

TIBET

L.J. - Olds. Thurs, June 2 - '60,

A new uprising in Tibet. That's the word from Bhutan - on the border of ~~the~~ the conquered Himalayan land. Tibetans - in bitter fighting with the Chinese Reds.

This - in western Tibet, which the communists were supposed - to have subjugated completely. But reports are that the rebellion has become so formidable - the Reds have withdrawn troops from the frontier area, to cope with the mountain insurgents, who have been inflicting heavy casualties on their oppressors.

On the other side of Tibet, the eastern side - rebellion is chronic, so that the report, today, states - that virtually all of the roof-of-the-world may be considered in armed revolt against the Reds, with Nationalist Chinese - joining Tibetan insurgents.

KHRUSHCHEV

Thurs. June 2nd '60.

The White House denies the Khrushchev statement - made yesterday, That, in the explosion at the summit - ~~he~~ he was willing to meet President Eisenhower for personal talks. But, the President - showed no sign of wanting a two-man discussion. The statement from the White House is that, President Eisenhower offered to meet with Khrushchev, but the Soviet Premier - did not respond.

(Just before the collapse in Paris, leaders in the Democratic party over here sent a message to Khrushchev. Which they asked President Eisenhower - to pass along to him. The message - urging the noisy man from Moscow to continue the summit ~~and~~ negotiations; And expressing - bi-partisan unity behind the President.

Today - Khrushchev's reply:- Released - by the Democratic leader in the Senate, Lyndon Johnson.

^{K.}
~~He~~ says - the message was given to him, only after President Eisenhower had "torpedoed" the summit meeting. That - with a lot of talk, blaming the President for it all.

Which Democratic leader Senator Lyndon Johnson calls -

"an arrogant denial of the facts."

The new proposal - along the line of Khrushchev's disarmament ideas before the U N when he was in this country.

But - with variations.

It suggests full disarmament - in three stages.

One - to abolish all means of carrying atomic weapons. Including rockets, bombing planes, etc. Also - abolish all overseas bases.

The second stage calls for the destruction of atomic and hydrogen bombs, together with biological and chemical weapons. With a prohibition - of any further production of these.

The third stage would complete what sounds like a rather dreamy vision. The abolition of all nuclear, general

DISARMAMENT

Moscow, today, put forward - another proposal for global disarmament. Which, it is assumed, is the program - which Khrushchev ~~would~~ have presented at the summit conference. If the summit had not erupted - like a volcano.

The new proposal - along the line of Khrushchev's disarmament address before the U N when he was in this country. But - with variations.

It suggests full disarmament - in three stages:-

One - to abolish all means of carrying atomic weapons. Meaning rockets, bombing planes, etc. Also - abolish all overseas bases.

The second stage calls for the destruction of atomic and hydrogen bombs, together with biological and chemical weapons. With a prohibition - of any further production of these.

The third stage would complete what sounds like a rather dreamy vision. The abolition of all armies, general staffs, military service, and the expenditure of money for military purposes. And the establishment - ~~of~~ of controls with ~~it~~ inspection. You'd think that safeguard - would come first.

The Moscow proposal - given to the Ambassadors of a whole series of countries, ~~Together~~ - with letters from Khrushchev to the Chiefs of State, ~~Including~~ - a letter to President Eisenhower, ~~Believed~~ to be the first personal communication from one to the ~~the other~~ other - since the fantastic doings at the Summit.

The first reaction in Washington - is mixed. Some diplomatic officials are of the opinion - that it is one more Moscow propaganda gesture. Others arguing - that the new proposal should be studied carefully, ~~To see~~ - if it ~~is~~ really means anything.

Testimony today, gave a consecutive account of events - in the U-2 affair. Secretary of Defense ~~Thomas~~ Gates - appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The timing begins with a date -some weeks before the mishap to the U-2. When Secretary Gates was - informed by the Central Intelligence Agency that a program of espionage flights had ~~■~~ been planned. This program - was okayed.

The Secretary says -- there was no mention of the summit conference, which was - on schedule. Nor was the question of cancelling espionage flights considered - during the time leading up to the meeting of the Chiefs of State, ^{ie} until Khrushchev announced - that the U-2 had been shot down.

Secretary Gates believes these flights were ~~ja~~ justified - summit or no summit. He testified that the aerial surveillance produced - a lot of exceedingly valuable military ~~infor~~ information. He was asked - are we missing much, since the spy flights have been called off? Replying - that he thought so. An important source of intelligence - eliminated.

Today the Secretary took full responsibility for the alert - which he ordered in Paris, on the eve of the collapse of the summit conference. No, they didn't think the Soviets would make a surprise attack, but, they knew - that Khrushchev intended to wreck the conference.

The purpose of the precaution was to be sure our defense forces were in readiness, no matter what happened at any time. The alert - ~~xxxxxx~~ supposed to be secret, but it leaked out. Which caused - public excitement in the United States. Secretary Gates explaining - that some commands went a little too far in carrying out instructions.

He said the alert was entirely proper - and, in fact, we're having another one right now. The Secretary of Defense told the Congressional committee - that the precautionary exercises began at eleven P.M. last night. And will go on - for several days.

ADD U-2

Today's hearing completed the inquiry - into the events of the summit conference and the U-2.

CONGO

The way things are ~~gon~~ going in the Belgian Congo is illustrated - by a swindle prevalent in the city of Leopoldville. Where tribesmen from the bush come into town - like yokels of old tradition. Naturally, they^are victims for city slickers ~~←~~ who came out of the bush quite a while ago. The con game - going this way:—

The tribesman sees a white woman on the street, and the swindler says: "Want to ~~nx~~ buy her."

The simple tribesman said: "Why, yes. Sure."

Whereupon, the sale is made. The white woman - to be delivered after the Congo becomes independent. The date, June thirtieth.

Sometimes, the white woman's house - is thrown into the bargain.

That news is accompanied by reports - that throughout the jungle wilds of the Belgian Congo, there's an exodus of white settlers. ~~As~~ rumor - circulates among the tribes. The word - that, when independence comes, they'll take over the houses of the white men. Also - the white women.

Which is the basis of the con game in the city.

Congolese version of - when Ruben comes to town.

KENNEDY

Governor Mennen Williams of Michigan has announced his support - for Senator Kennedy, as a Democratic nominee for the presidency. This could mean a lot in a scramble for Michigan's forty-six convention votes.

BROADWAY

No show business ^{at all} - on Broadway, tonight. Unless there's a last minute agreement - between actors equity and the ~~p~~^rroducers.

Last night, the actors' union closed one ~~Broad~~ Broadway hit. After the producers had announced - that if they did, all the shows would close down. The producers resolved - they'll do just that. ^{No shows on old B'way.} Twenty-two theaters - dark, ^{Dick.}

BOY

Now let's have a report from Marty Carter, three years old - at Fort Worth, Texas. Marty - the central figure in a Texas tale of heroism.

In the front yard ~~am~~ of the Carter home, he was toddling around, while his older brother and sister were playing ball - and the ball went flying toward a tree. Marty - scrambling after it. When his ten year old brother, Dale, took a ~~ink~~ look - and saw what was happening.

In the grass, a snake, a copperhead. The poisonous reptile - ready to strike.

Dale made a dash, and grabbe^d~~d~~ the copperhead - snatching it away. Saving the three year old - from the fangs. Dale himself - bitten on the hand.

They rushed him to a hospital, where he's okay - a Fort Worth boy hero.

But what has Marty to say about it? Well, the three year old has his own version. Saying: "A great big alligator bit my brother's finger."

Marty thinks - in terms of alligators.
