Volunteers Support Vikings

By Fred Kolthay

"If it weren't for the work of the managers, the football club wouldn't exist," says Valerie "Pinky" Bellerosa, president of the football club here at Marist.

According to Valerie, Football Manager Chris Sernan and her assistants: Betty Brix, Kathy Calahan, Regina Clarkin, Mary Ellen Pitcairn, Lisa Palermo, Julie Schott, and Karen Thomas, do quite a lot of work that goes unrecognized. Valerie thinks that this is especially important since all of the girls are volunteers.

The managers attend all football meetings, all practices, where they spend about an hour setting up the equipment and then putting it away again, and they provide water and oranges for the players at all Viking games.

Besides the managers and the club president, John Secone works behind the football scene as director of the football club. This is Mr. Secone's twelfth year with the Marist Vikings. He is in charge of financing the team, which includes renting Leonidoff Field, transportation to away games, and health insurance.

Mr. Secone sells ads for the football programs and tickets at the game during home games to raise funds for the team.

U.Y.A. In Second Year

By Rich Sellers

Forty-four students are currently earning thirty credits for "a slice of life" this year by combining traditional academics and community work in the Marist University Year for Action Program.

U.Y.A. began at Marist in June 1974 with thirty students under the direction of Program Director Dr. Malvin Michelson. "The idea," says Dr. Michelson, "is to build a solid academic program on real life problems." Last year, the staff included co-director Dr. Ron Pasquariello, Mr. G. Kelley, Mr. G. Breen, Dr. Kilgariff, Field Supervisor Sharon Fino, and Administrative assistant Margaret Mutchnik. This year, staffing has changed to include Dr. Margaret Olson and Dr. Milton Teischman; Drs. Pasquariello and Messrs. Kilgariff, Kelly, and Breen are no longer with the program.

The program is divided into two areas: education and criminal justice students meet once every week for a seminar session to hash out problems arising in their community work, listen to guest lecturers, and discuss supplementary readings. Dr. Olson is in charge of the criminal justice component and Dr. Teischman heads up the education group. In addition to their fieldwork and seminars, all students are required to keep a journal of their experiences.

The life of a U.Y.A. student is not an easy one. All students in the program are required to live off-campus in the community. They are paid a basic living allowance of $38.50 per week and many are eligible for food stamps. Most students share apartments with others in the program. "It's a good group living experience," says director Michelson. "They build up a real sense of community."

The combination of community work and seminars is only half of the academic package, however. Everyone in the program is required to carry an additional 2 courses or 6 credits. Some students attend regularly scheduled classes, while others opt for contracted independent study with individual professors. It is an intense experience.

"U.Y.A. isn't for everybody," points out Dr. Michelson. "We're looking for students with several qualities and capabilities. Motivation is the most important factor. The student must be interested in community work. Previous community involvement is a good indication that someone will make the necessary commitment to U.Y.A. You have to be resourceful; you have to read, think, interview people. The faculty are facilitators. They help the students solve real problems. I think you learn by doing. If you have to deal with a kid who's in jail, that's a real problem."

The problems encountered come through the students' involvement with several community agencies: Project Gateway, Big Brothers, the Youth Services Unit, Adult and Youth Probation, Police Community Relations, Legal Services, the Public Defender's Office, Family Development and Daycare, Marist Pre-School Center, and the Tenant's Education Project.

Is there a "typical" U.Y.A. student? They range in age from 17 to 52. Half are female and 1-3 are from minority groups. Several are on the Dean's List.

The agency behind the program is Action, which trains and funds the student-volunteers. This year's budget is $123,000 - up $33,000 from last year. And this week, the Marist U.Y.A. Program is receiving special recognition from Action as the subject for an extensive article in their magazine Synergist. Marist was chosen over six other U.Y.A. colleges for this article.

Interested? "The seminars are held every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and 3:30 in the Poughkeepsie College Center at 12 Vassar St.," explained Dr. Michelson. "Anyone who'd like to come and sit in on one is perfectly welcome. And I'm always available if anyone would like further information."

Weekend Set For Parents

By Karen Duverney Jackman

The popularity of Parent's Weekend at Marist has prompted the scheduling of two weekends for this year. The date of this semester's program will be, October 17, 18 and 19. Invitations are being sent to parents in the near future, and it is necessary to make reservations early, since the response to the weekend is needed to insure enough places for participants.

Activities for the Parent's Weekend will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday-the 17, when The Marist Theater Council will present two one-act plays, Emperor Jones and Chamber Music, in the Theater. Admission is 2.50 at the door; students' tickets are free of charge.

On the same evening at 9:30 p.m., the Theater Council will stage a Musical Review in the New Dining Room.

Starting the events on Saturday, October 18, President Linus Foy and Academic Dean Louis Zuccarello, will address parents at breakfast in the College Dining Hall. This will take place at 10:00 a.m. There is a limit due to seating space of 350 people for the breakfast.

Following the President's Breakfast, at 11:30 a.m. the Academic departments will host a series of presentations, on the theme "Value of Education at Marist", in the Gallery Lounge, Campus Center.

At 2:00 p.m. the Marist Vikings will meet Concordia at Leonidoff Field. Tickets for this game may be secured at the reduced price of $1.75 per person. For tickets that are not prepaid, the price per person will be $2.50 at the gate.

There will be a Mass in the College Chapel at 6:15 p.m. Saturday night. Ending the Saturday night events, an open cocktail hour will be followed by a sumptuous steamship round buffet in the College Dining Hall. Dancing and a cash bar will follow the dinner and will continue until 1:00 a.m. The price per person for the dinner - dance is $10.50 and the limit is 425 people.

On Sunday October 19 at 11:00 a.m. there will be a mass in the College Chapel. At 1:15 p.m., various residence halls will sponsor informal open houses. For further information, please contact Dolly Russell, Coordinator of College Activities, at 471-3240, or Campus Ext. 279.

Campus Flooded By Rains

By Larry Striegel

Last week's five day storm which left six inches of rain on the East Coast caused unusual flooding on the Marist Campus. The flooded areas were the mall in front of Champagnat Hall adjacent to the gym, the parking lot next to Donnelly Hall, and St. Peter's field in front of the chapel. The water reached levels of six inches in some places, covering the lawns, walkways and causing inconvenience to students, staff members and visitors. However, no buildings were affected.

The flooding was caused by the inefficient drainage system now used on campus. The present system consists of a pump which carries both rainwater and sewage to the public sewage plant.

According to Mr. Andrew Pavelko, the Physical Plant Director, a new system is now under construction which will alleviate such flooding problems. The new pipelines will run from St. Peter's field, around Fontaine Hall, and down to the gatehouse. When it is completed, sewage and rainwater will be separated; the sewage being pumped to a sewage plant and the rainwater being drained into the river. "This is the major project of the college right now," Mr. Pavelko explained, "after this there will be a vast improvement in drainage of rainwater." The new system will help alleviate any more of last week's type of flooding and thus will help improve the Marist Campus.

Marist Hosts Concert

Classical guitarist Jose Franco will present a bicentennial program at Marist College entitled "Concert of the Discovery" on Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center theater.

A native of Spain, Franco has studied with Andres Segovia and has been performing and teaching in the United States at the request of the Department of State to promote the classical guitar in America.

The program is open to the public by reservation, and is under the sponsorship of Marist's Modern Languages Department, the Spanish Club and the College Union Board's Fine Arts Committee.

"Concert of the Discovery" is a presentation of slides, narration (in English) and classical guitar music to commemorate the

"Are They Students?"

In two separate instances this week, students with a problem ("Help" pg. 3) sought help from the maintenance dept of this college, and received anything but cooperation from that office.

It is appalling that any staff administrative office or officer on this campus would do anything less than their best to assist any member of this community or for that matter even a visitor here to our school. When someone needs assistance, why should the question ever arise "are they students?" What difference does that make. We are all people, students as well as non-students.

The staff as well as the students represent this school to the community in which they live... they are Marist College.

We are all here to help one another, we are a community. If we cannot at least cooperate with each other, the Circle feels that the community atmosphere which we all have worked so hard to develop is being systematically destroyed by a handful of staff administrators who are exploiting the positions they hold, as well as abusing the authority those positions entitle them to.

The Circle hopes that these were isolated incidents and not representative of the daily practices of some members of the Marist College staff.

Parents Weekend

Plans are now in the very final stages for this semester's Parent's Weekend, scheduled for the weekend of October 17, 18, 19. Notices have been sent to parents listing the weekend's events. Due to the increase popularity of these weekends a second program is also being planned for the Spring 1976 Semester.

These weekends designed for parents and visitors give our guests the opportunity to gain a better perspective on the lifestyle, value and norm of Marist College. Perhaps though, what is even more important is the fact that it gives our guests and administrators the opportunity to openly dialogue about the college's policies and attitudes. It is hoped by the editor that our administrators welcome the weekend to better avail themselves to parents and students in frank and open discussion.

These weekends also aid Marist College in promoting an image to our weekend guests; hopefully the image will be a positive one, one that will aid in attracting and keeping new students. It is in this aspect of the weekend that all students should concern themselves with most. As students whether or not we are participants in the weekend activities we should make ourselves aware of the fact that we do have visitors and that maybe we should relax our life style and our lungs for the duration. More importantly is the fact that all students should make themselves available to answer our visitors queries.

In short, the editors are advocating full and active participation on the part of all students during this important weekend both in participatory and non-participatory roles.

Just a reminder that this is a very popular weekend on our campus and that in some cases there are limited amounts of space available, both for the president's breakfast and dinner dance require reservations, as do most of the major hotels in the area and we urge students to make them early.

Letters To The Editors

Help?

To the Circle:

This letter is meant to voice a complaint, in hope that some basic human values of common courtesy will be reconsidered.

Last Friday, in the heavy rainstorms, we were met with car trouble and had difficulty in obtaining help. As a last resort, we went to the maintenance office. May we here emphasize that any of the maintenance people we have encountered here at Marist have never been anything but helpful and kind. But once again, the conceit of a limited hierarchy emerged, and the "person on top" had a chance to exploit power and, inevitably, culminate rudeness and egocentric attitudes. Mr. Pavelko's first question, directed to his secretary after our request was, "Are they students?" We imagine it is quite difficult to step down from the throne of maintenance head and address us directly. And, of course, being mere students, it seems we do not apply for any act of courtesy. All we needed was the use of a pair of jumper cables, and, as he sat, he told us how he just did not have the time. "You don't pay us for the maintenance of your cars," Mr. Pavelko reminded us. Mr. Pavelko, we do not know how much of our $3600 goes to you, but we do know that much of what you are getting paid for is not done or not done well; we do not blame the workers or crew who can only do what is humanly possible, but people like you who propagate the mismanagement of such affairs.

Fortunately, we managed to obtain help from some students: yes, Mr. Pavelko, mere students. Since our first day at Marist, we have been impressed with the caliber of the student body, and their genuine interest and concern for each other. Our only criticisms, unfortunately, have been in the area of administration. We are tired of paying more and more money and getting lesser quality service, but we are even more fed up with students being treated as some isolated species, not worthy of courtesy or individual acknowledgement.

Marist College prides itself on its "community atmosphere," people sharing a living-learning experience, presumably setting an example in the utopian academic atmosphere for the rest of society. It is unfortunate that all the administrators at this college do not have some sort of idealistic sense of community living, because if such an atmosphere cannot be maintained on the college campus, where else can our society begin to mend its flaws?

Volunteer Please!

To the Marist Community:

A student service offered to members of a college community can only be as good as those who utilize the office and make demands of it.

At the same time, meeting these demands requires a certain number of willing hands and manpower hours. The Office of Career Development is in need of volunteers to become involved with the many programs we hope to initiate this year.

May I take this opportunity to invite each of you to visit my office in Champagnat 110, find out just what it has to offer and hopefully ask you to donate a bit of your time and talent.

Remember that the Office of Career Development is open to everyone; residents and commuters, freshmen through seniors, regardless of major.

Available Voting

To voting students at Marist:

This letter is written to invite anybody who might be interested in attending meetings to help pass the Equal Rights Amendment, to come to the Poughkeepsie College Center on Vassar Street in Poughkeepsie, any Tuesday night at 8 p.m. between now and Election Day (November 4th). If you need a ride, I would be glad to provide it. You can reach me at Sheahan 207, 454-9513, (except Mondays, Fridays, Saturdays, I have a job those days.) Or, feel free to call Suzanne Hyer at Vassar College, 452-7000, ext. 3023, room 350b.

There has been some confusion as to what exactly is before New York State voters on Election Day. It is not the federal ERA amendment, that became effective in the state in 1972. What is before the voters in 1975 is a separate state ERA amendment, just in case the federal one doesn't get all 38 states. That seems to be a good idea, because as a federal amendment, ERA is in trouble, it has already run out of 4 of 7 years time limit its given to be ratified. Besides that, a pro vote in states as Nebraska, Iowa and neighboring Pennsylvania, have actually been reversed by their legislatures. Federally, 34 of 38 states have passed ERA.

To get back to the 1975 separate New York State ERA amendment, it has been passed by 2 successive legislatures, and now goes before the voters. Where, it seems, a lot of misinformation has been spread, and this is where maybe you can help to spread the facts.

If you're a woman, you probably have, in one way or another, felt discrimination because of your sex. Why not try to combat it in a concrete way?

If you're a man, you might, as I do, just have a basic feeling that any society which artificially limits the potential of any of its members is unhealthy, then you might see a need to at least come to one of the meetings and see what it's all about.

In any event, no matter how you feel about this issue, if you're a voter, in New York State or otherwise, please remember to vote, in person, or by absentee.

Respectfully yours,
Bob Gallenz

Socialist Newspaper

Editor, The Circle:

Every time a reporter or others go around with the Declaration of Independence there is not only opposition to it but to those who circulate it.

Recently in Roswell, New Mexico, a reporter typed the Declaration as a "petition." She asked 100 persons, out of which 36 signed. It was recognized by only FOUR people.

The reporter was called a Communist and was told by two men "that documents such as this called for tearing down our form of government and would start riots and result in protest meetings. One of them threatened to call the police."

There is something terribly wrong with an educational system that breeds so much conformity to the status quo and produces people who can't abide the noble Declaration of Independence.

This is to remind Marist students that the official paper of the Socialist Labor Party, the WEEKLY PEOPLE, is available in the library.

Vikings Lose

By Thomas McTernan

Brooklyn beat Marist at its own game in the second half last Friday night to post a 29-7 victory over the Vikings. Using an effective triple - threat running attack, the Kingsmen outrushed Marist 283 - 114, as they pulled away from a slim 8-7 halftime lead.

This was the first game on Brooklyn's new $1 million AstroTurf field. It was also a night the Vikings would love to forget but probably won't.

Fumbles again hampered the Vikings, now 1-1 on the season. They committed 7 more fumbles to bring their two - game total to 13. Coach Ron Levine moaned, "Maybe the artificial surface had something to do with it, as our backs weren't used to the bounce out there." But he added, "I don't know. Normally those things don't happen."

Brooklyn scored first when Marist punter Mike Laffin, waiting in the end zone, dropped the snap for a safety. Tackle Al Baamonde had recovered a Brooklyn fumble after the Kingsmen drove deep into Viking territory on their first possession.

Leading 2-0, Brooklyn returned the ensuing kickoff to its 34.

Laffin then intercepted quarterback Ray Shalhab's pass and ran it to the home 28. That threat was ended five plays later when Nick Mancuso fumbled and Brooklyn took over on their own 18. The Kingsmen used six running plays and advanced to the 32 as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the second quarter, linebacker Ron Clarke intercepted a sideline pass at the 36 and went all the way for the TD. Tim Trotta converted the extra point and Marist was ahead 7-2.

The lead was short - lived however. On the next series, Brooklyn drove 62 yards in 11 plays with running back Everett Branch carrying the last six. The extra point was wide but Brooklyn retained an 8-7 halftime lead when the Vikings lost two more fumbles in the closing minutes of the half.

The turning point came at the start of the third period. Following the kickoff, Marist ran the ball from their 34 to the home 22, where they were faced with a fourth - and - two situation. They elected to try for the first down but Mike Altomare, who led the Vikings with 72 yards rushing, was stopped for no gain. The Kingsmen came back on a 71 - yard drive with Branch scoring from 15 yards out.

Brooklyn scored twice more in the final quarter. Ed Conroy capped an 84 - yard series with a two - yard burst and Jerry Butler dashed 43 yards for the final TD. Brooklyn outgained Marist 113-31 in that final period.

Levine blamed the loss on a "combination of things."

Citing the long bus ride resulting in a 2 hour delay, he commented, "It was a disaster and had to have some effect on us. However, I don't know if we could have beaten them on a sunny day. Brooklyn is a very, very fine team and were much bigger than us. We were soundly beaten. We lost both defensive tackles (Jerry Dimenna and Baamonde) and two offensive players (Bill Brisson and Mancuso)."

He continued, "We're young and it'll take a while to reach our potential. Having a few 240 - pound tackles wouldn't hurt, either," he added, smiling.

The team travels to Loundonville Saturday to face Siena at 2 p.m. Although the Indians are not considered a strong team, Levine was not optimistic. "If we don't play better football, it doesn't matter who we play."

Foxes Blast C

By Thomas McTernan

After being postponed twice against New Paltz, the Marist soccer team finally opened its season with a 10-3 drubbing of Sacred Heart at Leonidoff Field Saturday.

Zanone Naita led the offense with four goals. His brother, Ferrino, also scored, as did John McGraw (twice), Dan Wakely, Roger Courtois and Gino DiMartino.

Despite a slack first half partly caused by poor field conditions, the Red Foxes completely controlled the game, outshooting the Pioneers 37-5. They held a 3-1 halftime lead with Jay Metzger in goal.

Marist broke the game wide open early in the second half. "They really put it together and connected on some beautiful passes," noted coach "Doc" Goldman. Biff Daino was the Marist goalie during the second half.

Following their CACC opener at Kings yesterday, the booters will visit Fairfield Saturday before facing N.Y. Maritime Tuesday, Oct. 7, on Leonidoff Field at 3:30 p.m.

DAVIS NAMED ASSISTANT HOOP COACH

Frank Davis, former coach at New Paltz H.S., has been named to replace Bob Hildreth as assistant basketball coach. Hildreth will coach the junior varsity squad this winter.

Davis, a three-lettermen at Bluefield College (West Virginia) who received his masters from East Tennessee State, said, "This is a definite step up because of the winning tradition and program. I always look forward to moving up," so this position will be doubly challenging."

Red Fox head coach Ron Petro noted, "We are glad to have someone with such a wide background in basketball assisting us this year. Frank should provide much input and new ideas for our program as well as aiding us in local player recruitment."

A resident of New Paltz, Davis compiled a 122-92 record in 13 years at New Paltz H.S., where he currently teaches Social Studies.

LUKE NAMED ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Tom Luke, a freshman from Warners, N.Y., has been named Marist College Athlete of the Week for the week ending September 27.

Luke, the second-ranked runner on the cross-country team, was the top Marist runner in Saturday's meet at Southern Connecticut State, where he set a new school record for the course. Last Wednesday, he missed the school frosh record for the Marist course by just five seconds despite the downpour during the home meet with Monmouth and Trenton State.

NOTES FROM THE SPORTS DESK:

Other Met-8 football games as the league completed its first full weekend of action: Manhattan lost its eleventh straight as Jim Harding rushed for 144 yards in Iona's 30-2 triumph ... Farleigh Dickinson upset Pace 13-12 ... Charlie Vito (166 yards) and Sal Ali (151) scored two touchdowns apiece as St. John's sank Concordia 30-6 ...

Reminder: Meeting today in CC Room 248 at 4 p.m. for all those interested in trying out for men's varsity and J.V. basketball teams ...

Intramural coed volleyball results (best-of-three) "EM's" over House I, "Walter's Volley" beat "Rudolph's Reindeer," "Hemerhoids" defeated 9th floor and "3rd time Around" won by forfeit over "FM's Hole."

X-Country Streaks

The Running Red Foxes had one of their best weeks ever in defeating three top teams and putting their 1975 winning streak at eight as they defeated five opponents in the two meets. First on Wednesday in a heavy, steady downpour on the home course, they beat two of the three teams that had defeated them last year. The Marist harriers, behind Fred Kolthay's third consecutive race win, topped Monmouth College 16-47 and Trenton State 26-29. These two teams had easily beaten Marist a year ago and Coach Rich Stevens said that the wins showed the improvement the team has made since last year.

The Long Red Line came through on Wednesday as freshmen Tom Luke and Bob Coufal and junior Brian Costine placed 4th, 5th, and 6th respectively to help sew up the wins. Jeff Blanchard, Steve VanKeuren, and George McCutcheon finished Marist's scoring and displacement with 11th, 12th, and 13th places. Even though the course was in flooded condition in the grass areas and the rain poured steadily downward, Kolthay was within seven seconds of his school-record time of 24:42 and Luke missed the frosh mark of 25:09 by only five seconds.

Saturday, The Big Red Running Machine traveled to New Haven Connecticut to take on always-tough So. Conn. State on their home course along with the University of Hartford and Fairfield University. At the three mile mark, things looked great for the Red Foxes as Kolthay and Luke had 1-2 over So. Conn.'s top two runners followed by two more Marist harriers, Coufal and Costine. But Kolthay, trying to win his fourth race in a row, had suffered a bad cramp at the three mile mark and placed twelfth in the meet and was Marist's sixth man. About half of Marist's field in the meet suffered either sickness, cramps, or extreme tiredness during the race. Coach Stevens attributed the problems to the team's race Wednesday in the rain and the colds which resulted from this. Despite these problems, Marist was still able to beat So. Conn. State 28-30 due to its tremendous depth. "We feel this was a big win because it proved that we have enough personnel to help out when someone has a bad day as will happen occasionally," resounded Coach Stevens. Tom Luke prevented the 1-2-3 automatic win situation with his fourth place finish while Bob Coufal placed right behind him. Brian Costine was 7th, Jeff Blanchard 9th, Ric Bond 11th, Fred Kolthay 12th, and George McCutcheon 14th for Marist's scoring and displacement. The Long Red Line topped Fairfield 22-39 and the University of Hartford 16-47.

The Red Foxes were slated to have their JVs meet St. Francis of New York City on the home Marist course yesterday and the varsity top eleven will travel Friday for an overnight stay in North Dartmouth, Massachusetts for the fourth annual Southeastern Massachusetts University Invitational on Saturday. Marist placed third last year and is hoping for a top three finish this year, despite the tougher field expected.
