

L.T. - DELCO. TUES. OCT. 9, 1956.

GOOD EVENING EVERYBODY:

Pittsburgh gave the President a rousing reception tonight, even though it normally votes Democratic. Dense crowds lined the streets - as he drove through the downtown section - the "Golden Triangle". While overhead floated a balloon with a sign reading "Adlai Fifty-Six."

In his Pittsburgh address tonight, President Eisenhower accused <sup>Candidate</sup> Stevenson of "political irresponsibility" at its worst. The President, referring to a whole series of Democratic charges on subjects ranging - from big business to the H-bomb. Mr. Eisenhower says of the <sup>Stevenson</sup> ~~Democratic~~ charges <sup>that</sup> they amount to <sup>an accusation</sup> ~~a charge~~ that his administration has betrayed the people. That's where he makes his remark about "political irresponsibility."

Mr. Eisenhower repeats his stand on the draft and the H-bomb tests - saying that we cannot get rid of either right now. The President summing up ~~his argument~~ by saying -
"We cannot pretend that rockets and bombs - make brains and hands obsolete." He thinks both have to be continued <sup>add</sup> ~~for~~ <sup>Fundamental</sup> ~~while yet~~ as a matter of national security.

STEVENSON

Adlai Stevenson campaigned through the states of the Northwest today - Montana, Idaho and Washington - devoting<sup>ed</sup> himself mainly to the big issue out there - power. He charged that we are falling behind in the race for atomic power - because the Eisenhower administration is too fond of letting private industry do the job. The Democratic nominee, saying that the government has not done enough - and as a result, atomic power for peace-time purposes is not as developed here as it is in Britain. Stevenson thinks that the Russians may also be ahead of us.

In emphasizing the use of atomic energy for industry -

he then added
~~Stevenson also took up the reverse of the coin - repeating~~ that we ought to find a way to stop exploding hydrogen bombs.

HELL'S CANYON

A Court of Appeals hands down a ruling - that the construction of dams in the Snake River <sup>at</sup> ~~of~~ Hell's Canyon - is not unconstitutional. This, a setback for the advocates of public power in the Northwest.

AS we know, power is a number one issue in these <sup>the</sup> ~~these~~ Pacific Northwest states, Last year, the government licensed a private company - Idaho Power - to build three dams in the Hell's Canyon area, between Idaho and Oregon. Senator Morse helped lead an attack on that decision - which is now a key issue in his fight for re-election. And a group of public power advocates - the National Hell's Canyon Association - filed suit. Now we have the decision of the Appeals Court - which declares that the Eisenhower administration stayed within the Constitution - in commissioning the private company. But the public power group says it's not finished yet - the case to be taken <sup>on up</sup> ~~to~~ to the Supreme Court, ~~if necessary.~~

PLANE

Comes word of a fantastic new American plane, - the X-Fifteen - to be ready in two years. Altho' most of the details are secret, we are told the X-Fifteen will fly at a speed of more than Four-Thousand miles an hour - and will cruise at an altitude of way up some forty miles. A plane so revolutionary that old-fashioned controls will no longer be of any use. The X-Fifteen, to be guided by small rockets mounted on wing tips - the only way to make it turn or move up and down - at that speed. Sounds wierd.

WORKERS

The Labor Department reports - a record high in the average pay of factory workers. Last month, the workers made two dollars an hour - and eighty-one dollars a week - higher than ever before. The Department adds <sup>that</sup> employment rose to another record - over fifty-two million jobs.

MISSISSIPPI

New England newsmen touring Mississippi - disagree about what they've found about segregation. The visiting editors and publishers, guests of the state, are moving around at will - interviewing Negroes whenever and wherever they wish - without any officials around.

Today, two of them disagreed. Clark Samuel of Foxboro, Massachusetts - says he thinks the furore over segregation - is mostly propaganda. He's impressed with the friendly atmosphere in which Whites and Negroes live. And that the Negroes have some fine schools.

But John Kelly of Bridgeport, Connecticut - says the Negroes because of generations of White supremacy, are unable to judge the issue of segregation properly.

NATURAL GAS

An attorney for ~~the~~ Shell Oil ~~Company~~ testifies - that he received a bonus for his work in behalf of the Natural Gas Bill. Paxton Howard of Midland, Texas - saying he received five thousand dollars from the Company.

He told a Senate Committee on Lobbying - that his superiors sent him to Washington during the Natural Gas debate to do anything he could to help it get through Congress.

Howard says he talked with three Senators, trying to persuade them to vote for the bill - <sup>Senator</sup> Bush of Connecticut, <sup>Sen.</sup> Williams of Delaware, and <sup>Sen.</sup> Hickenlooper of Iowa. As it turned out, Senator Bush voted against the bill - Williams and Hickenlooper for it.

Asked why he didn't register as a lobbyist in Washington - Howard replied that he was not lobbying. At which point, Chairman McClellan of Arkansas <sup>said he was</sup> ~~accused him of~~ "splitting hairs."

BRINKS

Eight defendants in the Brinks hold-up - get life.
This, the end of the line for the robbers - who looted
the Brinks Counting House in Boston, on January Seventeenth, Nineteen Fifty, getting away with more than a million - the biggest cash haul on record. Now they all go to prison - for life.

So far only sixty-eight thousand of all that loot has been recovered. And, far as the police know, only the eight have any idea of where that cool million is hidden. They aren't talking. So who is left, on the outside, to spend it?

REFUGEE

There's a hint of trouble between Britain and America - over the case of <sup>Chwastov the</sup> ~~that~~ turn-about refugee from Russia.

~~Alexei Chwastov.~~ The question is, will the British ~~authorities~~ allow him to <sup>whisk</sup> ~~carry~~ his American daughter <sup>on</sup> ~~back~~ to Russia?

The mother, <sup>who</sup> ~~of the child~~ lives in Detroit, ~~she~~ wants her two year old daughter, Tanya - ~~to live~~ with her. But the father, ~~is~~ now in England, with Tanya, ~~and~~ says he'll continue on to the Soviet Union.

Chwastov came to this country in Nineteen Fifty-One.

He was sponsored by the National Council of Churches. But <sup>when</sup> recently he decided to go back to Russia, ~~he~~ was warned not to take the little girl, - ~~and~~ American Immigration inspectors looked for her aboard the Queen Mary when he left. But somehow he managed to take Tanya with him - and <sup>now</sup> ~~they're~~ both <sup>are</sup> in Britain.

Senator Lehman of New York is demanding that the State Department halt, what he calls, "this kidnapping." The Russian Orthodox Church is joining the appeal - suggesting that Chwastov is the victim of Communist terror - threats to his mother, back in Russia.

But British officials say that Chwastov and his daughter have sound credentials <sup>— and therefore</sup> ~~so~~ there's nothing to prevent them from going on to Russia.

DULLES

Secretary of State Dulles spoke before the Security Council of the United Nations today - pleading with his colleagues to come to a reasonable agreement - that will prevent the Suez Canal from becoming an instrument of any nation's private interest. Mr. Dulles, pointing out that if a decent settlement is not arrived at - the result might be, in his words, "a calamity of immense proportions." <sup>Then he</sup> ~~He~~ added quickly <sup>that he is</sup> ~~he~~ still convinced ~~that~~ the nations involved will find a way out.

OPEN SKIES.

Dispatches from behind the Iron Curtain - indicate President Eisenhower's "Open Skies" plan for the inspection of army posts and war industry - is being ended in a compromise, whereby that the legation of Stalin tested by the Italian airforce. The site of the test - will continue - but at a reduced pace. The Eternal City itself. Parts of it have been camouflaged. And planes of the Italian airforce - will be streaking over Rome for the next four or five days. They'll photograph everything from the Colliseum - to the smallest backyard.

The results, to be known in about a week.

KHRUSHCHEV

Dispatches from behind the Iron Curtain - indicate that the Black Sea meeting between Tito and the Soviet leaders ended in a compromise. <sup>and</sup> ~~we hear~~ that the <sup>belittling</sup> ~~degradation~~ of Stalin will continue - ~~but~~ at a reduced pace. <sup>The belief is</sup> ~~that~~ This means ~~that~~ Tito and Khrushchev did <sup>not</sup> ~~not~~ get what they wanted - ~~an~~ acceleration of the attack on the reputation of the dead tyrant. Old line Stalinists, like Molotov - winning an agreement to slow down.

At the same time, it's clear that there will be no return to the Stalin era. Titoism - still be to accepted by the Kremlin. Tito, emerging as independent as ever.

MARGARET SULLAVAN

Tonight the theatrical world is wondering about Margaret Sullavan - ~~the runaway actress~~ Who according to report has just dropped out of sight. Her husband says she's in a hospital - but he refuses to say where. ~~to identify it.~~ None of her friends will talk about the incident.

Margaret Sullavan was scheduled to play in the CBS T.V. show, Studio One, last night. But she didn't ~~show~~ <sup>turn</sup> up for the rehearsal - and so the show couldn't go on as scheduled. Another program had to be substituted for it.

They say ~~The strange thing is~~ that Margaret Sullavan has a reputation for dependability. ~~She's~~ <sup>she's</sup> never been known to run out on a part before. But, she wasn't there at the studio yesterday - and tonight ~~we don't know where she is.~~ newsmen are handling the story as tho' ~~it's~~ <sup>it's</sup> all a mystery - Where is the lovely Margaret Sullavan?

PETER FREUCHEN

~~Most of you will~~ Remember Peter Freuchen, who made such an interesting, in fact spectacular, series of appearances on, I believe it was the Sixty-Four Thousand Dollar show. ? A colleague of his, Fedor Nickenoff, tells me that Peter, <sup>now</sup> ~~still~~ on a visit to Denmark, was in an auto crash -- the car rolling over three times.

The tall, bearded Arctic explorer with the wooden leg, came out of it with some broken ribs, a mild concussion, and many bruises. But, two hours later, he made one of his usual scintillating speeches, Still the durable Dane.

DUKE

England's playboy Duke reached the age of discretion today - the Duke of Kent, twenty-one. And tonight, he's celebrating in his usual way - with a party featuring royalty - also Rock -'N-Roll music. The Duke of Kent, seventh in line to the throne - seems to be full of high spirits. His escapades making newspaper copy from time to time. Twice he has cracked up in his sports cars. And some of his champagne parties have been so gay - they caused a lot of criticism in the British press. One even the subject of debate in the House of Commons. The politicians, wondering if their playboy Duke - wasn't giving their country some bad publicity.

But one London paper, the "Daily Sketch", defends him - saying he breaks through the barriers of royalty - and meets lot of common people.

Anyway, tonight's party we hear includes Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. But I doubt that the Queen will do any Rock-'N-Roll.

MIRAGE

In the sky above the waters of the polar seas - an American ship, upside down! That's what the crew of our <sup>Arctic</sup> patrol ship, the "Labrador" saw, as they were heading for a rendezvous with the icebreaker "Edisto". The two ships were still many miles apart - when suddenly the look-out of the "Labrador" spotted an exact ~~image~~<sup>re</sup> of the icebreaker - up in the sky - and, upside down! The patrol ship promptly sent a signal to the mirage - and got an answer back - from the ship itself - down below on the sea.

1/2 The experts say, the mirage was caused by a difference of temperature - between layers of air over the sea. Anyway, the crew of the "Labrador" - were ~~pretty surprised~~<sup>startled and puzzled</sup> when they saw ~~the~~ their companion vessel - upside down in the sky.

WORLD SERIES

So it's to be another 7 game series! And what a game that one today turned out to be! Scoreless until the tenth. Bob Turley of the Yanks and Clem Labine of the Dodgers, locked in a pitching duel that was another baseball classic.

Turley pitching great ball. His fast one really hopping - and he struck out eleven, giving up only four hits. One of them that single by Jackie Robinson, in the bottom of the tenth - scoring Jr. Gilliam from second with the winning run. A heart-breaking end - for the Yank ace.

Clem Labine didn't allow runs - although he gave up seven hits. Shutting out the Yanks for ten inning. Thus winning the big one - the one Brooklyn had to take - or the Series would have been all over.

So tonight its Clem Labine who is the hero of Flatbush - as the Dodgers sleep this one off and get ready for tomorrow.

How do you think it will turn out? Henry!

Are you a prophet with or without honor?

EVERYBODY:

A frenzy of rioting today hit the Hong Kong area. The New Territories - which belong to the British, on the mainland, - just across the harbor from Hong Kong Island. Thousands of Chinese on the rampage - their anger turning against foreigners. Attacking Europeans - many of whom were injured. Setting fire to stores - and looting shops.

A Hong Kong report filed at midnight describes the situation in these words: "Very very serious." Seven hundred policemen - trying to restore order on the New Territories. Where scenes are described - as resembling a battlefield.
