

In East Africa, Kenya, a wholesale round-up of the leaders of the terrorist outfit called - the Mau Mau. Eighty-nine arrested by the time today's dispatch was filed. About fifty more to be picked up - as fast as the police can find them. The round-up of the Mau Mau chiefs - backed by an imposing display of military force. The Lancashire Fusiliers, who were flown from the Suez Canal Zone, joining the King's own African Rifles - deploying in full battle kit in the city of Nairobi.

Chief among the terrorist leaders arrested is Jomo Kenyata; called - the "Burning Spear." Regarded as the brains of the Mau Mau, the "hidden ones" who are sworn to a campaign of murder and violence, sworn to drive the White man out of Africa. A tribal society with voodoo, savage ritual, sacrifices and ceremonies of murder.

But don't think that Jomo Kenyata, chief of the Mau Mau, is a primitive tribesman of the jungle. The "Burning Spear", in fact, is a graduate of the London School of Economics. And here is a surprise - his wife - an English woman. Toward the end of World War Two, Jomo Kenyata, having completed his British education, returned to Kenya, and became the head of a society called the African Union. On the surface a constitutional affair. The Mau Mau grew out of that -- a terrorist offshoot. All, a weird mixture of independence agitation, Western style - plus the weird African tradition of witchcraft - voodoo.

The fear is that the movement may spread among the tribes throughout Africa - and, in London today, Colonial Secretary, Sir Oliver Lyttleton, announced he personally is going to Africa next week, to supervise the suppression of the Mau Mau terrorism.

EGYPT

In Egypt, signs of a compromise - in the Egyptian demand for possession of the Sudan. Today, Strong Man Mohammed Naguib declared that he is determined to rid the Sudan of - "foreign influence." Meaning, of course, the British. But, speaking of the great land south of Egypt, he added: "Whether we unite, or remain separate - our interests are closely linked." The words "remain separate" would seem to indicate that Naguib might accept an independent Sudan. Which - would seem to be not far from the British view. London having guaranteed self determination for the Sudanese.

KOREA

The fighting in Korea has been slowed down to a stop - by the weather - blinding rain and fog. The Reds tried an attack and failed. Then the South Koreans tried and bogged down.

Off the coast, near the Red port of Wonsan, a U.U.S. destroyer was hit by Communist artillery fire - seven killed.

EISENHOWER

General Ike had a climax today - at Boston, an uproarious reception by more than one hundred and fifty thousand people. Some seventy-five thousand lined the streets, as the Eisenhower motorcade proceeded to historic Boston Common. Where - seventy-five thousand were jammed to hear his address.

But Ike didn't give the address - not the one he had prepared. He threw the script away, and sailed into the Truman administration. He said it was known "for a scandal a day," now going in "for a slander a day." He accused the Truman administration of trying to defame him.

On the platform, was Mrs. Emily Smith Warner, daughter of the late Al Smith. Speaking in behalf of Ike, she said she was acting in accordance with the ideals of her father, Al Smith.

ADD EISENHOWER

At Cambridge, General Ike was mobbed.

Twenty thousand people swarmed ^{over} ~~on~~ his motorcade in Harvard Square, pitching confetti, and trying to climb onto his car. Many of them ~~were~~ were Harvard students, and it was something of a college lark - there were shouts for Stevenson as well as for Ike.

TRUMAN ATTACK

Republican leaders are demanding - an apology to Ike. They say the Truman denial was not enough - H.S.T. explaining that he never meant to say that the General was either anti-Semitic or anti-Catholic. But the G.O.P. leadership insists it was a deliberate "smear," and - call on the President to make "a personal apology."

TRUMAN

Another Truman whistle-stop tour began today, number three - Jersey City, Newark, Philadelphia. The attacks on General Eisenhower continued, but were rather milder today. Ike accused of what the President called - "the fanciest brand of double-talk I have ever heard."

ADD TRUMAN ATTACK

Later news - ~~eight~~ eight republican senators have called on Stevenson to disavow President Truman's attack on General Ike. ~~In a telegram, they summoned~~ ~~Adlai to~~ disassociate himself from what they call "President Truman's action in raising the religious and racial issue in this election."

STEVENSON

Governor Stevenson started a whistle-stop tour today - his first - and his aids demonstrated their inexperience with a campaign train. Hitherto Adlai has traveled by air, and the attempt to fix up a train resulted in wild confusion, newsmen and cameramen not knowing where to go. Many - complaining bitterly about the quarters they found in the train. The departure from Springfield, Illinois - one grand mix-up.

SENATOR MORSE

It is disclosed - that President Truman offered the post of Attorney General to Republican Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon - who is now supporting Stevenson; the offer was made last December, three months before the President fired Attorney General Howard McGrath. Senator Morse declined.

SPARKMAN

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate is out of the campaign - for the time being. Senator sparkman laid low by - laryngitis. In a hospital. It's an old story in a campaign when the pace is hot - the voice runs out - laryngitis.

RECORDINGS

These are days when the news wire swamps us with politics - the election campaign. So it may be a relief to get away from it, as far as possible - for a minute or two. And what could be farther - than the Fiji Islands? It happens that Lowell, Jr., sent me something recordings of those islands of South Sea legend. I asked him, when he left for the South Seas and Australia to take equipment like he and I took to Tibet - record some of his experiments and have them flown back. So as a bit of relief from the political campaign every other day or so, we will hear a voice coming to us from the South Seas.

Tonight, here is Lowell, Jr., in a plane, as you will soon be able to tell from the sound of the motors of the big Pan American stratocruiser - that and a voice - from mid-Pacific.

FOLLOW RECORDING

Maybe some of our tired political campaigners would like to take you up on that and meet you in the Fijis. At anyrate in a day or two we will hear from Lowell Jr. again - from an island in the South Seas.

PAN AMERICAN

Here's something appropriate to follow that:-

The age of jet airliners draws nearer - with an order placed by Pan American World Airways. Announced this afternoon, Pan Am buying three deHaviland Comets - five-hundred-mile an hour jet propelled passenger planes. To be delivered in Nineteen Fifty-Six. So, for us jet airline operations will begin four years from now. Pan American also ordering seven other Comets - for delivery a year later. Someday maybe even to Fiji by golly - I mean by jet!

COAL STRIKE

Here we come down to Earth again!

The soft coal strike^{let} will continue, apparently - after what John L. Lewis had to say today. ^{He} declared that ~~He~~ the miners will not return to work - until they get the full wage hike of a dollar and ninety cents a day, as agreed upon. ^P This - in a letter to the Northern coal operators. In which - Lewis hurled his thunders at the Wage Stabilization Board and Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam. They cut the wage increase to a dollar and a half a day - contending that the dollar and ninety figure would only boost inflation. ^P So Lewis described them in these words: "Four agents of the National Association of Manufacturers, aided by a professor from the Harvard Law School, and his timid trio of dilettante associates." ^P The Harvard Law School professor is the Wage Board Chairman, Archibald Cox - and that master of invective, John L. Lewis, ^{hurled} ~~hurled~~ at him the following gem: "Mr. Putnam is an honorable man, and comes from a good New England family. His only sadistic trait," roars the Mine Union boss, "is his penchant for robbing miners' babies of life-giving milk.")

Which should impress the Professor - not to mention the babies.

The Professor tells of a further case of a security arrangement, called - The Dog's Dog. This is a case - and you know the ultra-ultra Paris one is

Before an exclusive gathering, some models passed in the latest creations. One, in a roll-collar jacket with - in a coat of brightly colored plaid. A gentleman stood - in evening clothes. Not, however, including tail.
The man - having one of his own. The dress well associated with the roll white collar, with a white tie. Recommended especially for the wicker outfit and the fox barrier.

Another present - plaid or check with yellow and contrast stripes. He goes to talk about - the cat's pajamas

All this may seem unimportant, but they are a full of a particular kind of which makes one in the world, especially in the more interesting arrangements for when the world is not of importance.

THE ELEGANT DOG

News from Paris, the world of style. But this has nothing to do with the well dressed woman, or even the well dressed man. The dispatch tells of a fashion show at a swanky Parisian establishment, called - The Elegant Dog. Quite a name - but you know how ultra-ultra Paris can be.

Before an exclusive gathering, canine models posed in the latest creations. One, in a roll-collar knitted Jersey. Another - in a coat of brightly colored plaid. A gentleman pooch - in evening clothes. Not, however, including tails. The mutt - having one of his own. The dress suit consisted only of the stiff white collar, with a white tie. Recommended, especially for the cocker spaniel and the fox terrier.

Another garment - flannel pajamas with yellow and chestnut stripes. We used to talk about - the cat's pajamas,

In Paris it's ~~the cat's~~ ^{~~Rover & Fidos~~} ^{~~the dog's~~} ^{~~pajamas~~} ^{the Dogs Pajamas.} ^{Nelson,}

All this may sound nonsensical. But they had a full dress fashion show in the smart, expensive section, ^{on a Parisian boulevard,} where the famous dressmaking establishments for women are located. All most aristocratic. ~~the House of The Elegant Dog.~~
