

1 Here's a rumor. It's short and 2 it comes in a roundabout way. It
3 states that a serious revolt has broken
4 out in Peru. The uprising is ~~xxxx~~
5 said to have taken place in the town
6 of Calara. The Peruvian government 7 is rushing troops to suppress the 8 outbreak.

9 The International News Service
10 states that the report comes from 11 Colon, Panama, and adds that it is a 12 dispatch from Peru which has been 13 heavily censored.

14 I had a chat with an American this afternoon who is 15 intimately acquainted with Peru. I mean Commander Grow, the 16 former American naval officer who, for eight years, built up 17 and commanded all of Peru's air forces, both civil and military.

18 He explained to me that the city of Calara, where the 19 revolution is reported to have broken out, is <sup>in</sup> the center of 20 Peru's ~~oil~~ oil producing country. It's on the edge of a vast, 21 wind-swept, sandy desert region on the northern coast of Peru, 22 about a hundred miles south of the Ecuadorian <sup>a</sup> frontier.

23 During <sup>recent troubles</sup> the ~~Sanchez Cerro rebellion~~, some months ago, 24 it <sup>has been a</sup> ~~was the~~ center of ~~Communistic threats~~ activities.
25

1 Slide, Fatima, Slide! Yes, and 2 Fatima who, not so long ago would have 3 worn a veil and lived in an old-fashioned 4 Oriental harem, comes sliding into 5 second base, while the soprano voice
6 of the umpire shrieks--Safe!

7 This week's Literary Digest tells 8 us that the girls over in Turkey have 9 taken up American baseball. The Digest
10 article goes on to give a humorous
11 account of how a young woman from a
12 prominent American college is teaching
13 the girls in old Stambul how to pitch,
14 hit, run bases, and catch Texas leaguers.

15 W. O. McGeehan, the well-known 16 sports writer and humorist of the New 17 York Herald-Tribune, witnessed one of 18 those games between the girls in 19 Constantinople, and the Digest
20 reproduces his funny observations.

21 He tells us that the girls played
22 just about as well as the Brooklyn
23 ~~Robins~~ Robins have been doing of late.
24 It gave him a real home-like feeling to 25 see the girls make plenty of errors, and muff flys, and kick ground balls. They also got badly tangled up in running the bases.

But, as the Digest informs us, not a one of those Turkish girls, in running on the base-paths, collided with herself as Babe Herman collides with himself several times a season, much to the sorrow of the Brooklyn fans.

The planes put on a spectacular wing demonstration over Dorchester Bay, a part of Boston Harbor.

According to the International News Service, the Ninth Observation Squadron, consisting of 35 planes, swept westward over New Hampshire, Vermont, and Maine, and gave the inhabitants of those parts a thrill.

It was a great day for New England, and in imagination Boston was saved from the imaginary enemy. Bunker
Hill is not safe tonight.

1 ~~Uncle Sam's vast army~~
2 ~~The big~~ sky armada swooped over
3 Boston today. The schools had a
4 holiday. <sup>a United Press dispatch describes how</sup> the streets were jammed with 5 crowds of spectators.

6 600 <sup>odd</sup> United States Army planes, 7 driven by an aggregate of three million
8 horse power, staged ~~a~~ sham battle 9 and defended Boston against an 10 imaginary enemy.

11 The planes put on a spectacular
12 ~~show~~ demonstration over Dorchester Bay,
13 a part of Boston Harbor.

14 According to the International
15 News Service, the Ninth Observation
16 Squadron, consisting of 38 planes,
17 swept ~~a~~ northward over New Hampshire, 18 Vermont, and Maine, and gave the 19 inhabitants of those parts a thrill.

20 It was a great day for New 21 England, and in imagination Boston was 22 saved from the imaginary enemy. Bunker
23 Hill is still safe tonight.
24
25

1 An immediate trial has been
2 ordered for Harry Stein, who is charged 3 with the killing of Vivian Gordon. The 4 police have a confession in that 5 sensational case which has attracted 6 so much attention. The United Press informs 7 us that ~~They say~~ the chauffeur who drove 8 the death car has come through and told 9 a tale of how the man Stein and another 10 defendant lured the woman into the car
11 then did away with ~~and killed~~ her.

12 Robbery is said to be the motive,
13 although there's a hint that there may 14 be other angles to the case. The New 15 York newspapers point out that Vivian
16 Gordon had been engaged in various shady
17 operations, and that she had intended
18 to make revelations to the authorities.
19 And so the suspicion still persists
20 ~~that~~ this may have had something to do 21 with the crime.

22 The New York Police Commissioner
23 points out how ~~dark~~ there have been hints 24 that the police had ~~something to do~~ a guilty connection with 25 the ~~killing~~ sordid affair. And he declares that the

1 solution of the case now proves that 2 the talk about the police was just so
3 much malicious gossip.

4
5 According to the Associated Press,
6 Ely Culbertson, the well-known bridge
7 expert, declares that the ladies can
8 play a no-trump hand better than men;
9 also a <sup>better</sup> spade, heart, diamond, or club
10 hand. They also bid better. In other
11 words, they're better bridge players.

12 The average man isn't such a good
13 player, because he thinks he's perfect,
14 declares Mr. Culbertson. He thinks he 15 has nothing to learn. The women, on the 16 other hand, are always studying and
17 trying to improve their game.

18 Why do they try so hard? Why are 19 they so enthusiastic about improving
20 their game of bridge? Well, Mr. Culbertson
21 gives a very reasonable answer.

22 He declares that women take to
23 bridge so ardently because the game gives 24 them a chance to settle matters with 25 their husbands. Most husbands think they

1 Well, I always thought so myself--
2 that women are better bridge players
3 than men. Anyway, they're better bridge
4 players than I am.

5 According to the Associated Press,
6 Ely Culbertson, the well-known bridge
7 expert, declares that the ladies can
8 play a no-trump hand better than men;
9 also a <sup>better</sup> spade, heart, diamond, or club
10 hand. They also bid better. In other
11 words, they're better bridge players.

12 The average man isn't such a good
13 player, because he thinks he's perfect,
14 declares Mr. Culbertson. He thinks he
15 has nothing to learn. The women, on the 16 other hand, are always studying and
17 trying to improve their game.

18 Why do they try so hard? Why are
19 they so enthusiastic about improving
20 their game of bridge? Well, Mr. Culbertson
21 gives a very reasonable answer.

22 He declares that women take to
23 bridge so ardently because the game gives
24 them a chance to settle matters with
25 their husbands. Most husbands think they

1 know so much about things in general
2 that their wives are constantly being 3 squelched. <sup>TP</sup>At the card table it's 4 different.)

5       λ There you can prove what you 6 know, and no amount of shouting is 7 going to reverse the score marked down
8 against you for that no-trump hand you 9 messed up.

10       And so at bridge the women folks
11 are able to lord it over the men folks.
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25

1           There seems to be a hitch in the 2 plans for the big fight between Sharkey
3 and Carnera.

4           The courts have issued an 5 injunction forbidding the battle.

6           The reason is that Carnera made
7 a contract with Madison Square Garden
8 and the court holds that if he fought
9 Sharkey he would violate the contract.
10 The New York Evening Post thinks that 11 the next act will be for the rival 12 promoters to get together and settle 13 things between themselves.
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25

1           The latest word from the 2 economy front is $38,000,000 saved by 3 the Post ~~Office~~ Office Department. That 4 huge amount of money has been trimmed
5 from the Post Office budget for the first 6 half of this year.

7           In addition, according to the 8 Associated Press, the Department of the 9 Interior, ~~xxxxxxx~~ is reducing 10 expenditures, and will save between 11 seventeen and nineteen million dollars.

12           President Hoover's economy
13 drive is going on in a big way.
14 Expenses have been cut here and there
15 to a total amount of seventy-five 16 million dollars.

17           Of course, you can't please 18 everybody, and Senator Robinson of 19 Arkansas comes to bat with a few sharp
20 words of criticism for the President's 21 economy policy. Senator Robinson declares 22 that the Post Office deliveries are being 23 cut down and he says that isn't right.
24 He weaves a bit of ingenious logic and 25 points out the ~~xxx~~ theory propounded by

1 the experts that the way to kill the 2 depression is to spend more money. The 3 Senator declares that the President is 4 a believer in this theory of spending 5 more, but at the same time he is 6 having the government spend less.

1           There seems to be no end of trouble 2 in this world. Take the case of 3 Dorothy Dix, the famous expert on 4 sentimental matters, who for years has 5 been giving advice to the lovelorn.

6           The Associated Press informs us
7 that Oglethorpe University has given
8 the great authority on love, courtship
9 and marriage, a degree of Doctor of 10 Letters, <sup>not Doctor of Love,</sup> and Dorothy Dix in a speech 11 of acceptance told of some of the 12 difficulties that beset anyone who is a 13 guide in affairs of the heart.

14           Miss Dix tells<sup>s</sup> how, years ago, 15 she received a letter from a woman who 16 said that she was in love with a man
17 who wouldn't pay any attention to her 18 at all. What could she do? How could 19 she win him? Dorothy Dix replied with 20 some of her exceedingly sound and wise
21 advice to the lovelorn.

22           The other day she got a letter
23 from that same woman saying:

24           "I followed your advice and won 25 the man I wanted. I married him, but

1 now I wish I hadn't. It's all your 2 fault.

3 All of which leads me to 4 congratulate myself on the fact that I
5 have never made a practice of telling 6 anybody how to succeed in love. I
7 wouldn't know how, anyway.

A few bricks are being fired in the general direction of the Governor of Tennessee. A series of charges against Governor Henry H. Horton were presented to the Tennessee Legislature today.

According to the Associated Press, the charges were <sup>prepared</sup> ~~got up~~ by the State Affairs Investigating Committee. The accusation is that Governor Horton is dominated by Colonel Luke Lee, a prominent newspaper publisher, and Rogers Caldwell, a financier. $7,000,000 belonging to the ~~the~~ State was deposited in four banks which failed last fall. These banks are said to be controlled by the publisher and the financier. A majority of the State Affairs Investigating Committee subscribed to the charges, but a minority report was turned in which states that the investigation which the committee conducted was unfair.

Meanwhile there is a move on in ~~xxxxxx~~ <sup>the</sup> Tennessee Legislature to impeach the governor.

A new and glorious organization has come into being. Yes, suh, it's a great and glorious <sup>fraternity.</sup> ~~organization.~~ It's the Kentucky Colonels' ~~fraternity~~ <sup>Association.</sup>

An organization meeting was held today and the Kentucky Colonels Association was formally launched ~~into~~ on what will undoubtedly be a magnificent career. It consists of men who have been made colonels or in fact appointed to any other honorary office by the Governor of Kentucky.

According to the Associated Press one of the questions debated <sup>the question of</sup> was a uniform for the colonels. A few of the members thought that the colonels ought to wear a modern <sup>military</sup> outfit, that is to say, khaki. But the motion was voted <sup>down</sup> ~~upon~~ by a large majority. The colonels decided in favor of their traditional costume, a long tailed coat ~~and~~ a broad brimmed hat, and a goatee.

The membership of the Kentucky Colonel's Association will be numerous because during the last fifteen or twenty years the governors of Kentucky have appointed legions of colonels, majors, captains, and even admirals and commodores. So many of these titles have been bestowed by Kentucky governors that the question has been raised and debated at length:- How can the governor of Kentucky appoint a New York man admiral of a New Hampshire Lake.

Well, that's a puzzle and I guess we had better pass it along to the Tall Story Club for consideration. Meanwhile, I'd better cut it short and get out of here, or the King of Cambodia will appoint me Grand Vizier of a Nicaraguan cocoanut palm, anyway -

SO LONG UNTIL TOMORROW.