

TORNADO

L.T.-Calds. Mon. June 19-61.

Today was just about the worst day Galveston could have chosen - to be hit by a tornado. Torrential rain has been falling for the past twenty-four hours - almost a foot of it. The tornado, roaring into the middle of the deluge - sending a twisting, blinding whirlwind through Galveston. Tearing off roofs, knocking off telephone poles - leaving acres of shattered glass. Also - water knee deep in the streets of the city. Over a hundred families had to be evacuated - until the storm moved on north along the Brazos River. Tonight Galveston is about as water-logged -- as a city can get.

BOMBERS

That bombing case in Utah and Nevada was cracked by "John Brown" letters. The wrecking of the AT & T Towers. The letters lead to the suspicion that the senders were involved in - the sabotage of the relay station and two microwave towers.

The "John Brown" letters, were traced to Los Angeles; to a Bernard Brous, F.B.I. agents discovered that Brous had sailed for Mexico - in his yacht. They telephoned Mexico City - and the yacht was seized by Mexican police. Aboard Brous, his wife, and his right hand man, Dale Jensen, and a small arsenal of weapons.

Tonight, Brous and Jensen are in cells - in San Diego, with the police, trying to get a coherent story - out of them.

TRAIN

Katherine McGinnis of Bayside, Long Island, told newsmen today: - "my coach tipped on its side, and we were thrown in a heap." Katherine, describing what happened when the crack Strasburg-to-Paris streamliner - jumped the tracks. A string of cars - plunging down an embankment.

The American school teacher from Bayside says the crack-up was over - before she realized what was happening. She felt a smashing jolt, then a headlong plunge - and she found herself lying on a window; with other passengers in her coach on top of her - in a tangle of arms and legs.

A French soldier got up and broke a window - and helped the others climb out. For the most part there were only minor injuries, among those near her. But some thirty passengers were killed in the wreck of the Strasburg-to-Paris Express.

BRITTANY

The riots in Brittany remind us that Paris has frequently had trouble - with the Province in ~~the~~ the Northwest of France, on the channel. The people of Brittany clinging to their old Celtic tradition - language, clothing, festivals, architecture. Resisting - the Gallic ways of France. Brittany, ~~is~~ center of - a distinct separative movement. Nationalists claiming that Brittany would be better off - if it had home rule, self government.

Many in
~~I imagine a lot of Brittany farmers~~ are saying this tonight, as they ~~saying it - with feeling. They're still battling~~ the ~~is~~ police - in ~~those~~ massive demonstrations against low prices for their farm produce. Brittany, blaming it all - on Paris.

SPY

The Soviet spy who has been ordered ~~junk~~ out of Greece - may have been working both sides of the Iron Curtain. His operations are said to have been carried out - mainly in Northern Greece. Macedonia and Thrace. Macedonia being the Greek Province - facing Albania. And Albania, as we know, has been defying Moscow - making up to Red China.

So in Athens it is believed - this Russian agent may have been gathering information across the border in Albania. Khrushchev's henchmen, sending reports ~~xxxx~~ on Albania's anti-Khrushchev government - and what Khrushchev can do about it.

That's - conjecture. The plain truth is - that the Russian was spying inside Greece. Mapping the terrain in the north, slipping in and out of command posts - and so on. Caught red-handed - by Greek counter-intelligence agents. Now on his way home, with a Greek tag pinned to him - "persona non grata." ~~To which Albania's Red government may be saying - "amen."~~

JAPAN

The Prime Minister of Japan is one up on - the Premier of the Soviet Union. Khrushchev, as you probably remember - missed Disneyland while he was in Los Angeles. The visit, considered too risky by the L.A.
~~ni~~ police - which annoyed Khrushchev no end. ~~were~~ Today the Japanese Prime Minister saw Disneyland - before taking off for Washington, <sup>for</sup> ~~and~~ talks with President Kennedy.
Ikeda, getting in - where Khrushchev couldn't.

STEVENSON

The memorandum submitted in Quito today carries this key statement - "the funds will be used ~~prudently~~ to advance economic and social development." Meaning - the government of Ecuador, cracking down on the corruption that has plagued it for so long. Asking for American aid - and promising to see that the money is not stolen or squandered. Pledging to put every penny into - raising the standard of living for the people of Ecuador. Housing, land reform, industry, highways - and so on. Quito, declaring that with two hundred million dollars - the Ecuadoreans can begin to "break the shackles of poverty."

Adlai Stevenson accepted the memorandum - with obvious enthusiasm. Telling newsmen - this is exactly the kind of program that America wants to see put into effect in Ecuador, and throughout Latin-America. Adlai is pleased for another reason - his warm reception in Quito. That's why he's extending his stay in ~~the~~ Ecuador's capital - for another twenty-four hours. The U.S. ~~of~~ U N Ambassador wants to meet as many of the people as he can - before taking off on the next leg of his Latin-American tour.

KENNEDY

President Kennedy will be off his crutches - some time this week, ~~as predicted by~~ <sup>according</sup> - White House physician Janet Travell. Dr. Travell, declaring - she's ~~is~~ satisfied with her patient's progress. Allowing him to return to his desk - for a full schedule of work. Although - Mr. Kennedy is still cancelling some ceremonial appearances.

STRIKE

~~There is~~ So little hope for a quick settlement of the maritime strike - that the Secretary of Labor remained in Washington today. Secretary Goldberg, seeing no point in going to New York - where the deadlock continues. Labor and management, unable to agree on terms to end the walkout - that is beginning to cost some three million dollars a day.

A dispatch from Seoul indicates - how the Orient is changing. Becoming westernized - Americanized.

Remember the ~~was~~ quaint picture of - the typical lady of the Far East? The demure retiring figure - in sandals, kimona, and comb? Smiling shyly - behind her fan.

~~was~~, The Seoul government gives us - a rather different picture. ~~Subject~~ - Co-eds. And ~~that~~ that's a switch, - because in the old days Korea didn't have any co-eds.

~~Anyway~~ The junta has ~~just~~ laid down a new law - aimed specifically at college girls. They're told to kick off their high heeled shoes - and get back to sandals. Or at least ~~something with respectable~~ flat heels. Nail polish - ~~out.~~ ~~verboten~~ The junta line on hair-dos? ~~is - that~~ <sup>No more</sup> boyish bobs. ~~are out.~~ Make-up? ~~was~~ Even the generals of Korea didn't have the nerve - to forbid it, altogether. They simply say - no more "indecent" makeup. No more orange rouge - or white lipstick.

Another change in the once change-less Orient,

Dick. A barbecue pit - a hundred-and-sixty-five feet long, and ten feet deep? Yes, it's in Texas. The "Chuck wagon gang" of Odessa, Texas - built themselves a barbecue pit that big. Portable too - on wheels. They log it all over the southeast - for special occasions, like the one tonight - the convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Every time they serve a meal - they set a new record. They've already cooked the largest number of barbecue meals. Some ten million items so far - chops, chickens, corn, fish. Tonight, serving - about fifty thousand more. This king-sized barbecue.

BARBECUE

You amateur chefs, how would you like to work with a barbecue pit - a hundred-and-sixty-five feet long, and ten feet deep? Yes, its in Texas. The "Chuck wagon gang" of Odessa, Texas - built themselves a barbecue pit that big. Portable too - on wheels. They lug it all over the southwest - for special occasions, like the one tonight - the convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Every time they serve a meal - they set a new record. They've already cooked the largest number of barbecue meals. Some ten million items so far - chops, chickens, corn, fish. Tonight, serving - about fifty thousand more. This king-sized barbecue.
