

Tues. Oct. 13 - 64.

As Queen Elizabeth flies home to Britain - attempts to estimate the effects of this royal visit are being made on both sides of the Atlantic. One question - dominating all others. Whither - Canada?

The problem hasn't been so acute since the founding of the Canadian Confederation - a century ago. The Confederation was thought to have settled the basic antagonism - between British Canada and French Canada. But that antagonism, ~~has~~ ~~been~~ latent ever since, ~~and~~ is now out in the open (with the demands of the Quebec separatists, ~~The~~ ones who gave the Queen so cold a reception - in the historic city on the Saint Lawrence).

The head of the Commonwealth mentioned the possibility - of updating the old documents of union. But how to do this without splitting the nation irreparably - that's the fundamental issue.

Tonight, they are saying in Ottawa - that Canada is rapidly approaching one of the crossroads of her history.

The Ecumenical Council in Rome has heard the English language - for the first time.

The assembled ecclesiastics of the Catholic Church - are accustomed to the sonorous syllables of Latin. Medieval Latin - also called Church Latin - ^{has been} ~~is~~ the one medium of discourse. ~~they are all familiar with~~ An ecclesiastical lingua franca - understood from Ireland to Australia. From Finland - to Singapore.

But laymen are not quite so adept - at Latin. And they use - their native vernacular. Which until today was restricted to - French and Italian. Now - English as well.

Speaker - Patrick Kegan, a layman from London, ~~he~~ spoke on a topic to which the assembled prelates - have given much attention. The place of the laity - in the life of the Church. Something new in the debates in Saint Peter's Basilica - in Rome. An Oxford accent.

HURRICANE

The weather story tonight features "Isabel l" and "Dot" - on opposite sides of our planet. "Isabell" - the latest hurricane of the season. Boiling up -off Cuba. Then storming thru the Caribbean - with winds of seventy-five miles an hour, plus torrential rain. The southern coast of Cuba - ravaged from one end to the other. Trees ripped up - by the roots, telephone poles knocked over, hundreds of roofs - blown away; thousands of windows - shattered.

Cuba - getting the full force of "Isabell." With Florida due to get a taste of the same. If - the Hurricane continues on course.

TYPHOON FOLLOW HURRICANE

*After the hurricane - the typhoon. Name - "Dot." Worse - than "Isabell." Smashing into Hong Kong from the China Sea - at a hundred and twenty miles and hour. Fifteen inches - of rain. Result - floods and landslides. Also, four big ships - snapped their anchor chains, and were carried - out to sea. Even the U.S. Navy - defers to "Dot."
The aircraft carrier "Constellation" with its escort flotilla - delaying arrival. Preferring to wait until this typhoon - has left Hong Kong.*

SPACE

So, it's back to earth - for the three shoeless space travelers:- Komarov - the Cosmonaut, Yegorov - the doctor, And Feoktsov - the scientist. Why shoeless - Moscow doesn't say. But the trio were without spacesuits - because they didn't need them. Their space capsule - gave them all the protection required. Since they were still inside when it landed - they didn't even have ejection equipment. They just floated to earth in Soviet Central Asia - and calmly emerged.

As usual, the Russians are being - secretive. Not divulging any information - that might help the American space program. But the bare statistics on the flying trio - are impressive enough. They flew in their capsule - the "Sunrise" - around the earth sixteen times. Covering - four hundred and thirty-seven thousand miles. Duration of this space flight - twenty-four hours, and seventeen minutes.

GOLDWATER

The Republican candidate for President thinks his campaign is getting an assist - from the Kremlin. Barry Goldwater, referring to - the Soviet space spectacular, says the feat corroborates - what he has been saying all along, that the real area of competition - is "near space," the space through which orbital flights - are made. Not the space that leads - to the moon and the planets.

Goldwater, demanding again - that we reassess our space program. Think more about - orbiting stations. Less about - rockets to the moon. This - for reasons of national security.

HUMPHREY

The Democratic candidate for Vice President is concentrating - not on the Soviets in space - but on the Soviets in the Red bloc. ~~Her~~bert Humphrey, referring to - the growing hostility between Russia and Red China, And arguing that this is no time - to overestimate the enemy. Not when the next great world crisis - may erupt in Central Asia. Khrushchev and Mao, in a showdown - across the border between them.

Says ~~Her~~bert Humphrey - "The Communist world system is coming apart at the seams."

JOHNSON

President Johnson took it easy today -- returning at five A.M. from a campaign swing -- of ten thousand miles -- to fourteen states. With a hoarse voice -- after dozens of speeches. Also -- bruised fingers -- from shaking thousands of hands.

Today, an interlude - then out again tomorrow -- to New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and on to Ohio-- after that to his home state -- to Texas.

OLYMPICS

In Tokyo - this was the day of the swimmer, or swimmers.

First, a salute to the lady - from Down Under. Dawn Fraser of Australia - the "incomparable Dawn" as the dispatch puts it - again captured the hundred meter free style. Again - setting a new record. Fifty-nine point five - seconds. Dawn Fraser had to be fast - with Sharon Stouder pressing her. The fifteen-year-old from Glendora, California - was only four-tenths of a second behind.

As for the men, the accolade goes to Ted Graef - of Verona, New Jersey. The Princeton undergraduate won a gold medal - for the two hundred meter backstroke. His time - a record. Two minutes - ten and three-tenths seconds. Splashing after the summer in an American sweep - Gary Dilley of Huntington, Indiana. And Bob Bennett - of Long Beach, California.

As night fell on Tokyo, - Dick - the United States was leading in the Olympics - with ten medals.

DEFECTOR

The only trouble with that Russian defector in Tokyo - is his name. How are you going - to pronounce it? Stanislaw
Borisavich
S-c-h-c-h-e-y-a-r^l-k-i-n.

His story - is easier, ~~than his name~~. He signed aboard a Soviet ship - carrying tourists to the Olympic Games.
When the ship docked, he told the rest of the crew - ~~that~~ he was going ashore for a drink. Instead, he went to the American Embassy - and got directions to the West German Embassy, where he asked for asylum.

The explanation - of this defector from the Soviet Union. "I have been waiting for many years - to spend my life in a free country." So says - Stanislaw Borisavitch
S-c-h-c-h-e-y-a-r^l-k-i-n.
