of Las Villas is vague. But Fidel Castro and his brother are reported at the scene of the fighting, taking command - of their forces against the rebels. Castro, they say, is determined - the counter-revolutionary forces be crushed, as quickly as possible. Although they may not be so formidable - right now, Castro remembers how his own revolt, not so long ago, flourished - because Batista made the mistake of under-estimating it.

Castro started his rebellion in the mountains, the Sierra Maestra, the main range - in Cuba. The mountains of Las Villas are also wild and rugged - the second range in Cuba. So Castro does not want history to repeat itself, with a campaign - resembling his own last year - in Mexico City. This year -- in Chicago. The revolt.

Olympic Friendship Torch - carried from one city to the other by relays of boy scouts.

Well, the symbolic light got as far as Muskogee, Oklahoma. A relay of Boy Scouts bringing it in - and placing it on display in the lobby of the City Hall. An honor guard of scouts - guarding that electric torch, which shines with a blue light.

When three local boys - decided on a prank. One - sneaking in and grabbing the torch. The scouts on guard so astonished - that he had no trouble making off - with the Olympic symbol.

Later he got scared - and threw it away. The torch -

TORCH

At McAlester, Oklahoma, a local prankster committed a federal offense. His case -- referred to government authorities. Well, it serves him right -- for swiping the torch of Olympic friendship.

All of which concerns - the Pan American games, held last year - in Mexico City. This year -- in Chicago. The Olympic ~~Friendship~~ Friendship torch - carried from one city to the other by relays of boy scouts.

Well, the symbolic light got as far as McAlester, Oklahoma. A relay of Boy Scouts bringing it in - and placing it on display in the lobby of the City Hall. An honor guard of scouts - guarding that electric torch, which shines - with a blue light.

When three local boys - decided on a prank. One - dashing in and grabbing the torch. The scouts on guard so astonished - that he had no trouble making off - with the Olympic symbol.

Later he got scared - and threw it away. The torch - soon discovered. In good shape - the blue light still burning.

But now -- the alarming part for the prankster.

The torch - the property of the U S government. Which makes him guilty - of a federal offense.

PLAYWRIGHT

Over in London, the talk of the town, for days, has been - the Irish playwright, Brendan Behan, who has a hit show playing - to a great applause, while Brendan has been showing Londoners - the ways of a hard-drinking hibernian. Cutting up hilariously at a performance of his play - after having imbibed a bottle or two.

So now the question - where does that Irish playwright get his thirst? The answer - given by his mother Mrs. Kathleen Mavarney Behan. A small, frail woman - who is in London, talking with a melodious brogue. "Sure, my boy likes a nip," she said today.

"I like a nip, myself. All my boys like their nip."

Mrs. Kathleen Mavarney Behan has half a dozen boys - Brendan, Dominick, Bryan, Seamus (Shay-mus) Shaun and Rory. And all like a nip.

"Of course" she explains, "sure and I should say they inherited their love of a nip from me. Why not?"

Candid speech - from old Ireland.

And now some candid speech from you Don.

Miss Universe - Akiko Kojima of Japan, a Tokyo model not assigned - by a Tokyo newspaper, which states - that she was embellished by plastic surgery. Her last measurements announced - at a hospital in Japan. The Tokyo newspaper declared that Akiko Kojima entered a plastic surgery hospital under an assumed name. The operation - consisted of the injection of a liquid plastic.

Then, after she won the title of "Miss Universe" - in the United States, a doctor at the hospital - photographed her picture. Revealing - that she had contact with was the patient, whose figure was improved by plastic surgery.

"Miss Universe" - a plastic creation? If it works - why not?

MISS UNIVERSE

"Miss Universe" denies the charge That she resorted -- to artificial means of beauty, Before winning the cosmic title - at Long Beach, California last month.

Miss Universe - Akiko Kogima of Japan, a Tokyo model now assuessed - by a Tokyo newspaper, which states - that she was embellished by plastic surgery. Her bust measurements amplified - at a hospital in Japan. The Tokyo newspaper declares that Akiko Kogima entered a plastic surgery hospital -- under an assumed name. The operation - consisting of the injection of a liquid plastic. Producing - wondrous curves.

Then, after she won the title of "Miss Universe" - in the United States, a doctor at the hospital - recognized her picture. Revealing - that the beauty contest winner was the patient whose figure was improved by plastic surgery.

"Miss Universe" - a trifle artificial? If it works - why not?