

TIROS

LT-Alde Wed. Nov. 23 - 60, American scientists are ~~at work on~~ ~~beginning to draw an~~ busy on entirely new map - a map of the clouds that surround the earth. The exploration for this is being done by Tiros Two, the artificial ~~an~~ satellite launched into orbit - at Cape Canaveral, today.

This one ^{was} carried aloft by our most successful space rocket - the Thor, which has provided the power for eleven of our fourteen space shots this year. Tiros Two weighs two hundred and eighty pounds, circles the Earth in ninety-eight minutes - and is equipped with specially designed television cameras - for taking pictures by day and infra-red sensors for what they call "feeling" patterns by night.

Tiros Two was sending back photos - today - is right now, and they are being picked up at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey and at Nicholas Island, California, photos to be pieced together into one of the most amazing maps ever drawn. A map of our clouds - from four hundred miles out in space.

IDEOLOGY

There was an ~~Perhaps the most~~ interesting development in Moscow today - ~~was~~ a let-up in the Soviet censorship.
The reason? - ~~obvious~~. Khrushchev wants his latest condemnation of Red China - broadcast around the world.
~~He~~ wants his own ideology - to be pushed against Mao
Tse-Tung's theory, that war is inevitable.

Khrushchev's attitude is stated - in a Pravda editorial. ~~Of course the editorial~~ that doesn't mention - Red China, ~~or~~ or Mao Tse Tung. But it castigates those whom the Kremlin mouthpiece calls - "stupid revisionists, who preach war."

The reference ~~is perfectly~~ seems clear, ~~and that~~ Khrushchev wants everybody to know - he's aiming squarely at his Chinese rival. ~~That's why~~ hence western newsmen in Moscow are allowed to file uncensored dispatches - about the ideological dispute that is ~~shaking~~ shaking the Communist world.

ADD IDEOLOGY

And the Newsmen had a chance to talk to Khrushchev
- when he appeared at a reception at the Finnish Embassy, where he was bombarded with questions about his ideological struggle against Peking. His only reply - "with our friends, we have eternal friendship."
Which sounds like an admission that he's not getting along so well with Comrade Mao.

Today more than a hundred thousand people lined the streets - as the funeral cortege wound through Leopoldville. An American diplomat - was present for the ceremony. Colonel Edwin Dammiller - who was himself roughed up by a Congolese mob only three days ago.
Conspicuously absent at today's funeral - representatives of the U. N. Mobutu had warned them - to stay away, saying he couldn't guarantee their safety.

Tonight, Leopoldville mobs are sleeping U. N. cars -

CONGO

Tonight Leopoldville is ringing with the cry - "down with the United Nations!" ~~Congolese~~ demonstrators are still swarming through the streets - after attending a military funeral for the Congolese soldiers killed on Monday. Casualties of that ~~savage~~ ^{le} ~~gun~~ battle - with Tunisian troops of the U N guard. The Congolese - storming the Ghassa Embassy. The Tunisians - trying to fight them off.

Today more than a hundred thousand people lined the streets - as the funeral cortege wound through Leopoldville. An American diplomat - was present for the ceremony. Colonel Edwin Dannemiller - who was himself roughed up by a ~~Congolese~~ mob only three days ago. Conspicuously absent at today's funeral - representatives of the U N. Mobutu had warned them - to stay away, ~~Saying~~ ~~he~~ couldn't guarantee their safety.

Tonight, Leopoldville mobs are stopping U N cars - confiscating them, after threatening the drivers.

Forty vehicles - have already disappeared. The U N command, gradually being grounded - by the people they are there ~~they're trying~~ to help.

Meanwhile, we have later casualty figures - on the battle of the Ghana Embassy. Killed - four Congolese and one ~~Tu~~ Tunisian. Wounded - eleven Congolese and eleven Tunisians.

LATIN AMERICA

The sixth Latin-American nation to declare martial law ~~is~~ in the past ~~in~~ two months - is Haiti. The reason is the usual one - fear of Communist infiltration from Cuba. Haiti is only fifty miles - from Castro's Red dominated police state. And the order for a general strike in Haiti - is ~~now~~ thought to have come from Havana. The government of Haiti, counterattacking - with a decree of martial law. Taking precautions against ^{either} a coup by ^{local} ~~domestic~~ Reds, ^{from} or an invasion ~~by~~ Cuban ~~Reds~~.

Most of Latin-America seems to agree - that the Castro virus should be prevented from spreading. Newspapers from Mexico to Argentina are saying editorially - that the American patrol of the Caribbean is a necessity. As one Editor in Mexico City puts it - "Castro has nothing to fear if he has no designs on his neighbors."

But quite a few of Castro's neighbors believe ^{he does} ~~that~~ ^{have} designs on them. ~~are exactly what the Cuban dictator has.~~

NEW ORLEANS.

The news out of Baton Rouge is good news - for the teachers of the New Orleans public schools. The Louisiana legislators are going to see that the teachers - get paid. Voting two and a half million - to meet today's payroll. Solving - the financial crisis, ~~at least~~ for the moment.

The rest of the news - not so good. The Baton Route legislators insist on handling the checks - instead of passing the ~~$$$~~ money on to the New Orleans school board. This - a slap at the Board for accepting token integration in the public schools.

~~And~~ The Louisiana lawmakers, ~~are~~ in the middle of a last ditch effort - to enforce segregated classes, ~~They~~ seem to be furious - with just about everybody, ~~With~~ - the school Board, for integrating the first grade, ~~With~~ - Federal Judge Skelly Wright, for ordering the integration, ~~Even~~ with - President Elect Kennedy for refusing to make a statement in their favor.

But Baton Rouge isn't mad at - the mothers and children who arrived today from New Orleans. They came in bus-loads, all dressed in black - mourning, they said, the end of their segregated schools. As they entered the gallery - the legislators leaped to their feet and applauded. Then settled down to the business of debating - ways and means of ~~not~~ making sure ~~that~~ all the public schools of Louisiana remain segregated.

The world's most famous auction house - has just racked up the fifth largest sale in its history. Sotheby's of London - which specializes in old masters. Today, knocking down two hundred paintings - for five hundred thousand pounds. A cool million and a half -- in American dollars.

Most of the sale - brought in dollars rather than pounds. The auction, dominated by Americans - who four times pushed the bidding over a hundred thousand dollars. Competing for a Renoir, a Gauguin, a Cezanne - and a later masterpiece by Henri Rousseau called "the football players." ~~Doesn't sound very classical, but~~ the Guggenheim Foundation ^{paying} ~~couched up~~ a hundred thousand - for "the football players."

CARS

The latest army regulation on cars - is intended to placate friendly nations. Our allies have often been offended - because American service men make a habit of driving flashy models. The kind - that local people often can't afford. The kind that help create abroad the image of - the ugly American. ^{Dicks} Today's army order ^{requests} ~~asks~~ our personnel to drive cars that are, ~~in its words~~ "inconspicuous and unostentatious."

GIRL

In Dayton, Ohio, fourteen year old Karen Kaursh - may not be able to go to school for a few days.

Reason - her hair.

Karen's mother, a professional hair stylist, thought Karen would look alright with pink hair. So that was the color - when the bobby soxer arrived for classes, where she caused a sensation.

The school principal took one look - and told Karen to go home, and not return - until her hair is back to its natural color.

Says Karen's mother - "a delicate light pink? Why in Paris, no one would think anything about it."

But Dayton is not Paris. In Dayton High pink hair - they don't like it.
