

U N

L.T. - Delco

Mon. Sept. 21 - '59

At the U N, today, Soviet Russia called on the General Assembly - to stage a full debate on the subject of disarmament. That Khrushchev proposal - for a worldwide abolition of all/military forces.

Word is that the Khrushchev suggestion of ~~xxx~~ total global disarmament is making quite an impression - especially in Asia. The British, too, are interested. A summons to Utopia - always a beguiling thing to hear.

TIBET

Ireland - pleading the cause of Tibet before the United Nations. Irish Foreign Minister Frank Aiken, a member of the General Assembly - taking up the cause of the Dalai Lama. Whose appeal to the world organization - is beset by technicalities, Concerning the question - of whether or not China, historically has legal sovereignty over Tibet.

The Irish Foreign Minister - avoiding that question. Making his appeal - on the basis of the U N charter of human rights. ^{thus} ~~Indicating that~~ the Chinese Reds- for trying to destroy the Buddhist religion in Tibet.

Nikita had a big day - in San Francisco. You'd think he'd be worn out - by excessive rounds of activity in California. But, the chunky Ukrainian - seems tireless.

47
Maybe he was a bit weary, when he arrived in the city of the Golden Gate, - but he was perked up by a huge applauding crowd, waiting to greet him at his hotel. The acclaim in San Francisco - seeming to give him a new head of steam.

Today - a voyage around San Francisco Bay in a Coast Guard Cutter. Mr. K - discussing nautical matters with the Coast guard skipper, To whom he said - the Soviet Navy was concentrating on submarines.

A visit to the longshoremen's union - where he was welcomed by a throng of dock workers headed by union chief Harry Bridges. Nikita making a speech - at the headquarters of the union. Whose leader, Harry Bridges - has been accused of being pro-Communist.

Also - an automobile drive to San Jose - for a visit at the electronics plant of International Business Machines, as guest of Tom Watson.

The crowd at San Jose, silent. But, a few people carried signs - hailing Khrushchev, one - enough to give you a shock, reading - "welcome, prince of peace."

Well, Nikita does talk a lot about peace. But history has bestowed that venerable title on a very different Prince of Peace, who lived - two thousand years ago.

Tonight, Khrushchev makes another big speech at a banquet. Well, if he isn't worn out - the security people are. Nikita - violating routines they had set up for him. Going on his own - mingling with crowds. ~~Like~~ Like a politician - out electioneering.

KHRUSHCHEV-LABOR

The national convention of the A F L - C I O - took a swing at Khrushchev ~~in~~ today. Meeting in San Francisco, the nationwide labor organization adopted a unanimous resolution, Declaring that Khrushchev - is following tougher policies than Stalin ever did.

Speaking of recent Kremlin demands in the matter of Berlin and German reunification, the A F L - C I O declares: "Khrushchev has been more truculent and demanding in his aggression - than Stalin."

This resolution, today, follows the tough time the boss Communist had with American labor leaders last night, ~~A~~ group - headed by Walter Reuther, Vice President of the A F L - C I O.

The union chiefs told the Soviet Premier that the American workers reject Communism, and are dedicated - to the cause of freedom.

The argument waxed hot and heavy. ~~K~~ Khrushchev getting angry. Calling the union leaders - stooges of capitalism.

9
The White House, today, made another appeal - asking Americans to treat Soviet Premier Khrushchev with courtesy. Pointing out - that heckling and a hostile attitude will not help in the discussions between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower. The talks - to be held ~~the~~ this weekend at Camp David, Maryland. The President hopes - they'll achieve some~~xx~~ thing constructive.

All of which follows that Khrushchev threat - that he'd go home. Nikita disgruntled - by remarks made at a reception in Los Angeles. Mayor Poulson - referring to ~~the~~ Khrushchev statement in which he ^{had} said - "we will bury you."

Khrushchev had already explained ^{he only} ~~that he~~ meant that in a figurative way - that ~~Communism~~ Communism would submerge capitalism. And he became truculent - when the matter was brought up again ~~xx~~ by the Mayor of Los Angeles.

However, the White House apprehension of discourtesy has been allayed, ^{perhaps,} ~~no doubt~~ - by the cordial ~~xx~~ reception Mr. K has been ~~xx~~ getting in San Francisco.

MOSCOW

In Moscow, glowing reports - today - telling of the Khrushchev reception in California. Accompanied - by a continuing wave of enthusiasm for things American. The Moscow Radio and television - running programs presenting aspects of American culture. A dramatization - of the Mark Twain masterpiece, "Tom Sawyer". A reading - from Ernest Hemingway's prize winning novel, "The Old Man and the Sea. Concerts - of American music.

All - plugging the theme of Soviet American friendship.

SUSPECT

San Francisco may be giving Khrushchev - a cordial welcome, ~~But~~ there's one man out there who wishes - Nikita had stayed in Moscow. A Frenchman, a Corsican - who has been working in the kitchen of the Mark Hopkins Hotel, ~~The~~ lofty caravansary - where the Soviet Premier is now stopping.

As you might expect, there were plenty of security precautions at the Mark Hopkins ~~in~~ in preparation for Nikita's visit. The F B I, for example, made a check of all the Hotel employees. Investigating their backgrounds - and taking their fingerprints. Which thereupon disclosed a surprising thing ~~about~~ about Antoine Sinibaldi, the Frenchman who works in the kitchen.

His fingerprints revealed - that he's wanted by the French police on a double murder charge, ~~connected~~ - with a two-hundred-and-fifty-thousand ~~ni~~ dollar bank robbery. He's called - French public enemy number one!

In Nineteen Forty six, a gang of bandits, in a hold-up in France - made off with a quarter of a million dollars worth of securities, Belonging - to the Bank of Indo china. Sinibaldi - one of the bandits, who, later - committed two murders. He denies these charges.

The alleged French public enemy number one was doing nicely in the kitchen of the Mark Hopkins - until Khrushchev came along.

FALCON

In the middle of Manhattan - a ~~dx~~ drama of the wild.
Among the lofty towers of New York - the bird of prey - swooping down in lightning attack. That's the picture painted in a new fascinating book, called - "natural history of New York." By our old friend - John Kieran. Who was ~~was~~ once — Information Please whiz — a sports writer [^] - and always a student of nature.

Telling of the birds of New York, John Kieran writes:
"One of the ~~ix~~ fiercest and fastest of North American hawks - may be seen plunging through the canyons of mid-town Manhattan.
Or - perched ~~mod~~dily on a skyscraper ledge in the Wall Street district. This[^], he goes on "is the heavy shouldered sickle winged peregrine falcon - of medieval song and story. The favorite falcon of royalty - in the age of chivalry."

He tells of a pair of these falcons - building a nest on the top of the St. Regis hotel. The birds - making fierce attacks on the tenants of a penthouse nearby; ~~Until~~ captured - and taken away.

What do the falcons of New York live on? The answer is easy, Don. The pigeons - that fly around the metropolis.

he was taking a close-up of Don. The Don was looking out with his trunk, smiling at the camera.

In response to the question, "What do you eat?" Don gave the indignant gentleman a very thoughtful answer. Saying - "I don't eat anything like an elephant at all."

Explaining - that the pachyderm would eat anything. So the elephant wouldn't be a very good companion.

But they didn't like the camera. So he took his camera back.

ELEPHANT

Over in Denmark, at the Copenhagen zoo - a man walked into the office with a complaint. He said - an elephant had swallowed his camera. A fine, expensive camera - with which he was taking a close-up of jumbo. But the elephant reached out with his trunk, snatched the camera - and ate it.

In response to the complaint, officials at the zoo gave the indignant gentleman - a most optimistic reassuring answer. Saying - "don't worry, no harm will come to the elephant at all."

Explaining - that the powerful juices in the stomach of the pachyderm would surely dissolve the camera completely. So the elephant wouldn't feel - even a touch of indigestion.

But they didn't tell the man - how he could get his camera back.